LAND DEPARTMENT.

A report of the transactions of the Land Department, so far as they relate to matters of record, is herewith submitted.

The parties claiming title to lands in the bed of Beaver Lake, in Newton County, have all accepted the terms of the act of March 9, 1889, and taken up all the lots, the title to which has heretofore been in dispute.

There was considerable land offered for sale under the act of 1883, which could not be sold for the reason that the appraisement was too high.

This land has mostly been reappraised under the act of 1889, and sold.

There still remain in this office a large number of patents, conveying Wabash and Erie Canal lands. The law directs that these be recorded in the county where the land is situate, and until this is done there will be a defect in the title to these lands. Patents, some issued by the State as early as 1832, and others by the trustees of the canal as late as 1876, are here for lands in Allen, Benton, Carroll, Cass, Clay, Crawford, Daviess, Dubois, Fulton, Gibson, Greene, Huntington, Jasper, Knox, Kosciusko, Lake, Lawrence, Marshall, Martin, Miami, Monroe, Newton, Noble, Orange, Owen, Parke, Perry, Pike, Posey, Pulaski, Putnam, Spencer, Sullivan, Vanderburgh, Vermillion, Wabash, Warrick, White and Whitley Counties. It is hoped that the owners of canal lands in the counties named, who have not yet obtained their patents, and had them recorded, will do so at once, in order that their title may be made perfect.

A list of swamp and university lands remaining unpatented is herewith given. While the records of this office show the sale of a few of these tracts, I am satisfied that had the department the means of prosecuting an inquiry into the condition of title to these lands, most of it will be found to still belong to the State, although it was not so reported under the act of 1883. In many cases where the State has sold the land I think it will be found that the purchasers have failed to complete their payments, and the title has thus reverted to the State.

LIST OF LANDS REPORTED AS BELONGING TO THE STATE, UNDER ACT OF 1883, AND STILL REMAINING UNSOLD.

LANDS HELD BY THE STATE BY DEEDS.

Marion County.

The east half of the strip of land lying south of the cross-cut of the Central Canal, in the city of Indianapolis, more particularly described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the junction of Market and West Streets, and running thence west on the line of Market Street to the western boundary of the land known on the plat of the city of Indianapolis as "the reservation;" thence north to the southern base of the embankment of said canal; thence east along said canal embankment to West Street; thence south to Market Street, the place of beginning. The title to this tract of land was held to be in the State in the suit of the State of Indiana vs. The Water Works Company of Indianapolis, by a decree of the Hendricks Circuit Court, rendered at the January Term, 1879.

This tract is held by the Indianapolis Benevolent Society under a lease executed by M. D. Manson, Auditor of State, April 1, 1880. The existing laws do not authorize its sale.

*Conveyed to the State by Daniel A. Farley to indemnify the State against losses to the Swamp Land Fund and the University Land Fund, which losses, to the amount of two thousand dollars, had occurred through defalcations made by said Farley while Treasurer of Pulaski County.

These tracts were appraised at $8 per acre.

All the above described tracts were appraised and offered for sale under the authority of an act approved March 11, 1875, but found no purchasers.

In addition to the foregoing, the State holds title to the following described premises, which have not been appraised or offered for sale:

Lots 242 and 243, in E. J. Peck's subdivision of the south part of out lot 134, in the city of Indianapolis. Conveyed to the State by E. J. Peck and wife, in consideration of $40, and with this provision: "Said lots to be used as a place of burial for the dead, and for no other use whatever, and if otherwise used, then to be forfeited to the original proprietors, their heirs or assigns."

SWAMP LANDS SOLD, BUT UNPATENTED.

The following is a list of Swamp Lands remaining unpatented. Many of these tracts have doubtless been sold for some time, but the purchasers have thus far neglected to have patents issued. The present owners of these tracts should forward to this office, without further delay, the certificates of final payment, and have the proper patents issued therefor :

STATE BANKS.

STATE BANKS.

Hon. Bruce Carr, Auditor of State:

I herewith present to you my report of the examination of the State Banks, together with a tabular statement showing their condition. The showing, as will be seen from the accompanying statements, is most satisfactory. This is my third report, and each year that I have examined these institutions they have shown an improvement, and the success of the system has been more marked. In October, 1887, there were thirty-two banks organized under the State law and they had a capital of $1,742,500. This report shows an increase of thirteen banks and an increase in capital of $432,300. Three new banks are now being organized and will soon be in operation. They will be located at Peru, Batesville and Oakland City.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES R. HENRY,
State Bank Examiner.

REPORT

INSANE.

To ALVIN P. HOVEY, Governor:

SIR—The Board of Trustees for the Central Indiana Hospital for the Insane respectfully submit the following report for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1889:

Estimated value of real estate	$1,450,000 00
Estimated value of personal property	178,147 35
Total.....	$1,620,147 35
Appropriation for maintenance	$260,000 00
Expended for maintenance	259,999 61
Balance in Treasury	$0 39
Appropriation for repairs	12,000 00
Expended	12,000 00
Appropriation for clothing	$12,000 00
Expended	11,676 97
Balance in Treasury	$323 03

The following table shows the amount expended from the several funds for each month of the fiscal year:

	MAINTENANCE.	REPAIRS.	CLOTHING.
November	$21,666 66	$1,250 00	$871 49
December.....	21,666 66	1,250 00	1,128 51
January	21,666 66	1,250 00	1,000 00
February	35,451 70	2,180 17	833 00
March.....	19,833 93	944 91	955 65
April.....	20,519 56	563 35	1,496 75
May	22,834 59	990 48	794 45
June.....	20,458 98	756 99	964 95
July	20,482 56	814 21	705 75
August	19,481 34	665 81	823 45
September	18,018 89	607 11	355 14
October.....	17,918 08	726 97	1,747 83
Total.....	$259,999 61	$12,000 00	$11,676 97

The term of office of the present Board of Trustees commenced March 5, 1889; but, in consequence of the litigation that grew out of the question as to the right of the General Assembly to elect them as Trustees, they did not come into control of the Hospital until the latter part of April, and the first contracts for supplies for the Hospital made by this Board were for the month of May. The foregoing table shows that there was expended for

	MAINTENANCE.	REPAIRS.	CLOTHING.
From Nov. 1 to Apr. 30..	$140,805 17	$7,438 43	$6,285 40
From May 1 to Oct. 31..	119,194 44	4,561 57	5,391 57

As at the commencement of the fiscal year there were unpaid claims due from the maintenance fund to the amount of $9,327.56, in order to show the actual expense for maintenance for the first six months of the year, the last named sum should be deducted from $140,805.17, leaving $131,477.61 as the cost of maintenance during that period. At the close of the fiscal year there were unpaid claims chargeable to the maintenance fund in the sum of $96.15, which, added to the $119,194.44 expended during the last six months of the fiscal year, makes the actual cost of maintenance for that period $119,290.59. The actual cost of maintenance for the fiscal year is thus shown to have been $250,768.20.

The daily average number of patients in the Hospital during the year was 1,527. The per capita expense for maintenance for the fiscal year was $164.20, and for the last half of the year the per capita cost for maintenance was at the rate of $156.22 per annum.

The sales of discarded property amounted to $1,014.94.

The following shows the per capita expense for the last eleven years:

In 1879 per capita expense of maintenance was	$191 31
In 1880 per capita expense of maintenance was	184 64
In 1881 per capita expense of maintenance was	184 97
In 1882 per capita expense of maintenance was	194 00
In 1883 per capita expense of maintenance was	194 00
In 1884 per capita expense of maintenance was	177 02
In 1885 per capita expense of maintenance was	173 43
In 1886 per capita expense of maintenance was	160 02
In 1887 per capita expense of maintenance was	169 68
In 1888 per capita expense of maintenance was	170 00
In 1889 per capita expense of maintenance was	164 20

Although the figures show an economical administration of the affairs of the Hospital, we are satisfied this has not been secured at the expense of proper care of the patients.

The appropriations made for the Hospital for the year ending October 31, 1890, will, in our judgment, be sufficient to meet the demands.

The General Assembly at its last session provided for the collection of expense of their support from patients who have an estate competent for that purpose, and makes it the duty of the Trustees to ascertain whether patients have such an estate. It is not made the duty of county officers or other persons to give the Trustees any information or assistance upon the subject, nor are any other means provided for securing the necessary information. Efforts have been made to ascertain the fact from a large number of county officers, but so far without very flattering success. In several cases, however, we have information that patients have sufficient estates to support them, and the proper steps will be taken to enforce the law to such an extent as may be possible.

In July overtures were made by the Trustees of the Northern Hospital looking to the exchange of two hundred and five patients, confined at Logansport and not belonging to that district, for an equal number of patients in this Hospital belonging to the twenty-two counties comprising the Northern District for the Insane.

In the judgment of the management of this Hospital it was not considered best to make such exchange at the time for several reasons :

First. The offer was made during the confusion incident upon a change of management.

Second. Because there was apparently no immediate necessity for such transfer.

Third. Because many of the inmates of the Northern Hospital are chronic, incurably insane patients, who, according to the law under which we are operating, have been discharged from this Hospital, and, in the crowded condition of our wards, are not entitled to readmission, but would have to be sent back to the counties from which they came.

Fourth. Because the Eastern and Southern Hospitals have not yet been completed, and the patients rightfully belonging to them would be re transferred as soon as these Hospitals are in operation, thus necessitating increased and useless labor and trouble to us and unnecessary expense to the State.

Dr. Charles E. Wright, of Indianapolis, was chosen by the Trustees as Superintendent of the Hospital, and entered upon the discharge of his duties June 6 of the present year. His report to the Board of Trustees is filed herewith.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH L. CARSON, President.

THOMAS MARKEY, Secretary.

ZACH. H. HAUSER, Treasurer.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees of the Central Indiana Hospital for the Insane :

GENTLEMEN—In submitting for your consideration the Forty-first Annual Report, I would respectfully remind you that my connection with the Institution has existed only since the sixth day of last June, and that the responsibility for results attained rests upon the former and the present management.

The tables required by law will be found in their appropriate places, and in this report there has been no manipulation of figures in order to make a favorable showing, statistical or otherwise.

SUMMARY.

At the beginning of the present fiscal year there were present 871 women and 655 men, making a total of 1,526 patients; 237 women and 337 men were admitted during the year, total number 574; 192 women and 266 men were discharged, total number 458.

There were 85 deaths, of which there were 43 women and 42 men.

Total number present and admitted during the year, 2,100. The percentage of deaths to total number treated (including those admitted during the year) was only 4.04, which, considering the fact that this is a hospital intended for the treatment of mental and bodily ailments, is exceedingly small.

The general health of inmates and employes has been satisfactory, and of the large number of the latter but one died during the year just ended.

The percentage of recoveries is based upon the whole number treated and not upon the number admitted during the year (164 of whom were recommitted):

SUBSISTENCE STORES.

The system of management of the store room, together with the receiving and issuing of supplies, has been rigidly revised and is now based upon business principles.

All articles are thoroughly inspected upon being received, and entries are made in the store ledger, vouchers being based upon the actual receipts. A strict compliance with the terms of the contracts is exacted of those furnishing supplies and all articles for the Hospital use.

Issues of articles from the store room are made only upon requisitions from the heads of departments, approved by the Superintendent.

While considering the special needs of the insane and their wasteful habits, the issues of supplies and subsistence stores have been based, as far as possible, upon the United States Army ration, a more liberal allowance and needed luxuries for the sick, however, being granted.

Bearing in mind the probable per capita cost of maintenance as limited by the appropriation, particular attention has been given to purchasing and supplying only good, clean and wholesome articles of food, varied according to season and necessity.

The best to be had for the money has been the rule in the expenditures for everything intended for use in and for the Hospital, while the rigid system of inspection of all foods, both before and after preparation for the table, seems to have prevented the placing of any but the best before the inmates.

CLOTHING.

The clothing supplied by the State and by the counties has been of good quality and suited to the needs and conditions of the patients.

REPAIRS.

It is unfortunate that this year's appropriation for repairs was reduced from fifteen thousand to twelve thousand dollars, as even the former sum would not be adequate to cover all the necessary expense for repairing roofs, laundries, kitchens, etc., now needed more than at any time in the history of the Hospital.

The plumbing, especially in the department for men, is exceedingly defective, and, if not rectified, must sooner or later be productive of increased sickness.

Notwithstanding the depleted condition of the repair fund, many improvements have been made, among which may be mentioned increased storage room for perishable articles. The engine room of the department for women, which was partially destroyed by fire several years ago, has been converted into a proper storehouse for flour and vegetables. A new and substantial floor has been laid in the laundry of the department for women, roof repaired and the general plan of arrangement remodeled. But it must be evident to every one that a new laundry building, large enough for both departments, must be one of the necessities of the Hospital in the near future. The green-house has been repaired and is being repainted, and will probably be serviceable for one or two years longer.

Wire screens have been placed in the doors of rooms in the department for men, occupied by homicidal and suicidal patients, in order to permit of closer supervision of such inmates by the night watch.

The roads and walks in the grounds have received such grading, leveling and graveling as seemed necessary; but much may yet be done to beautify and ornament the park and lawns.

The needed repairs in the boiler room, the kitchen, the bakery, laundries, roofs, water closets, etc., will probably more than exhaust this year's appropriation for the purpose.

FIRE DRILL.

Especial attention has been given to perfecting the fire drill, in order to insure the safety of all occupants of the buildings. All of the employes, without exception, are required to take part in the drill and to assist in securing the safety of patients in case of fire.

I would respectfully recommend the purchase of additional hose and short scaling ladders, and the putting in of additional fire plugs in order to still further insure protection against fire and its results. The stand-pipes and fire-escapes now on the buildings are practically useless and should be remodeled to make them at all serviceable.

UNIFORM.

A neat and inexpensive uniform of dark, navy blue has been adopted by the officers and employes, and, it is believed, has contributed to the maintenance of discipline and to the efficiency of the service, as well as to prevent abuse of power.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

Due regard has been paid to religious matters, at the same time eliminating denominational and controversial peculiarities and subjects. A number of patients evidently derive consolation and satisfaction from the Sabbath-school teachings and singing, with orchestral accompaniment as conducted by the employes, and from the religious instruction by the Chaplain.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Entertainments of a light and pleasing character have been furnished at frequent intervals, and are most thoroughly enjoyed. A stage and platform erected in the grove early in the summer were used during the warm months for theatricals, concerts, and dances, given in the afternoons and evenings, and these were so entirely successful that I would earnestly recommend the erection of a permanent pavilion capable of seating two thousand people, in which religious exercises, concerts, plays and dances may be held, thus accommodating all of the patients and employes.

A building combining the purposes of an amusement hall and laundry with wash-house and ironing rooms below, the upper portion being devoted to games, billiards, bowling, gymnastic exercises, etc., would contribute much to entertainment and enjoyment. Base ball, foot ball, quoits, etc., have been employed to advantage as a means of diversion.

EMPLOYMENT.

Recognizing the importance of furnishing employment for the insane, the patients have been encouraged, but not compelled, to work—the males in the garden, farm, stables, kitchens, dining-rooms, store-room, bakery, butcher shop, plumbers', upholsterers', carpenters', plasterers' and florist departments, on the lawns, roads and walks; while the females are engaged in wards, kitchens, laundries, dining-rooms, sewing-rooms, knitting, making lace, etc. Such harmless industries as broom and brush making, weaving, rug making and the like, are among the needs of the Institution.

If there were more land at the command of the Hospital authorities (for agricultural purposes) the health of the patients would be better served and the Institution could be made at least partially self-sustaining.

Although Henry County was omitted in the districting of the State for the Additional Hospitals, we have been caring for the patients from that county.

THE STREET CAR TRACKS

Were taken from the grounds in August, and their removal, together with the exclusion of the crowds of curious and sometimes ill-behaved visitors, who formerly thronged the park on Sundays have contributed much to the production of quietude and to the rest and comfort of patients and employes.

DRUGS AND STIMULANTS.

It would seem scarcely necessary to state the fact that we have made just and temperate use of such articles of the materia medica, etc., as were considered best and necessary for the comfort and welfare of the inmates. Excess and parsimony have alike been avoided in all things, as well as in the professional work. Everything for use—nothing to abuse—has been the motto; granting all that is required, withholding all that is unnecessary.

NEEDS.

Among the necessities of the Hospital, one of the most pressing character is a strong enclosure around the grounds in order to exclude improper characters from the premises, and to allow the patients more freedom, with a lessened chance for escape. In the present condition of the grounds, it is utterly impossible to prevent occasional escapes, if any liberty is granted. And, while the management is anxious and uses the utmost precaution to prevent elopements, yet it should not be held responsible for that which it is powerless to prevent.

That portion of Vermont street which is adjoining the grounds should be condemned and closed, as it affords a chance for idle and vicious people to gratify morbid curiosity; and, despite our requests and protests, to taunt the violent patients into frenzy, if the proper liberty of the wards is accorded them.

The customary appropriation of $260,000 will probably be sufficient for maintenance during the coming fiscal year.

I would respectfully recommend an increased and classified scale of wages for employes, based upon the time and value of their services; and I have no doubt that such a step would tend to secure to the Hospital a good and efficient staff of trustworthy subordinates.

RESTRAINT AND SECLUSION.

In accordance with the modern humane plan of treatment, everywhere recognized as the proper one, we have made only such use of restraint and seclusion as seemed absolutely necessary.

ADMISSIONS.

It is to be regretted that sometimes those who make out the papers required by law in the admission of patients to the Hospital are exceedingly careless in the performance of this most important duty, neglecting, among other things, to answer necessary questions. This neglect necessitates the return of the papers, and vexatious and perhaps dangerous delay in the admission of the patient.

It would seem that the present law governing the recommitment of patients is defective, inasmuch as it places the unfortunate beings who formerly have been declared insane and committed to the Hospital at the mercy of almost any one who may choose to institute proceedings for recommitment.

I would earnestly recommend a revision of this law, as it has undoubtedly in some instances been the cause of injustice.

Respectfully,

C. E. WRIGHT, M. D.,

Superintendent.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

TO THE HONORABLE ALVIN P. HOVEY,
Governor of the State of Indiana:

Sir—The Board of Trustees of the Indiana Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb has the honor to submit the following report for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1889:

The health of the entire school has been most excellent. While diseases peculiar to children have prevailed in the surrounding city, and sometimes in a malignant form, there has been an unusual freedom therefrom among the pupils.

The progress made in the school room has been very pleasing to all concerned. The pupils have been industrious and the teachers anxious and painstaking, the result being a substantial advance.

The new school building, an appropriation for which was made by the last General Assembly, is well under way, and the contractor hopes to have it under roof by January 1st next. Facts concerning the building, financial and otherwise, will be found in the Superintendent's report following.

As another fiscal year must intervene before the meeting of another General Assembly, we do not desire at this time to canvass the needs of the Institution, and will call your attention to just one thing in the way of a suggestion: Would it not be an economic policy for the State, paying as it does large sums for natural gas as fuel in the State institutions in Indianapolis, to sink its own gas wells and lay its own independent pipe lines? As it now is, the Women's Prison, the Deaf and Dumb Institution, the Blind Institution, the State House and the Insane Hospital, are at the mercy of corporate trusts, and must pay whatever is demanded or do without gas. Would not the amount saved to the State each year, over and above the interest on the State's investment, amount to enough in a few years to pay for the plant?

The value of the property of the Institution, the products of farm and garden, the amount of earnings paid Treasurer of State and of clothing furnished indigent pupils, the receipts and expenditures, and a statement of the per capita expense, with all other necessary information, will be found in the report of the Superintendent herewith annexed and hereof made a part.

Respectfully submitted,

D. W. CHAMBERS,

President.

CHAS. E. HAUGH, Treas.

To the Board of Trustees :

GENTLEMEN—On July 3d last my predecessor, Mr. Eli P. Baker, because of the pressure of private business affairs demanding his undivided attention, determined to resign his position as Superintendent. He had been at the head of this Institution for nearly five years, during which time he had done much in the way of improvement. With others he was greatly interested in securing an appropriation for the erection of a new school building, great enthusiasm prevailing when success crowned their efforts.

Pending the selection of a permanent Superintendent, I was designated acting Superintendent, and as such I now transmit, gentlemen, my report concerning the trust confided to my keeping. And first I desire to call your attention to as deserving special commendation for their faithful, unselfish and untiring efforts during the year, for I believe each one has performed his duty with an earnestness that must certainly redound to the good of the Institution, and to the future welfare of the pupils, mentally and spiritually.

CHANGES.

Several changes have occurred during the year among the officers and teachers. During the past summer Prof. William N. Burt, a teacher of high standing and acknowledged ability, resigned his position as teacher in this Institution to accept the superintendency of the Western Pennsylvania institution. Mr. Burt is a scholar and a gentleman, and can not fail to have hosts of friends in his new home.

To fill his place required careful scrutiny of the many applicants for his vacant position. Dr. William H. DeMotte, of Jacksonville, Ill., was selected. He has a long and honorable record as an instructor of the deaf in several States, both as teacher and superintendent, and the school is to be congratulated on his being added to the corps of teachers. Miss Ida Price, who has taught one of the lower classes for three years past, did not return this year, her place not being filled by any one because of a rearrangement of classes and the want of suitable school room. At the commencement of the scholastic year in September, Miss Lucy Robinson, of Indianapolis, who has had some experience, was engaged as an additional teacher of articulation.

Mr. Noble B. McKee, a most earnest and conscientious teacher, has been designated principal. With commendable sincerity and unselfishness, his every act is for the good of the school. He has been a great help to the writer, who takes pleasure in thus publicly thanking him.

To fill the place formerly held by myself, Mr. Milton J. Mavity, of Orange County, was selected, and he entered upon the discharge of his duties September 16. Young and energetic, he fills the place acceptably. On September 1 Miss Frances Goode was appointed Librarian, and is giving much attention to the needs of the library.

On September 1, Dr. Charles N. Metcalf, one of the attending physicians, retired, and Dr. Martin H. Fields, of the city, was appointed to fill the vacancy. On September 15, Miss Alice Wilson, who has had much experience in the care of children, entered upon the discharge of her duties as nurse, succeeding Miss Lillie Thompson. Upon the same date Miss Lizzie Jackson, visitors' attendant, succeeded Miss Mattie Shaffer, and Miss Jennie Brown succeeded Miss Flora Griffin as night-watch.

THE PUPILS.

The pupils have been industrious and generally observant of the rules and regulations made for their guidance, and in both school-room and shop have made a pleasing progress.

THE HEALTH.

The health of the entire Institution has been good, and while quite a number of the pupils have been obliged to enter the sick rooms, still the complaints have been petty and tractable. One death, however, occurred at the Institution during the year. In December last little Cora Stevick was taken sick, and on the 22d of the month she died of membranous croup. She was eight years of age and resided in Burkett, Kosciusko County. Everything that could be was done, but of no avail were the efforts. Surrounded by father and brothers she passed quietly away. Her body was taken home for interment.

RESIDENCE OF PUPILS.

Your attention is called to a tabulated statement in a subsequent part of this report, showing the number of pupils received from various counties in the State, the number dismissed from each, and the number remaining and entitled to the benefits of the Institution. The number really entitled to the benefits of the school is larger than the number shown at the end of any one year, for this statement refers only to those who have been in attendance at some time during the year. An inspection of this statement will show that pupils have been received from eighty-five of the ninety-two counties, the counties not represented being Bartholomew, Benton, Delaware, Jasper, Scott, Starke and Union. The counties having ten or more representatives are Carroll, 10; Laporte, 10; Marion, 32; Montgomery, 12; St. Joseph, 10; White, 10.

Your attention is also called to the accompanying catalogue, showing the names of the pupils received during the year, and the counties and towns where they reside.

THE DISCIPLINE.

The discipline that obtains in any body of persons gathered together is a matter for most careful consideration, but especially so is it in a school, and in one like this. It must be strict, firm and unyielding, yet tempered with a justice and love that should appeal to those for whom it is established. With this in view, at the beginning of this scholastic year, an entirely new system was adopted, the central idea of which was that the pupils should assist in governing themselves. Rules and regulations were adopted touching upon the conduct of the pupils in every department of the institution. These were printed, nicely framed, thoroughly explained to the pupils, and then hung up in various places in the house.

Monitors of dormitories were then appointed for both the boys' and girls' side of the house, each wearing a button to designate the position.

Officers of the Day were appointed on the boys' side of the house to the number of fifteen, each to serve one day, being relieved in the morning at breakfast time. While on duty the officer wears a handsome silver-plated shield, bearing in black enamelled letters the words, "Officer of the Day."

The duties of the monitors are confined to the dormitories, while the Officers of the Day exercise general supervision over the boys when not in the school room, study room or shop, seeing that they give obedience to the rules and reporting any infraction thereof. Tattling and tale-bearing, most contemptible vices, are not allowed, and reports are made only when the absolute good of the school demands it, but in every case where merited the proper punishment surely follows. These reports, as well as any reports from teachers and regular officers, are handed to the Superintendent on Friday evening of each week, and they are published the following morning in the chapel, before the assembled school. This publication of itself is most unpleasing to a pupil who has any pride at all, and even to those who have none when they see how it affects others. The result has been most gratifying to everybody, including the pupils, and has awakened an interest in general good conduct most pleasing to contemplate. Further, as those who make the best record this year will be appointed to these positions next year, an incentive is furnished, and a friendly strife springs up as to who shall be the honored ones. Since the adoption of this system, tardiness, talking in study and school room, boisterous conduct in the house, rude conduct to one another, slovenly appearance, and the like, are greatly diminished.

INTELLECTUAL.

The school at this time is subdivided into seventeen classes: the Primary Department consisting of seven grades arranged into fourteen classes, and the Academic Department consisting of three grades arranged into three classes, the whole course being so regulated as to take ten years to complete it.

The progress made in any school, be it for the deaf or for the hearing child, depends upon many things, the most important being teachers well qualified and energetic, pupils ambitious, and a full graded course uniformly taught, or, to reduce this last requirement to a single word, system. A school of six classes, say, taught by a system that is not uniform, will certainly not make the progress it would if taught by a system generally uniform; and I say generally uniform, for it must not be so strictly defined as to not allow sufficient latitude for peculiarities of both teacher and pupil. That this is to be more desired for the deaf than the hearing I believe, and certainly so where the pupil, as here, passes from grade to grade, from teacher to teacher.

That the work of unifying and systematizing has not been carried far enough in this Institution, I believe is shown in too many cases which can very properly be charged to what may be called indiscriminate teaching.

Mr. McKee, the Principal, will, with the cordial support of every teacher I hope, take the necessary steps to remedy this retarding influence, and we hope to have a more perfect grade and system when the next scholastic year begins.

The teachers' institute, which meets regularly each month, will be of great assistance in the matter, for shortly a committee of teachers will be appointed to prepare and perfect such a graded course and system of teaching it, which will report from time to time to the institute, so that thorough and exhaustive discussion may be had thereon.

ARTICULATION.

The method of instruction in this Institution is what is generally called the combined method, that is to say, a method wherein both the oral and manual or sign system is used. As a matter of fact, however, the only system used as a means of imparting instruction is the manual or sign system, the oral being used, not to impart instruction but to simply drill the pupil in articulating words and in lip reading. I have no fault to find with this, for I realize that many (perhaps a large majority) of those who are thus drilled could not with any degree of success have instruction imparted to them solely by means of the oral system. The great object, of course, is to enlarge their minds and educate, and the system is simply a means toward an end, but I do believe that if a certain number of those being drilled in articulation and lip reading can receive the necessary instruction by means of the oral system, that system should be adopted, so far as they are concerned, to the exclusion of the sign system. The reasons for this are too patent to speak of.

I believe that in this school at present there are ten or more pupils who would be vastly benefited by this manner of instruction, and I therefore recommend that commencing with the next scholastic year, a class be formed which shall be instructed by the oral system, separate and apart from the sign system.

If it should result in failure, failure it would be, but we would still feel that we had tried to do that which we thought was best for all.

PAINTING AND DRAWING.

All the girls of the academic department are given instruction in painting and drawing. All have made good progress. At the commencement of this scholastic year a course of primary architectural drawing was commenced, the classes comprising all the boys in the sixth and seventh grades of the primary department. While the membership of these classes is determined as above stated, still if a pupil of any grade shows an inclination for either painting or drawing, worthy of improvement, he is at once put under instruction.

TEXT BOOKS.

I desire to call your attention to the change made in text-books, which I consider a change much for the better.

The last General Assembly passed an act for the purpose of securing for use in the common schools of Indiana a series of school books which could be had much cheaper than the series published by the regular school-book publishers. The result was the organization of the Indiana School Book Company. Commencing with the scholastic year, the old arithmetics, geographies and readers were discarded, and those published by the Indiana company substituted. Besides being a change for the better, as the teachers testify, the most important thing to be considered is this: It gives the deaf children the same books to study from as are used by their little speaking and hearing brothers, sisters and friends at home, and will in a measure tend to bring about between them that communion and fellowship so much to be desired.

INDUSTRIAL.

Under the existing state of affairs the shops are as well conducted as could be, but are not what they should be. Not that the boys do not learn a handicraft, for this they do, but because they do not become as proficient therein as they might or should. With so many avenues for gaining a livelihood closed to them because of their misfortune, it is of the very highest importance that that which is taught them should be taught well and thoroughly, not only a part of a trade, but every part of it—not only the use of one, two or three tools, but of all tools belonging to the particular craft, so that on leaving they may be thoroughly skilled mechanics in every sense of the term.

The instruction of deaf-mutes, mentally and industrially, is not because of a charity on the part of the State, but because of a duty the State owes the deaf-mute. If that duty be fulfilled conscientiously and in a perfect manner the responsibility and duty is then shifted and the deaf-mute in turn owes a duty to the State which he will forever be glad to discharge.

But if the State fails to do its duty, can it in justice and reason expect that the deaf-mute shall do more? Hence the necessity of such instruction in the trades taught as shall enable a deaf-mute to go forth fully prepared to make his own living and at the same time discharge his duty to mankind, such as every man owes according to the help received.

Under the lease system now in vogue, human nature, the same the world over, prevents this perfect acquirement of a trade, and the system should be abolished. An instructor should be employed who would thoroughly teach every branch of the trade, every position, as thoroughly as a teacher would teach each one of the twelve multiplication tables. That this change can not be made without an increased expenditure, which can not be done with our present appropriation, I well know, and my only purpose in laying it before you at this time is that you may well consider it before the next meeting of the General Assembly, when I hope the necessary increased allowance will be made.

While I make these criticisms of existing circumstances I still desire to say that the shops have been as well attended to by the present lessees as any lessees could do unless they were so full of philanthropy as to give their time to the State for nothing, something no one would do, or be asked to do. The system is wrong, not the lessees.

THE CABINET SHOP,

leased to Reuben Girard, a former pupil of this Institution and a most skillful mechanic, has had employed therein thirty-six boys, who have made just as much progress as the system allows.

THE SHOE SHOP,

leased to Mr. Peters, has given employment to seventeen boys, who have made fair progress.

THE CHAIR-CANING SHOP, leased to F. Minter, has had employed therein sixty of the smaller boys.

THE PRINTING OFFICE.

This office has had employed therein during the year ten boys and eight girls, and the progress made by the youthful typos has been very satisfactory, save in one or two cases. I regret that the office is not so equipped that we could give instruction to at least ten more, for the success attending those who have gone out from there indicates very plainly how valuable the knowledge of the art is in gaining a livelihood. I hope the necessary steps will be taken whereby the scope of the office can be enlarged, and whether the capacity of the office be made greater or not, I consider the purchase of a power press almost a necessity.

THE SILENT HOOSIER

is the name of the weekly Institution paper, and it is in a flourishing condition. Formerly it was called the Indiana Deaf-Mute Journal, its present name being adopted last September. Besides being sent to subscribers, exchanges are made with other institution papers. While furnishing the necessary work for the pupils in the office, it goes in the nature of a letter to the homes of parents, and is eagerly received by them as tidings of the absent ones.

The total expense of the office for the year has been $173.46, not including the salary of the instructor, while the receipts have amounted to $91.90, making the net expense for the year $81.56, which will be easily balanced by miscellaneous job work done for the Institution.

MISCELLANEOUS WORK.

Other work has been furnished to some of the boys as follows: Bake shop, 2; kitchen, 3; carpenter shop, 2; farm and garden, 10; greenhouse, 2.

THE GIRLS

during the year have been very industrious. Instruction has been given them in plain and fancy needlework, and in all the various branches of general housework. The sewing-room, under the able management of Mrs. Kate Gorman, has been a place of great interest to the visitors.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS.

As a matter of general interest, I refer to the International Congress for the Deaf, which was held in Paris during the past summer. The number of delegates attending was one hundred and fifty one, the number from America being twenty-two, which was a greater number than from any other country excepting France. This one fact speaks volumes for the enterprise and push of the American Deaf. The subjects brought before the Congress for discussion were :

1. The Deaf-Mute in Society.
2. The Deaf-Mute at Work.
3. The Deaf-Mute in the Family.
4. The Deaf-Mute and the Laws of His Country.
5. The Benefactors of the Deaf and Dumb.

Much discussion ensued and many papers were read. The deliberations of the Congress clearly show the high and permanent character of the results of American Deaf-Mute instruction, and that taking our method and the results of that method as a whole, America is not only not surpassed, but is not equaled by any country in the world. Quick and eager to do that which is best, our schools have energetically kept pace with the requirements of the time by the adoption of an eclectic course of instruction. Of the twenty-two American delegates, three were from our own State—Prof. Sidney J. Vail, who ably represented this school; Mr. Chas. Kerney, of the Evansville Day School; Mr. Philip Hasenstab, of New Albany, who represented the Illinois Institution.

THE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING.

In pursuance of recommendations made in the last annual report, an appropriation of $50,000 was made by the Legislature for the erection of a school building. Bills appropriating this amount were introduced in the Senate and House of Representatives simultaneously, in the former by Hon. S. E. Urnston, in the latter by Hon. Hiram Brownlee, both of whom deserve the thanks of all friends of this Institution, as do also my predecessor, Mr. Baker, and many others who interested themselves in behalf of the appropriation.

On competitive bidding the contract was awarded to Louis Burton, of Indianapolis. Although late in commencing the work, it has progressed very fast, and at this date the cellars have been excavated and the stone foundation and basement walls have been erected. The contractor hopes to have the building enclosed by the first of the year if reasonably fair weather continues. The corner-stone will be laid with appropriate ceremonies on November 6, 1889.

DESCRIPTION OF BUILDING.

The building when completed will be an imposing addition to the group of buildings already erected. It is to be 152 feet long by 100 feet wide, with a basement constructed of rubble stone extending five feet above the ground, three stories above that with mansard roof, the whole surmounted by a dome. In the building will be twenty-four school rooms, an art room and library rooms. The mansard rooms can be utilized for many purposes. Each school room will be provided with ante rooms, well lighted, in which school supplies, wraps of pupils, etc., can be kept. The building will be heated by steam and will be modern in every respect.

THE EXTENSION OF OHIO STREET was opened through our grounds during the summer, in pursuance of legislative enactment. The street passes through the northern portion of the Institution grounds, leaving a strip of ground 600 feet long by 126 feet wide north of the street and south of the Indiana Reform School for Girls and Women's Prison, which the latter have enclosed.

LIGHT.

Your attention is called to the lighting of the Institution. For a long time the gas has been insufficient in quantity or quality, or both, and the light furnished has been most execrable, at times necessitating the dismissal of pupils from the study rooms at night, it being impossible for them to study without serious injury to the eyes.

The electric light is the light of the future, and is fast being introduced in public buildings all over the country, among them being several institutions for the deaf. I believe its introduction here would be a most progressive step, and one that would give us a far better light than we now have, at the same time reducing the cost of lighting.

STORE ROOM SYSTEM.

Commencing November 1, a new system of issuing supplies from the store room will be put into operation. All supplies received will be entered on a store room ledger, properly classified. They will be issued only upon order from the Superintendent, who will countersign all orders each morning before eight o'clock, at which time the store room will be opened for issue of supplies, to be closed again at nine o'clock. All issues are then entered on the ledger, and the balance on hand carried to next column. By this means exactness is acquired in the amounts issued, and a complete inventory of supplies on hand is constantly shown.

PURCHASE OF SUPPLIES.

Commencing on the same date, all purchases of supplies not called for on the "requisition of supplies needed for the coming month" can be purchased only upon a countersigned order of the Superintendent. The law requires that a list of all articles needed for the succeeding month shall be made out and purchased at the end of each month upon competitive bids. It frequently happens that the exact wants of the Institution can not be foretold, thus necessitating purchases during the month of supplies not called for on requisition. To regulate and keep an exact account of these purchases, the orders referred to will be adopted.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE.

During the past summer many improvements have been made, all tending to better the condition of buildings and grounds.

PLASTERING.

Much plastering has been done throughout the building, for in all places where it was loose it was knocked off and replastered.

CALSOMINING.

Fourteen thousand square yards of surface has been calsomined, consisting of halls, stairways, dormitories, closets, trunk-rooms, wash and bath-rooms, ironing, sewing, milk and store-rooms, bake shop, two outhouses inside, wash house, shoe shop and meat cellar, all being thoroughly scraped before being covered. In order that the work should be of the best, and to remove all incentive for "quick time, poor material and work," as is too often the object in "job contract" work, I had the work done by "day's work," the Institution furnishing all material save brushes. The cellars under the entire building have also been whitewashed, rendering them sweet and healthful.

PAINTING.

Painting has been done as follows: Side walls and ceilings of thirteen sleeping rooms, main dining room and pantries, main kitchen, help's dining room and bath rooms, two panels in chapel, wood work in officers' dining room, second floor halls, corridors to school building, bake shop, kitchen, hallway between kitchen and bake shop, two outhouses, greenhouse, printing office, iron stairways in rear of main building, posts in girls' study and sewing rooms, iron and brick work in engine house, wood work in reception room, main corridor, girls' corridor, boys' corridor, main front hall, iron work of porticoes in front, steam pipes, radiators, and numerous odd jobs.

PAPERING.

Papering has been done in the main front building and wings as follows: The main halls and reception room had been papered with common white blank stock in dark colors. This was all scraped off, and walls and ceilings covered with 14-oz. gilt stock. The library has also been repapered in light white blanks. Previous to this the ceilings of the three mentioned places had never been papered at all.

The three outside halls or landings and the stairways on the girls' side, and the girls' study-hall, all heretofore not papered, have been papered, side-walls and ceilings, with white blank stock, as have also the walls and ceilings of the girls' study-hall closet, the library bed-room, the Superintendent's dining-room, hallway and stairway.

CARPETS, WINDOW SHADES, ETC.

The old carpets in many of the rooms and hall-ways being threadbare and absolutely worn out, about 600 yards of new carpet and thirty-eight yards of matting was laid; numerous rugs were bought, and many new window shades put up.

FURNITURE.

Much new furniture was purchased during the summer, consisting of bed-steads, tables, chairs, wash-stands, dressers, etc., the amount expended therefor being about $800.

UPHOLSTERING.

Thirteen lounges have been upholstered at a cost of $80.

THE WASH-ROOMS.

In the wash-rooms on both the boys' and girls' side the old wooden troughs, most primitive in style, have been torn out and marble top wash basins with nickle plated fixtures substituted, and the rooms wainscoted with hard pine. With the gilt mirrors placed on the wall, the rooms present a most inviting appearance.

THE DORMITORIES.

For the dormitories many new bed-steads, mattresses and bed-spreads have been purchased, as have also pictures to be hung on the walls.

THE HOSPITAL.

The four large rooms comprising the hospital were thoroughly renovated during the summer, in one of them a new floor of hard pine being laid. New bed-steads of a wider and better pattern than the old ones were placed throughout. New mattresses were also gotten for the rooms.

WASH HOUSE.

Two new No. 10 metallic steam washers have been purchased for the wash-house at a cost of $675, making three machines now there of the latest improved pattern. With a new drying rack the wash-house would be perfect and complete.

FENCING.

About 1,200 feet of new open board fence has been built, 600 feet along the extension of Ohio street and 600 feet at other places on the part of the farm and garden surrounding the building.

A NEW DRY HOUSE

for drying lumber for use in the cabinet shop has been built, the old one being too small and needed for other purposes.

A TOOL HOUSE

has also been erected large enough to have stored therein all farm and garden implements. It joins on to the carriage house, which has also been repaired.

MANY MINOR IMPROVEMENTS, not necessary to especially mention here, have been made, all tending to enhance the appearance and sanitary condition of the buildings and grounds.

IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED.

Many improvements are needed, the most important of which however, can not be made until the General Assembly provides the necessary means for so doing. These improvements are:

A Kindergarten Cottage,		A Gymnasium,
A Chapel.		Remodeling of old buildings.

To make these, special appropriations amounting to $75,000 will be required. As the next meeting of the General Assembly will not be until after the close of another fiscal year, the details and necessities of these improvements will not be canvassed at this time.

While our new school building will give us sufficient room for an increased number of pupils, so far as school room is concerned, a much greater number can not be received than now because of want of room for sleeping and eating purposes. This can be obtained only through a remodeling of the buildings.

GREEN HOUSE.

A new green house must be erected this next summer, as the old one stands immediately against the new school building. Your attention is called to it now so that arrangements can be made for building one that shall comport with the dignity of a State institution. Very handsome ones can be purchased, made of iron and glass, already for setting up, at a cost ranging from $1,000 up.

ORDINARY IMPROVEMENTS

will be made during the coming year from time to time as necessity demands. Among other things the buildings should be painted for the sake of protection as well as for appearance, and the entire system of drainage and sewer pipes through the buildings and grounds need overhauling. These and other ordinary improvements can be made out of our present appropriation.

THE BOARD OF STATE CHARITIES.

The Secretary of this Board several times and the Board itself once in their official capacities have visited this Institution. I desire to express my appreciation of the noble work they are doing, and say they shall always find a cordial welcome here. The Secretary, W. Alexander Johnson, because of long experience and most practicable ideas, is peculiarly fitted for the position he occupies, and the writer is indebted to him for many valuable suggestions.

FINANCIAL AND BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS.

A brief outline of the business and financial transactions for the fiscal year is all that is necessary to be given in this place, and your attention is called to the very full and complete exhibit in a succeeding part of this report for all such further information as you may desire.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE ADMISSION OF PUPILS.

1. This Institution is open to all the deaf of the State, free of charge, provided they are of suitable age and capacity for receiving instruction, and are too deaf to be educated in the common schools.

2. Pupils will be considered of proper age between the years of eight and twenty-one. No applicant who is idiotic, feeble-minded, or who is afflicted with a contagious or offensive disease, or who is an invalid so confirmed as to prevent study, will be received. No case of sore eyes will be received.

3. This Institution is in no sense an asylum nor a hospital. It is strictly an educational institution.

4. Applications for the admission of pupils must be made on regular blanks of the Institution, which will be furnished the applicant by the Superintendent thereof. All questions on these blanks must be fully answered, and the requirement of the certificate of a Justice of the Peace on the back thereof (that the person seeking admission as a pupil is a legal resident of the county named) must be complied with. (See Sec. 2762 R. S. 1881.)

5. Pupils will be admitted on the following conditions: (1.) The pupils, provided with clothes, must be brought to the Institution punctually at commencement of each session, unless detained at home by sickness. (2.) The pupils to remain in school until the second Wednesday in June of each year. (3.) No parent or guardian will be allowed to take a pupil out of the school during the session without some urgent reason. Pupils will not be allowed to go home during the holidays.

6. The annual sessions of the school commence on the first Wednesday after the fifteenth day of September, and close on the second Wednesday in June. Pupils must come promptly on or before the first day of the session, and remain until the last day of the same. The only exceptions allowed are cases of sickness.

7. No pupil, unless under extraordinary circumstances, can be received at any time than at the commencement of the session.

8. The Institution will provide for each pupil regularly admitted, boarding, lodging, washing, superintendence of conduct, manners, and medical attendance, instruction, school books, slates, and all other incidental expenses of the school-room, without charge, but will not pay the traveling expenses of pupils in coming to or returning from the Institution, nor supply them with clothing.

9. All traveling expenses of pupils to and from the Institution must be defrayed by their parents or guardians. They are also required to furnish, annually, to each pupil sent by them, a sufficient quantity of suitable clothing to last until the close of the term. A good stout trunk must also be supplied. The name of the pupil should be written with indelible ink upon all articles of clothing, as they are liable to be lost when not marked. (See Sec. 2763 R. S. 1831.)

10. The applicant must deposit with the Superintendent, when admitted, a sum not less than five dollars, to defray incidental expenses, repairs of shoes, etc., any part of which remaining unexpended at the close of the session, will be returned.

11. When it is established that a pupil is in indigent circumstances, and the parents or guardians are either unable or neglect to furnish the necessary clothing, it will be supplied by the Superintendent in pursuance of the following legislative enactment:

“Sec. 2764 R. S. 1881. In all cases where suitable clothing and means for defraying traveling expenses are not otherwise supplied to the pupils, the same shall be provided by the Superintendent, who shall make out and file with the Treasurer of State accounts therefor, separate in each case, against the respective counties from which such pupils are sent, in an amount not exceeding forty dollars per annum for every such pupil, which accounts shall be severally signed by the Superintendent and attested by the seal of the Institution under his charge, and the Treasurer of the State shall charge each account thus certified to the county from which the pupil named therein was sent.”

“Sec. 2765 R. S. The Treasurer of State shall forward each account so filed with him to the treasurer of the proper county, who shall cause it to be paid out of the county treasury to the Treasurer of State; and such County Treasurer shall, in the name of the county, and by suit if necessary, collect the amount of such account from the parents or estate of such pupil, as the case may be, where there is ability to pay."

12. The course of study in this Institution is so arranged as to cover ten years, and is divided into the primary and academic courses. The primary course embraces spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, history and grammar. It is divided into seven grades, and requires seven years to complete it. All the pupils who wish it, and will avail themselves of it, are allowed the full benefit of this course of study.

The academic course comprises a three years' course of advanced primary work and a study of the sciences. Only pupils who pass the seventh grade of the primary course in the time allotted, and with honor to themselves, will be allowed to pass into the academic course with the privilege of three years' longer connection with the Institution.

13. All those susceptible of instruction in articulation and lip-reading will be daily drilled therein.

Drawing and painting will be taught the girls in the academic course, and to such boys as shall show any special aptitude therefor. Primary architectural drawing will be taught the boys of the sixth and seventh grades in the primary course.

14. The Superintendent shall have the power to at any time discharge a pupil from the Institution for inability to receive an education, for failure to make the necessary progress, and for violation of the rules of the Institution. He may also, when he thinks the facts warrant it, extend the period for instruction in individual cases.

15. It is the intention of the Trustees to render the pupils self-supporting so far as practicable, so that every pupil, on leaving the Institution, shall be proficient in some useful occupation or trade, so as to be able to procure a livelihood without reliance on the charities of others. In accordance with this design, all the scholars will be required to labor a portion of each day—the girls performing the lighter kinds of house-work and various kinds of needle-work, as plain sewing or ornamental work, and dress-making; and the boys at various trades—cabinet-making, shoe-making, chair-caning, the necessary work about the Institution, and in the cultivation of the farm and garden. A limited number of both boys and girls will be taught printing.

16. Those persons bringing pupils, or taking them away can not be furnished with board and lodging at the Institution.

17. The pupils will be sent home to spend the vacation, which extends from the second Wednesday in June to the first Wednesday after the 15th of September.

18. All business letters or letters of inquiry in regard to pupils in the Institution, or those whom it may be designed to place there, should be addressed to R. O. Johnson, Superintendent Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Indianapolis, Indiana.

PHYSICIANS' REPORT.

To Richard O. Johnson, Superintendent:

SIR—The remarkably healthy condition of the pupils during the past year has been a subject of pride and gratification to us, the attending physicians. Indeed, for the last three or four years especially, the health of the pupils has been phenomenally good. During the past year we have had only one death, and that was from chronic, or membranous croup; and with one other exception it is the only death in three or four years.

There has been no epidemic of disease among the pupils during the year, and nothing approaching one. It is true we have had four cases of diphtheria during the year, but they were very tractable, and in forty-eight hours the worst one was convalescent, thus showing the exceedingly good sanitary condition of the Institution, whilst in the city and the immediate vicinity this much dreaded malady has been very prevalent, intractable and fatal in many cases; and such has been the history for two or three years since diphtheria has prevailed in the city, we have not lost a case.

Never losing sight of the fact that we have had an average attendance of about 300 pupils, a large majority of these being of unsound health, or of impaired constitutions in some respect or other, and the other patent fact that every one of them passes through a very critical period of their lives—the entrance on to manhood and womanhood—the writers think that the Trustees and Superintendent should feel satisfied and greatly encouraged, and that the parents and guardians of the pupils will be pleased and fully assured that their absent little ones are carefully and properly cared for as to their health.

During the past ten years it has been the policy of the physicians, encouraged and sustained in every possible way by the Trustees and Superintendent, to keep the Institution and environs in the very best possible sanitary condition. In order to do this it has involved us in great labor and care, and eternal vigilance; every sewer, every sink, every soil and waste pipe, all of the vast cellars and water closets, had to be almost daily inspected. The result of this course has proven it to have been most prudent and beneficial—as the very marked improvement in the general health; the entire disappearance of epidemics; the mildness of such complaints as we have now, and the ease and promptness with which they are now relieved, all abundantly demonstrate.

A little more than ten years ago, when the senior physician first took service at the Institution, it was ascertained that the main and only sewer leading from the Institute and emptying into the Washington Street sewer was in a condition of utter ruin, crevices and apertures through which one could thrust his foot existing all along, and many of these were evidently of many years standing. In consequence, the soil beneath the buildings and all around was saturated with sewer gas, which, in turn, was given off to be inhaled by the inmates of the Institute to the number of three or four hundred. A new brick sewer was at once put in. For several years, until the winter's frost and summer's sun had time to neutralize and evaporate the poisonous sewer gas from the super-saturated soil, we had scores and scores of cases of malarial fever, typhoid fever, pneumonia, or lung fever, erysipelas, and nearly every year an epidemic of measles; these diseases, too, were persistent, intractable, and sometimes fatal. They gradually decreased, however, in frequency and severity, until during the last four or five years we have had only the mildest and most tractable cases of colds and sore-throat, incident to sudden and severe changes in the weather; and now and then a mild case of typhoid fever or pneumonia. We have not even had an epidemic of measles for four or five years.

Respectfully,

JOHN E. LOCKRIDGE, M. D.,
MARTIN H. FIELD, M. D.

We feel that, under the present careful and judicious system of managing the finances, the usual annual appropriations are sufficient to meet all the necessary expenses for maintaining the Institution, and keeping the buildings and premises in good repair.

As soon as the present Board of Trustees was permitted to assume active control of the Institution, it took steps to carry out the provisions of an act of the last General Assembly, approved March 9, 1889, appropriating altogether forty-five thousand dollars for additional buildings and other important improvements to this Institution.

As it was generally conceded among business people during the past summer that nearly all materials for building were unusually low in price, it was regarded by the Board as a matter of judicious economy to let the contracts for erecting the contemplated building as early as possible. A general plan for the edifice had already been carefully thought out by the Superintendent, but it was completed in detail and given proper architectural finish, by Messrs. Adolph Scherrer and W. Scott Moore, architects of large experience and high professional ability, who were employed by the Board to prepare the specifications and superintend the construction of the building, that the contracts made for the whole structure may be fully complied with, both in workmanship and in the materials to be furnished.

Contracts for the foundation and for the superstructure were let separately. This was done to gain time and to expedite the work. The summer was passing away, and hence, at as early a date as practicable, the Board awarded the contract for the former, including the excavations, to Messrs. Koss & Fritz, of Indianapolis; and, while the work was being done, the architects completed the plans and prepared the specifications for the latter, and ample opportunity was accorded builders to examine them and carefully prepare their propositions. In due time, August 30, 1889, the contract for the superstructure was let to Jungclaus & Schumacher, also of Indianapolis.

In letting these contracts, the Trustees invited competition in propositions from builders for doing the work, by advertising in the daily papers of Indianapolis for sealed proposals, and in both instances the contract was let, strictly in accordance with the law, to the lowest and best bidder.

The bid of Koss & Fritz for the masonry, including all excavations, was $3,236, and that of Jungelaus & Schumacher for the superstructure, $30,800. They were the lowest bidders, and are known to be responsible and reliable firms.

The weather has been favorable and rapid progress has been made on the work, but it is evident the building can not be completed this fall.

In digging the cellar for the new building, the earth was necessarily removed from a part of the foundation of the east and west wings of the old one, and when the walls were exposed they were found to be poorly built and defective, if not unsafe. Hence, it was deemed highly necessary to strengthen them, and this was done by building a stone wall eighteen inches thick, with a footing two feet wide and one foot thick, against the old foundation, the full length and height of the exposed walls. This, of course, involved an unexpected addition of $246 to the cost of the foundation.

The Board also decided, after careful consideration, to build the walls of the areas of the cellar windows of stone, instead of brick, as at first contemplated, especially, as upon the estimates of the architect, the work was done at little or no additional cost to the whole building; for while the change increased the expense of the stone foundation to the amount of $259.20, it reduced the cost of the superstructure about the same amount.

Of the special appropriation, the Board has paid out to date the following sums to the parties and for the purposes named:

To Adolph Scherrer and W. Scott Moore, architects' salary	$634 73
To Manufacturers' and Carpenters' Union, for cellar window-frames	43 50
To A. Bruner & Bro., for sewer as per contract.....	110 00
To Koss & Fritz, for work on foundation as per contract.....	2,988 96
To Koss & Fritz, for wall around foundation of old building.....	246 00
To Koss & Fritz, for walls of areas of cellar windows	259 20
To Jungelaus & Schumacher, for work on superstructure as per contract.....	7,188 80
To Daily Sentinel, for advertising	8 25
To Indianapolis Daily News, for advertising	6 90
Total	$11,486 34

The general management of the Institute has been characterized by commendable efficiency, faithfulness and economy. The mental and moral training of the pupils comes up to the highest standard of excellence.

The Board of Trustees desire to call especial attention to the following recommendation of Superintendent Jacobs in his annual report of 1884:

"I wish to call the attention of the Board to a matter of moral significance which, it seems to me, ought to be corrected. According to the regulations of the Institute, the pupils are sent to their respective homes at the end of each school session in June, to spend the vacation. Now, the homes of a number of our pupils are the county poor-houses of the counties to which they are accredited, where they not unfrequently associate with a low element of society, and, consequently, not only is there danger of the moral influence of the Institute upon them being vitiated, but there is also danger of their contracting habits, which, it may be difficult to control, when they return to us. The Legislature ought to provide suitable homes for these pupils during the summer vacation."

The force of this recommendation is so apparent that no additional argument is needed to commend it to the judgment of those giving the matter a moment's consideration. Action on this subject should no longer be deferred.

Respectfully submitted,

T. J. CULLEN, President.

JOHN W. RILEY, Secretary.

J. B. STOLL, Treasurer.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

INSTITUTION FOR THE BLIND,
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., October 31, 1889. }

To the Board of Trustees:

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with the provisions of the statute, I herewith respectfully submit this, the forty-third annual report of this Institution, being for the fiscal year ending on this date.

I beg leave to state, at the beginning of this brief account of the operations and progress of the school for the past year, that it will be found to contain but little that has not been presented to you, in one form or another, heretofore. But, though this document may be but a recapitulation of statements of facts submitted on former occasions, I hope it may not be prepared in vain.

As these annual reports are printed and distributed throughout the State, they not only convey to the parents desired information relative to the character and objects of the Institution, and the means by which to secure the admission of their children, but they serve to call the attention of the general public to the importance and value of the educational facilities here accorded this unfortunate class of children. More than that, they serve, also, to impress people with the terribleness of the affliction of blindness and the necessity for greater care of weak eyes, and lead parents, whose children may have diseased eyes, to prompter and more considerate effort to avert, if possible, the calamity of total blindness.

THE CONDITION OF THE INSTITUTION.

It is a great pleasure to be able to assure you of the continued growth and prosperity of this Institution. The several departments have all been thoroughly organized, and satisfactory results have been achieved. The teachers have been attentive to duty, and the pupils have manifested a spirit of earnestness in their studies. It is not assuming too much, I hope, when I say that I doubt whether the history of the Institution will show more successful work in the line of caring for and educating the blind children of the State, than during the year just closed.

The domestic department has been well managed. The building throughout has been kept clean and in excellent order. The dormitories have always been well ventilated and dusted, the beds are clean and comfortable and well provided with suitable covering. An abundance of good, wholesome food has been supplied. It has been well prepared and varied in a manner conducive to good health. Every precaution of cleanliness and diet has been taken to secure safety from disease.

Frequent and thorough inspections of all the departments of the Institution were made during the year. It is only by careful oversight and watchfulness that neglect and abuses can be avoided in an establishment of this character. Besides, such action tends to arouse energy and a sense of responsibility in all engaged in the Institution, which results in greater regard for the welfare of the inmates and more care in saving and protecting the public property.

The ordinary annual repairs have been made, and the buildings and premises put in the best possible sanitary condition.

THE CHARACTER AND PURPOSE OF THE INSTITUTION.

We have endeavored to keep steadily in view the fact that this is an educational establishment, as its title would indicate, and not an asylum nor a hospital. Strictly, it is a part of our grand system of public education, and has been founded by wise legislation for the purpose of giving educational advantages and training in some useful industries, to a class of children who, because of their affliction, can not receive an education in the schools provided for the seeing, that they may become self-supporting, and take an active and intelligent part in the affairs of social life.

This is truly a noble, benevolent enterprise, and deserves the watchful care and support of all sympathetic and benevolent people. By proper aid and judicious management, it will soon develop into an institution well calculated to arouse State pride. It has already done much for the moral and intellectual development and social elevation of the blind children of the State, and stands as a testimony of the wisdom and foresight of our lawmakers of forty odd years ago, in passing an act providing for the founding of a school of this kind; for time and experience have demonstrated that educated blind people, as a class, are not a public charge, but they succeed in supporting themselves, by engaging in some useful occupation. Many of them are useful citizens, tax-payers instead of tax-consumers.

THE SCHOOL TERM.

According to the rules of the Institution, the annual term of the school commences each year on the second Wednesday of September, and continues through a period of forty consecutive weeks.

The last term commenced September 12, 1888, and closed on Tuesday, June 18, 1889. The whole number of pupils enrolled during this period was 132. Of these 70 were boys and 62 girls. The attendance last year was as large as during any one session of the school since it was organized, and was a fair percentage of all the blind children in the State, of proper school age and capable of receiving instruction.

There is no limit fixed by law to the number of pupils that may be admitted to the Institution from any one county. It is intended for the education of all the blind children in the State, capable of receiving instruction.

INSTRUCTION.

Instruction is given in three distinct departments, namely, Literary, Musical and Industrial, each of which is really a school in itself.

It has been our earnest and conscientious endeavor to make our instruction eminently practical, and, as far as possible, meet the conditions and needs of each individual pupil. The subjects of study are so arranged and the work so divided that a lively interest in the employments of the school is constantly kept up among both teachers and pupils. In all the departments an effort is made to meet the demands of each pupil, at every stage of his progress. We employ in our work the most advanced and approved methods of instructing the blind, and strive to develop the children under our care evenly in all directions. A complete system of education of blind children must provide for more than the development and culture of the varied faculties of the human mind, physical, mental and moral; it must provide, besides, for a careful training of pupils in habits of order, neatness, industry, diligence, economy, politeness and courtesy, and all that goes to make up the sum of utility for the individual in society.

As one considers it in all its bearings, the subject broadens and deepens in importance. The proper development and training of a class of blind children, who come to us from such widely varied surroundings and circumstances, is a very serious and delicate charge, one that demands a degree of patience, self-forgetfulness and devotion to duty on the part of those engaged in the work, that can scarcely be realized by those who are otherwise employed.

Though we note, with much satisfaction, in looking over the achievements of the past, that a decided gain has been made in every department of the school, yet we freely admit that our system of instruction is not complete, and it still remains for us to modify and amplify it in many particulars, so that the Institution may accomplish, in the fullest sense, the purpose for which it was established. Our present duty, however, is to press forward, and, as far as possible, mitigate the condition of all who come under our care.

Unfortunately, in institutions of this kind, there is nearly always present a strong tendency to exhibit the work or accomplishments of a few bright and especially favored pupils, as evidence of the success of the school, or of some department of it. This tendency needs to be carefully watched that it does not run into practices, which, while they may be advantageous to some, may prove very detrimental to others. While it is well to encourage to the fullest extent the development of special and superior talents possessed by any one, in doing so, we should take care not to neglect nor discourage those who are not so fortunate. The true test of success or failure in educational work of any kind, does not lie in what a few bright pupils have accomplished, nor in the slow advancement of a few dull ones, but in what has been done for the great majority—in the progress made by those of mediocre ability.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT:

No material change has been made in the manner of conducting this department. Substantially the same graded course of study has been followed during the year as was presented in the last report.

The primary object here is to give the pupils, if possible, a sound English education. The importance of a careful literary training as forming the foundation of all educational work, and as furnishing the most valuable aid to all true success in every important effort in life, is at once acknowledged. Such training greatly aids pupils in prosecuting the work of the other departments.

For various reasons, not all our pupils are required to pursue the full course of literary studies. Some come to us at adult age, and, having only a few years to spend in the Institution, desire to devote most of their time to industrial pursuits, while others are physically unable to do all the work. In every instance, however, we try to have all our pupils study such branches as are essential for discipline and information.

There are six grades (classes) in this department in charge of five faithful and competent teachers, all of whom through the year evinced a lively and commendable interest in the progress and success of their pupils.

MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

Instruction in music has always been regarded as an essential and important part of the education of the blind. Shut in, as they are, from enjoying the beauties of nature and most of the fine arts, such as painting, sculpture, engraving, etc., which influence us through the sense of sight, they are especially alive to the harmony and melody of musical sounds, which reach the intellect through the sense of hearing.

Besides the great practical advantages, which music presents to those who have special talent for it, as taught in the Institution, it has a moral and elevating influence upon all who engage in it. Therefore, with but few exceptions, we give all our pupils some general instruction in the rudiments of music, while those who have natural taste and talent for it, are given special training in the higher and more important branches of the art.

Although due importance is always attached to the instruction in music, and its practical value is fully appreciated, care must be exercised that it is not made the principal object in connection with institution work. Because a few pupils with special talents succeed in the art, is no assurance that all, or even a majority, can do so. While we place a high value upon the instruction in music as a factor in our system of education, we should not subordinate the work of the other departments to it, for to do so, would, in the end, only prove disastrous to the school, discouraging to the pupils and defeat the purpose we have in view.

Under the careful and skillful guidance of the principal of the department, Professor R. A. Newland, assisted by Miss H. A. Hanvey and Miss Blanche Donnohue, the results of the year have been very gratifying.

TUNING DEPARTMENT.

An important branch of the musical department is the training of students in the art of tuning and repairing pianos. This is a trade in which blind men can engage with reasonable hope of success, and in which those who have attained efficiency, can earn a fair living.

The instruction in this branch has been conducted by Mr. W. E. Reed, a blind man, whose ability to tune and regulate pianos and cabinet organs is indeed remarkable.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

No means at our disposal have been spared to increase and improve the advantages accorded our pupils in this department, to fit themselves to engage successfully in some useful industrial employment.

It is universally conceded by those who have given the subject close and serious consideration, and who are not governed by mere sentiment, but take a broad and practical view of the manner of caring for the dependent and deficient classes, that no system of educating the blind, that does not include a well-equipped and well-regulated Industrial Department, is complete.

While some of our brightest pupils may succeed in some line of effort, for which they may be prepared in one of the other departments of the school, it is very evident that a majority of them will have to depend upon manual labor, as a means of earning a livelihood. Hence, we have always felt it to be our duty to teach our pupils such trades and other useful employment as will enable them to earn their own living after they leave the Institution.

Substantially the same course of work has been pursued in this department as during the previous year. The instruction has been conducted in two distinct sections, namely, the Work-Room for the Girls and the Work-Shop for the Boys.

THE WORK-ROOM FOR THE GIRLS.

This section has been in charge of Miss Livonia Mason, and has been managed with the same ingenuity and care as heretofore, and with the usual satisfactory results.

The girls are taught sewing, by hand and by machines, knitting, embroidery, crocheting and to make a variety of useful and ornamental articles of beads, thread and worsted. Some were also taught to cane-seat chairs in which they made commendable progress.

As we have stated on former occasions, we believe that the training of young girls in domestic pursuits would be a valuable addition to our industrial education, but our present limited facilities will not admit of our commencing such work now.

The following is a list of articles made in the work-room by the pupils during the past year :

THE WORK-SHOPS FOR THE BOYS.

The work in this branch of industrial training has been conducted during the year with unremitting energy and zeal.

Although we have not been prepared to introduce new trades, even if we knew what to introduce with profit, the shops were, probably, never under better control, nor produced better results than at the present time.

Most of our older boys and some of the smaller ones, have been regularly employed in the shops, from one to three hours a day. They have been carefully and skillfully instructed in the several steps of the trades of broom-making and cane-seating.

Of course, in choosing trades for the blind to learn, competition with seeing people, cost, quantity and kind of materials, and the chances for disposing of manufactured goods, should all be carefully considered. A number of young men who have gone from the Institution, we are glad to know, are making a good living at the broom trade. "Cane-seating," the Principal of another Institution for the Blind, says, "is easily learned and is valuable as an adjunct to any other vocation, whether it be musical or manual."

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Several entertainments were given by the pupils during the last term. The first of these was given in the chapel of the school during the session of the Legislature, for the special benefit of the members of that body, the State officers and other invited friends of the Institution. The second, to which an admission fee was charged, was given in the M. E. Church at Frankfort, Indiana, for the purpose of raising funds for the benefit of that church. The third was given in the Institution at the close of the term. On every occasion the pupils were greeted by a large and appreciative audience.

Such, and other entertainments are productive of good results, in that they not only serve to call the attention of the public to the character of the school and the work of the pupils, but they, also, enable the pupils to become accustomed to appearing before public audiences, and thus avoid errors resulting from extreme timidity and nervousness.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Evidently the most interesting entertainment given in the school during the last year, and one which our senior class had been looking forward to for several years with mingled feelings of pleasure and sadness, was the Commencement, which was held in the chapel of the Institution on Friday afternoon, the 14th day of June last, when a class consisting of thirteen regular students graduated, namely:

Clara B. Smith,	Clarence Roberts,
Mattie T. Sullivan,	Charles F. Hansen,
Nannie A. Downing,	John L. McGiffin,
Mattie A. Johnson,	B. Frank Smith,
Delana A. Butcher,	Charles E. Hill,
James Conroy,	John R. Heim,
Charles E. Meddler.

Another pupil, Charles F. Burkhart, who had received instructions in music, and had learned to tune pianos and the trade of cane-seating, was also given a diploma. Two others, Morton Smithson and Oliver P. Hurley, completed their trades in the handicraft department during the year, and withdrew permanently from the school.

The following is a copy of the programme arranged for the occasion, which was rendered throughout in a manner that was highly creditable to the class, and received many hearty commendations from those present:

Class.

The orations and essays were carefully prepared and reflected credit upon the students who delivered them. In thought, composition and delivery they would have been a credit to any class of high school graduates in the State. The choruses, vocal solos and instrumental numbers were all well rendered. In fact, the entire programme was greatly enjoyed by the large audience present, and emphasized the good work being done by the Institution.

The address of Rev. E. P. Whallon to the graduates was replete with words of assurance, wholesome advice and encouragement to a class of young students, about to assume the duties and responsibilities of life. The remarks of Dr. S. A. Keen in presenting the diplomas to the class were tender, eloquent and impressive.

Altogether, this commencement was one of exceptional interest, and will be long remembered by all who were present.

HEALTH.

I take great pleasure in stating that the general health of the household during the past year has been remarkably good.

Of course, there have been some slight ailments among the pupils, such as one might expect to find at almost any time in a school of this kind; but we have had comparatively little serious sickness, and no epidemic or contagious disease of any kind invaded the institution.

Within two months after the opening of the last school term, and during a period when there were numerous cases of typhoid fever in Indianapolis and other localities in the State, two of our pupils, both girls, were taken down sick with that disease. They were promptly given skillful medical attention and careful nursing, and, in due time, both fully recovered. They had evidently contracted the disease at their homes during the summer vacation, for both were in poor health when they returned to school in September. One of them had come from a home in which there were cases of typhoid fever during the summer and fall.

No deaths occurred in the Institution during the year, but two pupils died outside at their homes. The first was Francis C. Dean, a girl about eighteen years of age, who was enrolled as a pupil in the Institution on the 2d day of November of last year. She had come, as I was informed, from objectionable surroundings, and was in poor health when she entered school. After being here about six weeks she returned to her home, where she took sick and died some time last winter. The other death was that of John Bickel. John was a delicate boy, about eleven years old. He had a severe attack of typhoid fever during the summer vacation, and, when he returned to school last fall, it was evident he had not fully recovered from the effects of the disease, and he improved very slowly during the winter. During the month of April last, while still feeble, he was attacked with erysipelas in the face. The disease involved the left eye, the globe of which had been previously destroyed, and followed the optic nerve to the brain. He was removed to his home in this city by his relatives, where, after suffering severely for some time, he died on the 22d day of last April.

The funeral was attended by the Superintendent, his teacher and several of our subordinate officers.

FINANCES.

The report of the Treasurer herewith submitted, shows that the finances of the Institution are in a satisfactory condition, and that the moneys appropriated for its support have been carefully and judiciously managed.

We have never felt it to be a part of our duty to see how nearly we could come to spending all the moneys appropriated by the Legislature for the support of the Institution, but this, as well as former reports of the Treasurer, will show that we have always exercised thoughtful discretion in the use of the funds at our disposal. While every want of the school, with its present facilities, has been supplied, an abundance of the best and freshest articles of food provided, and the necessary repairs of the buildings and premises carefully considered and made, there still remains a fair portion of the appropriations unexpended.

The financial statement shows that the total amount expended during the fiscal year was $27,502.56—$25,838.45 for maintenance and $1,664.11 for annual repairs—leaving a balance of the appropriations ($30,000) of $2,497.44. By adding to this $248.83, the earnings of the Institution, and $208.51, the amount collected by the Treasurer of State on account of clothing, etc., furnished the pupils, the total amount of the resources of this Institution, covered into the general fund of the State Treasury during the fiscal year just closed, was $2,954.78.

INDIGENT GRADUATES' FUND.

An account of the origin of this fund and the purposes for which it is to be expended, has been given at considerable length several times in former annual reports, and hence, it is not deemed necessary to repeat it in this one.

The following is an exhibit of the condition of the fund at this date :

Cash on hand November 1, 1888, and placed at interest for one year.....	$505 46
Interest on same for one year at 6 per cent., due November 1, 1889.....	30 33
Total amount available.....	<hr/> $535 79
*Amount due the fund from Beckner & Sayce, blind young men, manufacturing brooms at Arlington, Indiana.....	22 15
Value of one set of broom irons on hand.....	8 00
Balance in favor of fund.....	<hr/> $565 94

No demands were made for aid from this fund during the past year.

*NOTE.—The amount due this fund from Beckner & Sayce was money loaned to them, without a note, by my predecessor, Mr. W. B. Wilson, in the summer of 1883, to aid them to complete their outfit of machinery to manufacture brooms. They have acknowledged the indebtedness to me, but they have not been able to cancel it. I think it might as well be transferred to account of profit and loss, and thus avoid repeating it in these annual statements.

REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

During the summer vacation the Institution buildings were all carefully gone over and thoroughly cleaned and the necessary repairs were made. Our aim has always been to protect the property from the ravages of decay, and secure the best possible sanitary condition.

A number of the pupils' dormitories in the main building, the pupils' wash-rooms, several closets and the ceiling of the pupils' dining-room, were kalsomined or whitewashed, and otherwise put in good repair.

The woodwork of the pupils' dining-room and of the pantry adjoining was painted. The ceilings and woodwork of a number of teachers' private rooms were painted with oil and lead paint and the walls re-papered, and for two new ingrain carpets were purchased.

The ceilings and walls of the parlors, of two of the Superintendent's rooms and of the room occupied by the assistant housekeeper, were all newly papered with gilt paper of good quality and handsome pattern. The woodwork of the parlors was varnished, and for one of the Superintendent's rooms a new Body-Brussels carpet was furnished.

The steam boilers were carefully inspected by an expert mechanic, and, although the two large ones have been in use for more than twenty years, they were pronounced safe. They have been very carefully managed. The smallest of the three was repaired and put in good condition. We expected last spring to be able to purchase and have in position, by the close of the fiscal year, a plant of new boilers, but owing to a line of unavoidable circumstances the work could not be done. In order, therefore, to be prepared for any emergency that might arise in consequence of our being compelled to use the old boilers another winter, we purchased, at a reasonable price ($175) and put in place, a second-hand portable boiler of good size, which had been in use but a short time and was in good condition.

The entire system of piping for the use of natural gas under the boilers was removed, and a new one, which is more convenient, and has proved in every way much more satisfactory, not only to us, but to the company furnishing the gas, was adopted. The work was all done by our engineer, Mr. Amos Heltzel, at no expense to the Institution, except for materials. The water and steam pipes were also examined and the necessary repairs made.

The grounds about the buildings and the pavements which surround the premises are always clean and well kept. Much of the beauty and attractiveness of the yards is due to the energy, taste and skill of our gardener, Mr. George Graham.

THE NEW BUILDING.

During the last session of the General Assembly the Superintendent repeatedly and persistently urged the members of the committees on Benevolent and Scientific Institutions of both Houses, to visit this Institution, and determine for themselves, whether or not the Legislature ought to make additional provision for the accommodation of this school. Finally, the committee of the House of Representatives, headed by its worthy Chairman, Hon. Jacob L. White, now deceased, visited the Institution, and after making a pretty thorough inspection of the buildings and surroundings, and noting the necessity for better facilities for the proper management of the school, returned to the House and unanimously recommended the passage of a bill, appropriating forty-five thousand dollars for the especial benefit of this Institution.

To the credit of the members of the Legislature, and as an exhibition of their wisdom and generosity, the bill, in due time, passed both Houses without a dissenting vote. By it the following sums are appropriated for the purposes mentioned, to-wit: For additions and extensions to the east and west wings of the main building and furnishing the same, thirty thousand dollars: for a kitchen and pupils' dining-room, six thousand dollars; for repairing the main building, re-arranging school rooms and fitting up a library of embossed books for the blind, four thousand dollars: for three steam boilers and other heating apparatus, five thousand dollars.

After the passage of the bill, it was hoped that work on the contemplated improvements would be commenced early in the summer: but owing to the fact that the Governor refused to commission the Trustees elected by the Legislature on the 5th of March last, to take charge of the Institution, until the question as to the right of that body to elect such Trustees was definitely settled by the Supreme Court, the work was not begun until the latter part of July. The weather has been propitious and the work on the improvements has progressed rapidly, but it is very evident now that the new building can not be completed in time to be occupied during the current school term.

The general plan of the building was sketched by the Superintendent, but it was completed in details and the specifications were prepared by Messrs. Adolph Sherrer and W. Scott Moore, architects, of this city.

This new building, when completed, will greatly increase the facilities of the Institution, and supply wants long felt. It will give us a better dining room for pupils, better kitchen arrangements, better school rooms, better hospitals and more dormitories. It will enable us to better arrange and better conduct the several departments of the school; it will enable us also to introduce new work and make such additions and improvements to our whole system of educating the blind, as experience and close observation would dictate, and thus place this Institution in the front rank with the best schools of its kind in this country.

PRESENT SESSION.

The current session of the school was commenced under favorable auspices, on Wednesday morning, September 11th.

A fair percentage of the pupils who were in attendance last year and some new ones were present on the first day; several of each have since been received. The total number enrolled to date is 110; of these 56 are boys and 54 girls. Owing to the fact that a large class of pupils graduated last June, and a number of others permanently withdrew from the Institution, for various causes during the year, it is not expected that the enrollment will be as large this term as it was last year. It is not likely that the number of new pupils we shall receive this term, will equal the number of old ones who withdrew last year.

During the summer the building was thoroughly cleaned and the apartments throughout were put in perfect order.

The health of the pupils is good, and in every department of the school satisfactory progress is being made; in fact, everything gives promise of a successful school year.

CONCLUSION.

In closing this report, which has already been extended to the full length of such documents, I am impelled to say that the period covered by it has been one full of interesting incidents to us; one of unusual anxiety and care; one full of earnest efforts for the success of the school, and one in which commendable progress has been made and good results have been achieved.

I have endeavored to discharge faithfully and conscientiously the duties of the trust committed to me; to keep in view the objects of the Institution, to study its needs and in every way possible advance it to a higher state of efficiency. As to our success or failure in this, we leave it to others to judge.

Sincerely thanking you, gentlemen, for the interest you have always manifested in this work, and for your generous coöperation, this report is

Respectfully submitted,

GENERAL INFORMATION.

The Indiana Institute for the Education of the Blind is located at Indianapolis, the capital of the State, occupying a beautiful and healthful site in the northern part of the city.

It is strictly an educational establishment, a branch of the noble public educational system of Indiana, and has for its object the moral, intellectual and physical development and training of the blind children of suitable school age, of both sexes, residing in the State.

Pupils from this State are admitted to the privileges of the Institution free of charge. They are provided with tuition, boarding, washing, medical attendance and everything necessary, except clothing and traveling expenses.

The school term commences each year on the second Wednesday of September, and continues forty weeks. It is highly important that pupils should be present at the opening of the term, and remain, if possible, to the close.

All pupils are required to come provided with an adequate supply of good, comfortable clothing, embracing suitable articles for both summer and winter wear, in such quantities as to admit of the necessary changes for washing and repairing.

Each article of clothing should be distinctly marked with the owner's name, in order to prevent confusion or loss, and must be sent in good condition, not only upon the first entrance of the pupil, but also at each subsequent return from home after the vacation.

It is positively required that every pupil shall be removed from the Institution at the close of the term each year, as well as at any other time when such removal may be deemed necessary by the proper officers; and, in case of the failure of the friends of any pupil to comply with this requisition, provision is made by the law for the sending of such pupil to the Trustee of the township in which he or she resides, to be by him provided for at the expense of the county.

As a rule, applicants who are under nine or over twenty-one years of age are not admitted; but exceptions are sometimes made in favor of those who are over age, at the discretion of the Board of Trustees. The term of instruction is not limited to any definite number of years, but is determined by the attainments of the pupil and his fitness to graduate.

No person of imbecile or unsound mind, or of confirmed immoral habits, will be knowingly received into the Institute; and in case any pupil shall, after a fair trial, prove incompetent to receive useful instruction, or disobedient to the regulations of the Institute, such pupils will be thereupon dismissed.

By a recent action of the Board of Trustees, the use of tobacco in every form, in or about the building, is prohibited. Parents should be especially careful to prevent their boys from forming the habit of using it while at home during vacations. Its injurious influence on all who begin to use it in childhood is not questioned, but it is especially harmful to the blind; therefore, one can not do them a greater kindness than to guard them against its use.

Letters are written once a month, or oftener, if necessary, for those who can not write for themselves. If a pupil is taken seriously sick, the friends are immediately notified of the fact.

All letters and packages sent to the pupils should have, besides the name of the pupil addressed, these words: "Institute for the Blind, Indianapolis, Ind.," to insure prompt delivery.

The Institute is open to visitors on every day, except Sundays, between the hours at 10 A. M. and 3 P. M.

Persons bringing pupils to the Institute, or visiting them while here, can not be accommodated with boarding and lodging during their stay in the city.

Persons desiring to procure the admission of a pupil should apply, by letter or otherwise, to the Superintendent of the Institution for instructions as to the manner of procedure, and no pupil should be sent to the Institution until such instructions shall have been received and fully complied with.

Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home

Report of the Board of Trustees.

OCTOBER 31, 1889.

To His Excellency,

ALVIN P. HOVEY,

Governor of Indiana:

The Board of Trustees of the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home have the honor to present to you their Eleventh Annual Report. The Board has been in session once and, several times, twice in each month during the entire year. At each meeting every department of the Institution has been visited by some member of the Board of Trustees and very frequently by the entire Board. By this means we have been enabled to learn and know, by personal observation, the operation and method of conducting the schools, the development and progress of our wards in the several industrial departments, the quantity and quality of the children's fare and clothing, the sanitary condition of all the buildings and especially of the dormitories, and as a result of such inspection and oversight we feel that we are warranted in asserting that in all the above particulars the standard for excellence has been brought nearer to perfection or a model Home than in any previous year of its history, and with the close of the present fiscal year we feel confident that every Indiana soldier, and every Union soldier may point with feelings of pride and look with emotions of joy upon the comfortable and beautiful "Home" now provided by our "grand old State" for the orphans of such of our comrades as are no longer able to throw around their children the protecting arms and fostering care of a father.

We take pleasure in reporting to you that between the Trustees, Superintendent, Matron, financial officer, teachers, the governess, heads of various departments, employes and inmates, there is entire and perfect harmony and good will—this without a single known exception.

The general health of the children during the past year has been very good, although three cases of mortality occurred during the year, the causes of which will be found fully set out in the Superintendent's and surgeon's report to us, which reports are hereto attached.

During the year the grounds have been underdrained, a large amount of necessary grading done, walks and drives constructed, four hundred forest and shade trees planted, a large dairy barn and a store house built, fencing built and repaired, the fire protection system extended, the grounds about the main building and school house tastefully laid off and planted in flowers. This work is not completed, owing to the fact that buildings on the grounds are yet unfinished, but the Trustees trust in the early spring the same will be accomplished.

The last General Assembly made appropriations for building a hospital, dining-room and kitchen, and six cottages. To carry out the provisions of the law the Trustees employed John A. Hasecoster, an architect, of Richmond, Indiana, to prepare and submit to them suitable designs for such buildings. The Trustees, with the advice, assistance and concurrence of the Board of Visitors of the Grand Army of the Republic, adopted such plans as, in their judgement, were best adapted to the wants of the Institution, and could be erected within the appropriations made for such purposes. Contracts were let according to law for the following buildings, viz :

Hospital, at $9,750, to be completed on or before December 1, 1889. This building will be finished within the time prescribed, and considering the number of inmates in the Institution, the liability we are under at all times to epidemic and contagious disease, it will be completed none too soon.

Dining-room and kitchen, $10,000, to be completed January 1, 1890.

Four cottages, $13,849; two to be completed on or before January 15, 1890; the remaining two on or before April 1, 1890. These cottages are built as two double cottages, one wall thus being saved in the erection of two cottages, and the separation of the divisions in the cottages being as complete as if the cottages were built singly.

In the judgment of the Trustees and G. A. R. Board of Visitors, it was deemed best to build the walls of the dining room and kitchen building two stories to the end, that sleeping apartments for the employes might be provided in the second story of the building. The appropriation not being sufficient to complete the entire building, we contracted only for the completion of the first floor, and it will require a small appropriation in the future to finish the second story. The dining room when completed, will have a capacity to accommodate eight hundred children.

Each of the new cottages will accommodate forty children, thus adding to the present capacity of the Home accommodations for 160 children.

For the details of the year's work in the schools, the farm work and the industrial department, you are respectfully referred to the accompanying reports herewith submitted for your consideration.

We can not close this report without tendering our thanks to the Board of Visitors and many members of the Woman's Relief Corps of the State, for the many acts of kindness to the soldiers' orphans manifested during the past year, also to the Board of Visitors of the Grand Army, who have rendered us valuable advice and counsel, and at all times shown a zealous interest and watchful care of the prosperity and well-doing of everything connected with the Soldiers' Orphans' Home.

Respectfully submitted,

BEN. L. SMITH, PRESIDENT,
SARAH E. PITTMAN, SECRETARY,
HARRY WATTS, TREASURER.

Board of Trustees.

REPORT OF HARRY WATTS, SUPERINTENDENT OF CONSTRUCTION.

To the Board of Trustees:

In the month of May the improvements of the grounds were begun, by a thorough system of underdrainage, with catch-basins for surface water to prevent washings.

A large number of native shade trees were planted around, and on the boys play-ground a row was planted alongside of the road from the north to the south line of the grounds, also in other parts of the grounds, nearly all of which are doing well.

An embankment was made across the ravine from the front of the school building to the boys' play-ground, which contained about twelve hundred yards of dirt and made an excellent drive from the hitching ground to the barn.

The grounds in front of the main and school building were all graded, the lawns were sodded, the hitching-ground was graveled, new iron-rail hitching racks were put up, stone steps were put in from the school building to the spring, the gutters were paved and the flower-beds made.

In the month of June the grading was continued, and the back court of the main building was paved with lime stone flagging. Walks were made and flagging put down at the east and north doors. A set of stone steps were put down at the west end of the boiler-house leading to the green house. The west end of the old wash-house was torn down; the east end renovated and newly roofed and made into two rooms, one for commissary stores, the other for a dairy and refrigerator.

The boys' water-closet in the main building was overhauled and a slate floor and slate urinals were put in. The bath rooms above and below were changed from vats to private baths.

All the steam-pipes under the main building were covered with asbestos covering.

The new hospital building contract was awarded to the lowest bidder; the building is in the form of a cross; it is two stories high; has stone foundation and slate roof; the walls are of brick, it contains eleven rooms, and an attic and cellar, is warmed by steam and natural gas, and is well supplied with hot and cold water. A large rain-water cistern has been put in, also a good sewer, which gives good drainage for the building and grounds. A four-inch water main has been taken over to supply the building, and two hydrants put in for fire purposes. The grounds around the building have been properly graded, and the drives and walks graveled.

In the month of July, finding the water supply inadequate to the demand, a large cistern, twenty four (24) feet by thirty-two (32) feet and ten (10) feet deep, was dug out west and below the spring to hold a good supply of water to be drawn from. Fortunately in digging this cistern a very large spring of pure water was found gushing up from the bottom, which will be ample to supply the entire buildings and grounds for all purposes. The cistern was walled with an eighteen inch wall of good hard brick and cement mortar, and plastered inside with a heavy coat of Portland cement. A neat building was erected over it, and the sides covered with a wire lattice to prevent leaves and trash from getting in, thus insuring a plentiful supply of pure water, a never-failing supply. The pumps force it into all the water mains in the grounds and through the buildings, also a constant stream of it is running into the lake north of the main building.

A new cow barn was also built thirty-six (36) by one hundred and eight (108) feet long, with brick foundation and slate roof, and plenty room for fifty (50) cows and for one hundred (100) tons of food; also a wagon and implement shed twenty (20) by forty-eight (48) feet. The south end of the old barn was remodeled for horses. About three hundred rods of wire and slat fence was made on the south side of the farm, and other old fences remodeled.

In the month of August the new dining room and kitchen were placed under contract together with four cottages.

The buildings are all to be built of brick, two stories high, with stone foundation and slate roofs.

The levee between main building and hospital was filled up two feet higher and widened out six feet, making a substantial dam for the lake above and a good roadway.

The stone wall at the spring was rebuilt and made stronger and higher. The hill above it was graded down. The old pond, which had become a nuisance, was filled up. New stone steps were made from the spring to the main road; also from the spring to the boys' play-ground.

In September and October a sewer of (12) twelve-inch pipe was laid from the main sewer, near the boiler-house, up to the new dining room and the rear of cottages, about four hundred feet long and ten feet deep. Inlets were made at several places for surface drainage.

An addition of twenty-four by twenty-eight feet was built to the present boiler-house, and a new boiler of one hundred horse power was placed therein, which is nearly ready for use. The other boilers were inadequate for cold weather, and the extra steam needed for the new buildings.

A good many other little pieces of work have been done for the improvement of the grounds and the welfare of the inmates not enumerated above.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRY WATTS,

Superintendent of Construction.

LAWS GOVERNING THE HOME AND ITS OFFICERS.

SEC. 9. The Trustees and (under regulations and a form of application which they shall prescribe) the Superintendent are authorized and required to receive, as pupils of the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, orphans and children residing in this State, under the age of sixteen years, who may be destitute of the means of support and education, in the following order :

First. Orphans, children of deceased Union soldiers or sailors in the army or navy of the United States in the late civil war, said orphans not having mothers living. If there be not applications for the admission of persons of this class sufficient to fill said Home, then there shall be in like manner admitted:

Second. Orphans, children of such deceased soldiers or sailors, said orphans having mothers living. If there be not applications for admission of persons of said two classes sufficient to fill said Home, then, in like manner, there shall be admitted:

Third. Children of permanently disabled or indigent soldiers or sailors of said service, residing in this State, or in national military homes, having been admitted thereto from this State.

All children admitted to said Home, as pupils thereof, shall be supported and educated therein until they shall be sixteen years of age, unless for good cause sooner discharged. Any of said pupils, who, by reason of physical disability or other cause, may be, in the judgment of said Board, unable to earn a livelihood, shall be retained as pupils of said Home until they shall be eighteen years of age.

SEC. 10. Each county of this State shall be entitled to have in said Home a number of pupils proportionate to the number of soldiers furnished by it to the Union service in said war, which proportionate number shall be fixed by said Board according to the capacity of said Home. Applicants from a county already having its full quota in said Home shall be admitted, if the Home be not filled at the time of making application; but in the admission of applicants, when all applying can not be accommodated, preference shall be given to those from counties not then having in the Home as many pupils in proportion to their quotas, as fixed by said Board, as other counties from which applications may be pending shall then have therein.

SEC. 15. The pupils of said Home shall be so taught and treated as to promote their physical, intellectual and moral improvement, and shall be trained in habits of industry, studiousness and morality. The Trustees and, under their direction, the Superintendent shall afford to the pupils of said Home such literary, technical, industrial, art and military education as can be provided. For the literary education of said pupils, said officers shall establish and conduct at said Home a school, which shall be divided into three departments: a primary department, an intermediate department and a high school, which several departments shall be properly graded. The Superintendent shall prescribe proper courses of study for said departments and grades, not inferior in any respect to the courses of study in like departments and grades of the common schools of this State. He shall cause to be provided the proper books for use in said school, and shall employ the necessary teachers. No person shall be employed or permitted to teach in any department of said school except such as shall be qualified therefor and licensed according to law to teach in the common schools of the State.

SEC. 16. The Trustees and, under their direction, the Superintendent shall establish and maintain, within the grounds of said Home, a shop or shops wherein suitable trades and arts shall be taught and practiced in a thorough and comprehensive manner. The Superintendent shall, subject to the approval of said Board, employ properly qualified foremen, instructors and instructresses to teach such trades and arts to the pupils of said Home, and shall cause to be provided machinery, tools, materials and books necessary to carry out the purpose of this section, and shall cause the productions of the pupils to be disposed of by the Steward to the best advantage of the Home. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the State Treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of twenty thousand dollars, to be drawn by the Treasurer of said Board, and expended in the erection of such shop or shops, and in the purchase and preparation, for and during the next two years, of said machinery, tools, materials and books.

SEC. 17. The pupils of said Home shall have the right to select for themselves such trade, art or occupation taught therein as they, being qualified therefor, may wish to learn; but every pupil, male or female, remaining in said Home after completing the thirteenth year of his or her age, except in case of disability or ill-health, shall be required to devote of his or her remaining time in said Institution some portion, to be prescribed by the Superintendent, in learning some useful trade, art or occupation therein taught.

SEC. 22. For any child voluntarily placed in said Institution by the relative or other persons authorized to do so, said Trustees may secure a home in a private family residing in this State, when, in the judgment of said Trustees, the best interests of said child will be subserved thereby; for which purpose they may indenture such child during minority by articles in duplicate, to be executed by said Board and the person to whom such child shall be so intrusted, whereby provision shall be made for the physical, intellectual and moral welfare of such child, and it shall be stipulated what education such child shall receive, what trade or occupation he or she shall be taught, and what compensation for services shall be made to such child during such apprenticeship and at the end thereof. Said articles shall also provide for the making of reports to said Trustees, at such periods as they may deem proper, by the person to whom the child shall be intrusted, concerning the condition and welfare of the child. And the Trustees, in said articles, shall reserve the right to replace such child in said Home, if they shall deem this to be for the best interests of the child; and they may, in their discretion, exercise the right so reserved. The Trustees, in their corporate name, may sue at any time upon said articles, and may recover damages for any violation of the provisions thereof, and the damages so recovered shall be for the use and benefit of such child.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE HOME.

1. All employes are under the supervision of the Superintendent, and must give implicit obedience to his orders. It is made his duty to discharge any employe who shall use profane or vulgar language, or who is addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors.

2. The Superintendent is responsible for the proper use, care and disposition of property belonging to the Home, and for the due administration of its affairs; but the hearty co-operation of all officers and employes is expected, and a ready and cheerful compliance with all orders and regulations is required.

3. In the absence of the Superintendent the Matron is to be consulted, and her wishes faithfully carried out. She is to exercise to the fullest extent the authority with which she is invested on such occasions. At all other times she is to have the supervision of general work, and must report in writing any irregularity that may occur, or any neglect of duty on the part of any employe under her charge. Willful violation of rules will subject the offenders to forfeiture of positions.

4. In cases of urgency, absence from duty will be granted by the Superintendent, or, in his absence, by the Matron.

5. In all cases of sickness, or death of relatives or friends, reasonable leave of absence will be granted.

6. When employes are unable to perform their duties in consequence of protracted sickness their wages will be paid until the end of the month, but discontinued thereafter.

7. All persons residing at the Institution are expected to be in their rooms by 10 o'clock P. M., at which hour the building ordinarily will be closed.

8. Ladies may receive gentlemen in the public parlor, which will be open to public use, until 10 P. M. When the ladies themselves are apprised of the coming of the gentlemen, the Superintendent must also be informed and his consent obtained.

9. Lights in private rooms, dormitories and division rooms must be extinguished at 10 o'clock P. M., except by special permission of the Superintendent.

10. Entertainments for amusement and social culture will be provided for the children as often as twice a month, to which all persons employed in the Home are entitled and invited to attend.

11. Friendly relations should be cultivated among all connected with the Institution.

12. Any fact prejudicial to the moral character or standing of any officer or employe coming to the knowledge of another should be forthwith communicated to the Superintendent, but espionage, tattling and tale-bearing are forbidden.

13. Governesses, teachers and heads of departments, though subject to the supervision of the Superintendent, will be held accountable for the efficient and faithful performance of the duties that respectively devolve upon them. They must maintain proper order and discipline among the pupils under their care, and their assistants are subject to their direction.

14. No case of discipline must be referred to the Superintendent unless beyond the control of the governess. Corporal punishment may be administered when other remedies have failed, but excessive punishment is not to be inflicted at any time.

15. It shall be the duty of every officer and employe to report to the governess of the child any misdemeanor or irregularity of conduct coming to their knowledge, and such information must be given and received in a spirit of kindness and with a view to the best interests of the Institution.

16. Under no circumstances will an employe be allowed to apply to the children any language or epithet calculated to irritate, humiliate or degrade them. No rough expressions or slang phrases must be employed, but on the other hand a correct and discreet use of language in the presence of children must be observed.

17. Governesses, teachers and others having charge of the children must give attention to their hygienic training, such as the manner of sitting, standing, walking, manner and time of studying, etc.

18. The children should not be addressed by their last name alone, or by any nick-name or false names. Correct use of words and language should always be encouraged.

19. The head of each industrial department shall see that the industry conducted by him is taught and practiced in a thorough and comprehensive manner, so that each pupil shall obtain, as far as possible, a practical knowledge of the same in all its parts. He shall be at his post of duty at the beginning of business hours, preserve proper order among his pupils, and secure close and constant application to the work in which they are engaged. If a pupil fails to report for duty at the proper time, the Superintendent must be notified at once.

20. Whenever it is possible, the governess must accompany the children to the play-ground, give direction to their sports, regulate their conduct, and exercise such provision as will prevent accidents and misdemeanors of any kind.

21. Governesses shall give special attention to the condition of the children's clothing, and see that it is kept clean and in repair. On Sunday and holidays the children shall wear their best suits.

22. Governesses will accompany their children to all chapel exercises when attending services, and to the door of the school-room when attending school. The teachers will accompany the children from the school-room and deliver them to the governess at the door of the division room.

23. A general attendance of all the employes of the Home upon the regular Sunday services is required as an encouragement to the children and a mark of respect to the visiting ministers.

24. Under the direction of the Superintendent, the Steward shall purchase all articles for use or consumption at the Home, when and where they can best and most cheaply be procured, and shall sell and dispose of the surplus productions of the Home to the best advantage of the Institution. In proper books and pay-roll, to be prescribed by the Board, he shall keep the time and accounts of all employes of the Home, and accounts of all sales and purchases for or on account of the Home.

25. Every three months the Steward shall make a careful invoice of all the property belonging to the Home, and the invoice so made shall be preserved by him in his office. Such articles as can not be satisfactorily accounted for from time to time, by the heads of the various departments, shall be charged up to the proper parties.

26. Due courtesy and attention must be extended on the part of officers and employes to persons visiting the Institution. Visitors are not allowed to go through the building without an attendant.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Trustees :

In compliance with the requirements of the law, I take pleasure in submitting to you the Eleventh Annual Report of the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home.

The statute wisely provides that "The Superintendent shall make a report every month to the Board of the condition of the Home, and all changes therein, including such particulars as may from time to time be required by said Board. He shall also make an annual report on the 31st day of October, to the Board of Trustees, in which he shall show the condition of the Home, and the changes therein during the preceding year; and he shall incorporate therein the annual reports, so required by him, from other officers and employes, and shall make such suggestions and recommendations as to him may seem proper."

Having made you these monthly reports, and having submitted to you at the same time the reports made to me each month by the physician, the Matron, and each of the foremen, instructors and instructresses of the industrial departments, as required by law, it will not be possible for me to impart to you much additional information, since you have been kept thoroughly advised as to the workings of the Institution and the condition of the Home. Indeed, so far as you are individually concerned, I might be spared the time and labor required to prepare this report. It is to be borne in mind, however, that this annual statement of the management and operations of the Home, together with the expenditures of the appropriations made by the Legislature, is to be submitted not only to the Governor, but also is to be published in pamphlet form for the purpose of furnishing the public, as far as possible, with information relative to the Home, and the care that it extends, and the education and industrial training that it affords the orphans and children of deceased or disabled comrades. It is with pleasure that we thus set forth in detail the workings of the Institution, confidently believing that its friends will approve of its management and rejoice in the high degree of prosperity that has been reached. Such plans, you are aware, were adopted from time to time, as the best interests of the children seemed to demand. Your hearty approval of these measures, and your many wise suggestions and your excellent counsel, have contributed largely to the gratifying results that I now have the pleasure and privilege of placing before you in this annual report.

ORIGIN OF THE HOME—ITS LOCATION.

Soon after the close of the war it became apparent that some provision must be made for the permanent care of disabled soldiers, not only as an act of humanity, but as a debt due to long and faithful service. Oliver P. Morton, then Governor of the State, recommended that a Board of Directors should be appointed and incorporated, and that it should select an eligible place for an asylum and rely for its means of operation on popular contribution. Such a committee was at once organized, and it secured the use of the City Hospital building, in Indianapolis, until a suitable place could be selected for a permanent home. Early in 1866, for the sum of $8,500, the property known as the "Knightstown Springs," a healthy and beautiful site, possessing the advantage of a medicinal spring of some celebrity, was purchased, and on the 26th of April the asylum, as then termed, was established in this new location. The locality selected comprised a farm of fifty-four acres of ground, on which was situated a large frame building that had been used as a hotel, and several other small buildings that had been utilized for hospital purposes. The asylum thus established in 1866, after passing through many changes, is the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home of to-day.

The voluntary contributions soon proved to be inadequate to the proper care and support of these indigent and disabled soldiers, and the property was purchased by the State and was placed under the control and management of officers selected by the Legislature. On the 1st of March, 1867, the "Home for Disabled Soldiers" was made one of the benevolent institutions of the State for the maintenance, not only of sick and disabled Indiana soldiers and seamen, but also of their orphans and widows. The formal opening took place June 15, 1867. In a very short time the number of admissions to the Home increased so rapidly that steps were taken looking to the erection of a new and more suitable building. A purchase was made of five acres of ground on the east side of the pike, and in March, 1869, ground was broken for the new building, which in due time was completed at a cost of $56,360. It was deemed expedient to transfer the old soldiers to the new structure and allow the children the entire use of the hotel.

This arrangement proved satisfactory until the next year, 1870, when the hotel accommodations were insufficient for the children, and they were placed in the new building, and the old soldiers were retransferred to the old hotel. On Christmas night, 1871, this old hotel was destroyed by fire, and soon thereafter all the old soldiers were admitted to the military home, Dayton, Ohio. The orphans were thus left in full possession of the Institution. In 1879 it was thought advisable to establish in connection with the Home an asylum for feeble-minded children. This arrangement was not satisfactory, and occasioned much unpleasant feeling and unfavorable comment throughout the State, so that the Legislature of 1887 separated the two Institutions, again leaving the soldiers' orphans in the full possession of the Home. Since this separation took place the growth of the Home in all departments has been remarkable and gratifying, and the wisdom of the Legislature in enacting the measure becomes more and more apparent. It is to be hoped that the usefulness of the Home will never again be obstructed by attempting to distribute its benefits to another and different class of children.

THE PURPOSE OF THE INSTITUTION.

This Institution aims to accomplish a three-fold work: first, to support the destitute orphans and children of soldiers; second, to afford them such literary advantages as will enable them to obtain a fair education; third, to teach them, after they reach the age of thirteen years, some trade or industry, by means of which they may be self-supporting when they leave the institution. The benefits of the Home extend only to such children residing in the State, as are destitute of the means of support and education. There is no distinction made between children of soldiers who served in Indiana regiments and the children of soldiers who served in regiments raised in other States. It is only necessary that such children shall be residents of the State at the time application is made for their admission. The provisions of the law now are such that children can be admitted whose parents are both living. These, although not orphans, may be equally as destitute as children who are entire orphans, since the father may be an inmate of some military home and the mother an inmate of a county asylum; or the parents may have separated and abandoned the children. Under these circumstances, or on account of surroundings equally distressing, such children are promptly admitted.

Another class for which provision is made embraces such children as have a father living, the mother deceased. To provide the means of support and education and at the same time give proper care and attention to his child is invariable found, on the part of the father, to be an utter impossibility. The law wisely allows him the privilege of placing his child in the Home, although it is not a soldiers' orphan but a soldier's child. Should the father be dead and the mother living the necessity is often equally as great. Such children, however, constitute the second class.

"Orphans, children of deceased soldiers, said orphans not having mothers living," are recognized by the law as having claims upon the Institution paramount to all others, and the applications of such are always considered first. These statements may serve to explain how it is possible that some soldiers' children who are not soldiers' orphans are in the Soldiers' Orphans' Home.

Another matter not well understood needs, perhaps, a word of explanation. It is generally supposed that if a child, admitted to the Home, is drawing a pension, that such pension must be applied toward the support of the child. Such is not the case. The purpose of the Home is not to exhaust the little fund of pension money the child may possess, but rather, by providing for it the means of support, to allow its pension to accumulate, so that it may not be penniless when it shall reach the age of sixteen years and be compelled by law to leave the Institution.

Is it necessary now to have a Home for Soldiers' Orphans?

It is readily acknowledged that a necessity exists for commodious hospitals for the insane, schools for the feeble-minded children and asylums for the blind and for the deaf and dumb, since these unfortunate classes seem to be increasing rather than diminishing, but with many honest and intelligent persons it is not so clear that twenty-five years after the war is over a necessity exists for the perpetuity of a Home for Soldiers' Orphans because of their young and tender years. The idea is entertained that that class of children should now be full-grown men and women, and should be self-supporting, instead of being helpless and dependent wards of the State. This wrong conclusion is reached because of the erroneous impression that these children are the orphans of soldiers that lost their lives during the war. Such is by no means the case. These children were not born during the war, but long since, and have become orphans by the death of their fathers, who were soldiers, and the children thus left fatherless are the soldiers' orphans that are being cared for as the wards of the State.

Statistics show that Indiana furnished 208,000 men for the suppression of the rebellion. Descriptive lists of 118,000 out of this number have been preserved. It is a startling fact, but nevertheless true, that 96,000 out of this 118,000 were young men in the twenties and under. If descriptive lists of all the soldiers from our State had been kept, it is fair to conclude, from the above facts, that out of her 208,000 at least 180,000 were young men, many of them not having any family at all for, perhaps, several years after the war was over. Death is now claiming these soldiers who, as boys, contracted diseases in the army that older and more mature men would have escaped, and their children, from one to sixteen years of age, are being placed in the Home for their care and protection.

It is also true, on the other hand, that death has deprived many of the soldiers of their wives, and, in many instances, a second marriage has taken place, resulting in another and second family of children. In case of the death of the father it is possible, under these circumstances, that very young children may be left as soldiers' orphans. Indeed, many children in the Home to-day belong to this class. Carefully prepared tables, found elsewhere, show the ages of all the children in the Home, and it will be seen that many of them are quite young and will require attention and care for some years to come. It is evident, therefore, that the Home is a necessity, not only at the present time, but also that it will be a necessity for an indefinite number of years, especially if the State continues to fulfill the promise made to her soldiers at the time of their enlistment, that the soldier's child should in nowise be neglected.

CONDITION OF HOME. •

It is gratifying to be able to report that during the year just closed the Institution has enjoyed great prosperity. At no time in its history has it been in such a satisfactory and progressive condition as at the present. An earnest and conscientious effort has been made on the part of officers and employes to develop every interest, to improve every department and to reach the highest degree of success possible. The immediate wants, as well as the future possibilities of the children, have received our most thoughtful consideration, and the good health they have enjoyed, the progress made in school and in the industrial departments, their cleanly appearance and their happy surroundings, may be taken as evidences that the usefulness of the Home is being enlarged, and that the wards of the State are in no wise neglected. Great care has been exercised in selecting employes, only such being appointed as gave promise of ability to do the work assigned, and only such being retained as proved themselves efficient and worthy. Permanency of position in this Institution does not depend upon favoritism, but on efficiency. There must be faithful work or forfeiture of place. The interests of the children are of too great consequence to indulge long in experiments. The useful are always appreciated, and to this faithful and patient class of helpers much credit is due for the success of the past year. The building throughout has been kept clean and in excellent order. The dormitories have been well ventilated, the beds are clean and comfortable and well provided with suitable covering. Beautiful ash bedsteads are used instead of the iron bedstead found in so many institutions. An abundance of good, wholesome food has at all times been supplied. It has been well prepared and varied to the greatest degree possible consistent with the good health of the children. On all holidays extra meals are served and all delicacies of the season are provided. At all times the tables are covered with white cloths and set with nice white ware and silver knives, forks and spoons. Each table is also furnished with an elegant silver caster, presented to the Home two years ago by the Woman's Relief Corps organizations throughout the State. The four family rooms occupied by the girls have been nicely papered and recarpeted. The five family rooms of the boys have been nicely painted and new matting purchased. The main halls have also been painted and present an appearance pleasing to the eye. These and other changes that have taken place have been made with a view not only to adding to the beauty of the Home, but also to the happiness and enjoyment of the children.

CHILDREN ENROLLED DURING THE YEAR.

It will appear from the table found in this report that our enrollment during the year reached the number of five hundred and eleven. Four hundred and forty-eight pupils are in the Home at the present time. With a desire to accommodate the greatest number possible, we continued to receive applicants until the first of October, when our crowded condition compelled us to refuse further admission. The cottages now in process of erection will enable us soon to receive such as have applications on file that have been approved by the Board.

CARE OF THE CHILDREN.

There has been no change since my last report in the general plan of caring for the children. Ladies are placed in charge of the families or divisions, and are required to give considerate attention to the wants and needs of the children in every particular. Some of the divisions are quite large, and the duties connected therewith are responsible and onerous. These duties have been faithfully performed on the part of the governesses, and for the efficient service rendered, they are entitled to worthy mention and grateful thanks.

With the view of making the divisions more home-like, if possible, the babies that were formerly congregated in one family have been distributed among all the divisions. Great pleasure is afforded the larger pupils by the presence and company of these little ones, and the happiness of the entire division is greatly increased. Their innocent little pranks occasion many outbursts of laughter and enliven many moments that otherwise might be filled with sad thoughts of home and loved ones.

RECREATIONS.

While the school work, the trades, the music lessons and the duties assigned the children keep them busy, yet certain hours are allowed for recreation and play. Full liberty is granted them to indulge in all the various games of base ball, foot ball, marbles, spinning tops, flying kites, and others that their genius may invent. They are always allowed the full benefit of all national holidays, all business being suspended and the usual routine of institution life being set aside on these occasions. They attend the services or exercises held at such times and take such part as it is possible for them to perform. The privilege is frequently granted them to attend church in Knightstown, and arrangements are always made for as many of them as possible to be present at all soldiers' re-unions, camp-fires, and entertainments given by the W. R. C. They are thus permitted to see much and enjoy much, notwithstanding the rules and regulations to which they must necessarily be subject in a public institution. Last winter they had their socials every two weeks, and several times were given permission to make taffy. The large amusement hall was used for roller skating, and great enjoyment was afforded them in this direction.

The past year furnished two unusual events that will long be cherished with pleasure by our children. The first was the Encampment of the Department of Indiana, G. A. R., held at Indianapolis in March, and the other was the laying of the corner stone of the Soldiers' Monument in the same city on the 22nd of August. About one hundred of our children attended the latter, and about thirty the former. The encampment kindly paid the expenses to the first, and the officers of the Pan-Handle Railroad magnanimously granted free transportation to the second. The children greatly appreciated the kindness shown them, and will ever remember these remarkable and pleasant visits.

HEALTH.

It is with profound thankfulness I report that the health of the children during the year has been most excellent. It would be remarkable if among so many we did not have some sickness, especially since many children inherit weak constitutions, and when received at the Home are physically frail. It is a matter of great surprise and gratitude, however, that out of our large household of over 500 children during the past year but three cases of sickness proved fatal. On November 3, 1888, Jesse Cleveland Seeley deceased. An attack of measles settled on his lungs, and caused his death some eight months afterward. Another death was that of Marcus Garfield Persinger, which occurred January 19th, after a short illness. On September 12th Fritz Kuhn was taken sick, and died on the 14th, only two days after the attack. His trouble was inflammation of the pericardium of the heart.

All these cases received skillful medical treatment by the physician of the Home, Dr. O. E. Holloway, and careful attention and nursing was also given by the hospital matron, Mrs. Evans. But loving care and faithful attention proved in vain.

You are referred to the report of the physician found elsewhere for further information.

THE DISCIPLINE.

The "rules and regulations of the Home" found elsewhere will furnish a correct idea of the general management and discipline of the Institution. The largest liberty is granted the child consistent with good order and the welfare of the other children. Only such restrictions are thrown around them as the necessities of the case require. Good advice, good examples and good influences are regarded as essential to the proper development and moral growth of the child, and these means are employed in preference to all others. Any misconduct receives careful consideration, and correction is made as the merits of the case seem to demand. Excessive punishment is not allowed on the part of the governesses or teachers and all offences of a serious character are referred to the Superintendent. I am happy to say that few such cases occur. A wise and warm-hearted governess, having the love and good will of the children, finds little occasion for complaining of their misdemeanors and misconduct. Where correction is needed it is employed, but when moral suasion will reach the case and accomplish the desired end its use is always recommended.

THE SCHOOL.

The present session of school opened September 5, with Miss Ida M. Glass as Principal, and Miss Belle Powers, Miss Emma Brown, Miss Nannie Jayne, Miss Cora Loftin, Miss Fannie Banta, Miss Laura Wachstetter and Miss Fannie Moffitt as assistant teachers. The report of Miss Glass, found elsewhere, includes only the two months that the school has been in session, but for this short period is gratifying and encouraging. The present corps of teachers are thoroughly qualified for their work, some of them having made special preparation for their work here. They have all taught school and all hold good licenses. Indications point clearly to grand work this year.

The present enrollment of the school is 426, as against 298 a year ago. In my last report the belief was expressed that the new and comfortable school buildings would impart to the pupils new desires, and stimulate the teachers to the greatest activity and zeal. In this particular I was not mistaken. Teachers and scholars have seemed to vie with each other in their efforts to fully improve the time and make the most of their opportunities. As a result, most excellent work has been accomplished. It was deemed advisable, during the year, to organize a kindergarten for the small children. Miss Fannie Moffitt was secured as teacher, and entered upon her duties March 11, 1889. Her work proved to be so satisfactory that she has been retained, and the kindergarten is fast becoming one of the attractive features of our school.

As an inducement to the pupils to put forth their best efforts, a gold piece of the value of two dollars and a half was offered in each grade as a premium to the scholar making the highest average on the final examination. These prizes were secured by Savannah Brossius, No. 6; Emma Scoville, No. 5; James Morand, No. 4; Marianna Keemer, No. 3; Fannie Roll, No. 2, and Minnie Fox, No. 1. None of the pupils were able to complete the course of study at the close of the school year, June 28th, but appropriate exercises were held, nevertheless, both on the last day of the session and the evening preceding. These literary entertainments were of a high order and interesting character, showing careful training on the part of the teachers, and commendable work on the part of the pupils. We look forward with great pleasure to the close of school next year, when a class of sixteen will graduate, and the first commencement exercises of the Home will be held.

LIBRARY.

The appropriation of a thousand dollars, made by the Legislature as a Library Fund, has been entirely exhausted in the purchase, at different times, of such books as seemed best suited to the tastes and capacities of the children. A careful and judicious selection was made of such books as would interest and instruct, regard being had to good juvenile works for the little ones, and standard volumes for the older pupils. These are all eagerly read and greatly enjoyed. The books are catalogued for the convenience of the children and librarian. Books are issued to the pupils at stated times, and are retained for the period of two weeks. Such rules have been adopted as will guarantee to the children the greatest privileges, and at the same time preserve and protect the books.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENTS.

I am pleased to report that the various industries are being successfully carried forward and are proving highly beneficial, both to the pupils and the Institution. Every department is yielding rich returns for the money invested, not only in the way of dollars and cents, but also, and better far, in the spirit of independence that the knowledge of a trade begets in the energetic and ambitious boy or girl. That question to which a definite reply could not be given two years ago, "What are these children to do when they leave the Home?" can now be satisfactorily answered, and the assurance can be given that they will be able to support themselves, and be a blessing and not a burden to the world. The good effects of these trades is also manifest in the general conduct of the children. They are much easier to govern and control, and the arduous duties of the governesses and teachers are thus greatly lightened and rendered much more pleasant and agreeable. The possibility of being able to secure a remunerative situation in the course of a few months gives a new inspiration to the boy, and presents to him a bright future, when otherwise it would be gloomy and discouraging. Two boys of the printing-office force have found good situations, one in Connersville, the other in Rushville, and there is an opening in Nashville, Tennessee, for another boy whenever he feels disposed to accept it. We are thus greatly encouraged to maintain the industries already established, and to provide others as soon as circumstances will permit, so that all our pupils may be prepared for respectable and remunerative callings. The branches of industrial education so far established and in successful operation, are printing, tailoring, dressmaking, shoemaking, carpentering, baking, engineering, farming, gardening and floriculture. Full reports from these departments will be found elsewhere, so that I need but briefly refer to them in this connection.

The printing office has proved of great advantage not only to the pupils, who have been employed therein, but also to the Institution and the public at large. All our own printing has been done, besides considerable outside work. The publication of the Home Journal has continued without interruption, excepting one month, August, which was given the boys for a vacation. The paper has served to bring the Institution favorably before the public, and has been a welcome visitor each week to the mothers unable to pay for it, and to whom it has been gladly sent without money and without price. The subscription list to the paper is not so large by considerable as we could wish, but by no means will its publication be suspended on this account. Mr. John A. Deem is editor and publisher of the journal, and has supervision of the entire office. His excellent report is to be found elsewhere.

The shoe shop has proved to be a great benefit to the Home. The material used in the manufacture of the shoes has been first class, and, as a result, there has not been a constant demand for shoes as heretofore, when bought at wholesale. The boys have made good progress in learning the trade, and are of great assistance now in the manufacture of the shoes. Mr. D. F. Copper, the foreman, makes a full report of the work done, to which you are respectfully referred.

The tailor shop is furnishing all the clothing worn by the boys. Their uniform suits are made up in the very best manner, and the material used is the very best quality the market affords. The regulation brass buttons are used on coats, pants and vests, and give to the boys quite a military appearance. The shop under Mr. J. H. Kochman, as foreman, is a model of neatness and industry. For further information you are referred to his report found elsewhere.

The sewing room is under the supervision of Mrs. Richardson. The girls are taught not only to sew, but to cut and fit as well. In this department all the wearing apparel for the girls is made, and all the general sewing is done for the Institution. It is a very busy place, and under Mrs. Richardson, is well managed and conducted. The vast amount of work done during the year is shown elsewhere in her report.

The other departments are under efficient management, and are carrying out in an honest and faithful manner the work committed to their hands.

Without further mention in detail of the remaining industries, you are referred to the respective reports of the departments.

BAND.

The brass band has made great proficiency under the excellent training of Mr. Frank Butler. It now numbers twenty-four members. The splendid manner in which these small boys play a great many pieces is sufficient evidence that the labor devoted to this branch of the boys' education is not spent in vain. Our band furnished the music for the Encampment of the Department of Indiana, Grand Army of the Republic, held in Indianapolis March last, and also took part in the street parade at the laying of the corner-stone of the Soldiers' Monument, in the same city, August 22d. On several occasions it has played in Knightstown at camp-fires, entertainments given by the Woman's Relief Corps, and at regimental re-unions of the old soldiers. It fills a very important place in all the entertainments at the Home, and in all the holiday exercises, the services of Decoration Day, and on the occasions of visits to the Home by posts of the Grand Army. One of our pupils who was a member of the band last year has now a position in a music store at Indianapolis, which he secured because of the training he received in the band.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTIONS.

There has been no relaxation of our efforts during the past year to impart such religious instruction to the children as will lead them to a knowledge of the Holy Bible and to a proper understanding of its divine teachings. A question frequently asked by visitors is, "to what extent do you give these children religious instructions?" The subject of religion is a matter very dear to the hearts of all good people, and all such will be pleased to know that provision has been made for giving these children moral and religious instruction by the erection, in connection with the school building, of a chapel-room where services are held every Lord's day. On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, the pupils assemble for Sunday-school, and after appropriate opening exercises each teacher in the day school takes charge of her own pupils and with them passes to her school-room where an hour is spent in the careful study of the International Sunday-school Lessons. This plan of conducting the Sunday-school has been found an excellent one since it affords a good opportunity to derive the fullest benefit from the lesson and to have at the same time the most perfect quiet and order. The teachers are supplied with Lesson Commentaries and the children with Lesson Leaves and Sunday-school papers suited to their ages and advancement. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a regular preaching service is held by the Superintendent or in his absence by some visiting clergyman from Knightstown. Rev. B. F. Brewington and Dr. McGarven, former Superintendents of the Home, have conducted services several different times. The children have also had the privilege of hearing at different times A. C. Smithers, of Irvington; W. M. Harkins, of Frankfort; M. L. Wells, of Edinburgh; Rev. Mr. Sands, of Rushville; Lieutenant-Governor Chase, of Danville; Chaplain Lozier, of Iowa; J. Q. McKeehan, of Hartford City, and others whose names can not be recalled. Many patriotic speeches and addresses on interesting subjects have been delivered by prominent speakers at various times. It will thus be seen that opportunities are enjoyed by these children in a moral and religious direction that, if properly improved, will serve to lead them in right ways and into spheres of usefulness and happiness. During the year several of the larger children have shown a deep interest in religious matters and have connected themselves with the church.

CHANGES AND IMPROVEMENTS.

When the electric lights were first placed in the building it was thought that two lights of sixteen candle-power each would be sufficient in the sitting rooms of the children, but it was found that it required a great effort for them to read, especially if the print was fine. Accordingly, these lights were replaced with two of fifty candle-power intensity. This change required an outlay of nearly two hundred dollars, but it was money well expended, since otherwise there was very great danger of impairing the vision or permanently injuring the eye-sight of the children. In addition to this improvement the sitting rooms have been papered and painted, and the walls decorated with beautiful hanging pictures. New chairs have been provided, and a lounge placed in each room so that the slightly indisposed may have a place to lie down, or the little ones to take a nap. New tables have been furnished, and a book-case provided for the care of the school books and library books. All these have added much to the comfort of the children, and served to make their family rooms more homelike. Their dining room has been painted, both the side walls and the ceiling, and new blinds placed to the windows. The parlor and offices have all been nicely papered; also, the Trustees' room and two of the teachers' rooms. The wood work has been varnished and quite a good deal of painting has been done. The building has been kept in good repair, and, in many particulars, greatly improved and beautified.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

It is with pleasure that we make mention of the generous gifts made to the children during the holiday season by the Women's Relief Corps and the Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic. The committee, consisting of Mrs. Annie Weldon, chairman, and Mrs. Abigail Hawkins and Mrs. Sallie Jackson, succeeded in raising $323.40, which they judiciously expended in the purchase of suitable and beautiful gifts, and these they distributed in person to the children on Christmas morning. It was an occasion of great happiness to all connected with the Home. The interest felt in the wards of the State and the affection thus shown for them in this substantial way is gratifying to the highest degree. To the Posts and Corps throughout the State, who so generously contributed to the enjoyment and pleasure of the children, and to the committee for their untiring efforts in bringing about such a delightful time, we tender our grateful thanks.

OTHER DONATIONS.

Several elegant pictures of comrades and distinguished officers of the army have been received during the year. The Department Board of Visitors have been instrumental in securing some of these portraits, and the continued interest they manifest in this direction places us under great obligation to them for their kindness. They have also greatly aided us in various ways in devising such measures and adopting such plans as would increase the usefulness of the Home and enhance the happiness of the children.

Other friends have kindly remembered us in the gifts of pictures, which have been highly appreciated. The Post at Rushville presented elegant portraits of Colonel Wolfe and General Hackleman. The excellent portrait of Captain A. D. Vanosdol has also been added to the number of Post Department Commanders of Indiana. General Reynolds kindly sent us a fine picture of himself. All these were beautifully framed and added much toward making our beautiful parlor still more attractive.

APPLICATIONS ON FILE.

The applications for admission have increased to such an extent that at the present time ninety are on file, some of them approved, others awaiting action. The great need of additional room is apparent, and we are looking forward with eagerness to the completion of the cottages and dining hall now building. It is hoped we will soon be able to receive all that have applied and extend to them the benefits of the Home, and afford them the advantages the State has provided.

FINANCES.

By referring to the report of the financial officer it will be seen that the moneys appropriated for the support of the Institution have been well and carefully managed, and the finances are in a satisfactory condition. All the immediate wants have been met, the best articles of food and other supplies have been purchased, and such improvements have been made as were necessary and proper, and yet the aggregate expenses have not exceeded the appropriation, notwithstanding the population of the Home has increased during the year and the maintenance fund was reduced by the last Legislature. Steps should be taken, in due time, to restore the maintenance fund again to $15 per capita. A limited appropriation of $72,000 works a great injustice, since with an increased attendance of children there should be a corresponding increase of the fund for support. The per capita plan is the only just one, and this measure, repealed by the last Legislature, should be re-enacted at the next meeting of our law-makers. Whether or not we shall be able during the coming year to support six hundred children, possibly more, on an appropriation made for four hundred children remains to be seen.

SUGGESTIONS.

Since the Legislature will not be in session this winter, and consequently no additional appropriation can be secured for enlarging present buildings or erecting new ones, I shall not call your attention at great length to the needs of the Home. I beg, however, to offer some suggestions that I regard as highly important and worthy of consideration.

Some provision ought to be made for furnishing transportation to the Home for such children as have not the means to defray their own expenses. Since only such are admitted as are "destitute of the means of support and education" (section 9, page 20) it often happens that the financial inability of the mother or relatives making the application delays forwarding the child, and in some known cases has proved to be so embarrassing that the child has not been sent at all. I have now on file letters from mothers urging me to keep the places for their children, and assigning as a reason for not sending them at once that they have not the money and have not been able to obtain it. A contingent fund ought to be provided to meet such cases. It frequently occurs that aid must be sought from the Township Trustee, or Post, or Woman's Relief Corps, and in the event that it can not be obtained, the mother, for the want of a little ready money, must keep the child, although the State has provided a magnificent Home for it, but has made no provision whereby it may overcome the distance of fifty or one hundred miles that intervene between the home of destitution and want and the Home of plenty.

Again, a fund ought to be provided to enable the Superintendent, or some one whom he might appoint, to make occasional visits to the families where homes have been secured for our children, that he might see if they were happily situated and are receiving proper care and attention. Reports are sometimes made, the correctness of which can only be determined by a personal visit, and to meet such legitimate expenses a fund should be provided.

Again, it sometimes occurs that a boy absents himself without leave, and if he is found and returned to the Institution it incurs some expense. An effort is always made, and is generally successful, to bring the runaway back, but the expenses have to be paid out of the maintenance fund since no other is provided. Some of the money thus appropriated for the support of the children must be used to pay the expenses of returning the boy, or he must be allowed to go without any effort being made to find him and bring him back. This is not right, to take the bread out of the children's mouths, but under present circumstances it must be done.

It also occurs that children going home for vacation are not returned from some cause. Writing a letter to the party in charge of the pupil is of little avail, since excuses are easily offered. The Post or Woman's Relief Corps succeeded, possibly, in getting the child into the Home and do not feel under obligation to look after it any further. No fund has been created to pay the expenses of some one to go after the child, and so it remains away either entirely or for weeks after the session of the school has begun, and must then drag along behind the class or drop into a lower grade. I am not drawing upon my imagination in this matter, as the list published elsewhere of the names of seven pupils that have not returned since vacation will clearly show. A contingent fund, then, should be provided for defraying the expenses of destitute children to the Home, for bringing back such as may leave without permission, for occasional visits to families that have taken children from the Home, and for visits to such homes as are detaining the children beyond the allotted time for vacation.

MORE ROOM IS NEEDED.

The capacity of the chapel room is found to be insufficient to accommodate our present number of children and employes. At our chapel services on Sunday afternoons it is necessary to place chairs in the aisles in order that seats may be provided for all. On occasions of public entertainments a large portion of the children can not attend, otherwise there would be no room for the visitors. The seating capacity of the chapel is five hundred, while the present population of the Home is five hundred and eighteen. As soon as the cottages are completed this number will be largely increased, and since all available space in the chapel is already utilized, it will become a necessity to make some provision for further accommodations. How can this be done? Not by an addition to the building, for it is so constructed that it can not be done. It only remains to build a new chapel and convert the present one into a school-room. In fact, another room is now greatly needed to relieve the overcrowded condition of the primary department. All the eight rooms in the school building are now in use, and with an increased attendance another room will become an absolute necessity. The chapel room would serve the purpose admirably. As a matter of necessity, double rows of seats have been placed in two grades, and the probability is that the same thing will have to be done in some of the other rooms before the close of the present term of school.

A favorable location for the new chapel would be in the open space between the old frame building and the most southern of the three new cottages to be built. This new chapel should have a seating capacity for at least one thousand persons.

There should also be another building for the exclusive use of the girls, where such departments of work as pertain wholly to them could be carried on. At present the girls have only one room in the industrial building, and as a consequence no other department except sewing and cutting and fitting can be established. But this one room even is greatly needed by the boys for a tin shop, or pipe cutting and fitting, or wood-carving, or some other useful branch of industry. More room must be provided and more industries established, otherwise it will be impossible to grant all the children thirteen years of age an opportunity to learn a trade.

I am well aware that in view of the fact that a new hospital is just finished and a large dining hall is nearing completion and two double cottages are being built, that to suggest additional buildings may seem to be premature and extravagant, but if the Home fulfills its mission and bestows upon these children the benefits to which they are justly entitled, it must have suitable buildings and proper appliances or all its efforts will be unavailing.

I hope the new hospital will be large enough to answer fully every purpose, but I much regret that your original plan could not have been carried out, whereby a complete quarantine could have been established for such children as are affected with contagious diseases or pulmonary troubles or abscesses, and which render their separation from the other children a necessity. Possibly the two small rooms set apart for this purpose will be sufficient, but if not, the next Legislature ought to be asked for such an appropriation as would build a quarantine department, provided such an addition can be made to the present building.

CONCLUSION.

Having now endeavored to present to you the condition of the Home and having made such suggestions as have seemed to me proper and necessary, I beg leave to say in conclusion that I have always regarded the management of the Institution as an important and sacred trust, and that I have earnestly and conscientiously endeavored to discharge faithfully every duty of my office. I have endeavored to carry out the requirements of the statute in the appointment of employes, and have given the soldier element the preference as far as possible. I have also endeavored to administer the affairs of the Institution impartially, to adopt such measures as would increase its efficiency and make it the greatest possible blessing to these children who are the beneficiaries of the State.

With sincere thanks to you, as a Board, for encouragement and counsel, for the deep interest you have always manifested in this work, and for the generous co-operation and support you have been pleased to give me, and with a thankful heart to Him who has preserved us and prospered us the past year I now respectfully submit to you the Eleventh Annual Report of the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home.

A. H. MORRIS,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF PHYSICIAN.

A. H. Morris, Superintendent of the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home :

In comparing the health record of the past year with those of preceding years, we find that taking into consideration the increase in the number of inmates over former years, the year has been one of fairly good health. We have had no severe epidemic nor serious contagious disease during the year. At one time typhoid and typho-malarial fever seemed to threaten, caused no doubt by an impure water supply. Vigorous sanitary measures and a hearty coöperation on the part of the Board of Trustees, in providing a better and purer water supply, soon had the effect of suppressing what might otherwise have been a severe epidemic.

The sanitary condition of the Home at present is excellent, and every care is exercised to maintain it so. We have to report three deaths during the year: Jesse Cleveland Seeley, November 3, tuberculosis; Marcus G. Persinger, June 19, malarial fever; Fritz Kuhn, September 14, pericarditis.

It is with no little satisfaction I mention the new and commodious building provided for the isolation and care of the sick and deformed children. This building is indeed a model hospital of its kind, not only in a sanitary view, but in its convenience as well for the care of the unfortunates of the Home.

To the nurse, officers and employes I am under many obligations for the aid and assistance extended me.

Respectfully submitted,

O. E. HOLLOWAY,
Visiting Physician.

OCTOBER 31, 1889.

MUSIC TEACHER'S REPORT.

Prof. A. H. Morris, Superintendent

Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home :

The following is the report of the musical department for the year ending October 31, 1889 :

In the school, fifteen minutes daily are devoted to singing. Grades 7, 8, 1 and 2 are visited twice, daily, 7 and 8 having different pupils for forenoon and afternoon, 1 and 2 requiring rest from regular work.

Grades 1 and 2 sing exercises from the blackboard. Special attention is given to individual singing, thus inspiring confidence and independence on the part of the pupils. Rote songs are taught as thought necessary.

Two-part singing begins in Grade 3, with board work continued.

Loomis's First Steps in Music, Part 3, is introduced into Grade 5, continuing through Grade 6.

Loomis's Fourth Music Reader is used in Grades 7 and 8. Three-part singing begins in Grade 7. The theoretical work in the entire course includes all kinds of measure, expression marks, scale transposition through sharps and flats, and chord-building.

Supplementary exercises are used as needed. Pupils are required to sing from manual signs and numbers, thus acquiring a mental conception of tones and tone relations. Every means possible is used to the end that pupils sing readily at sight.

Frequent drills in breathing and vocalizing are given.

As a test of the pupils' ability, they will stand examinations consisting of theoretical questions and an exercise in sight reading.

There are twenty-one pupils in the piano department. Each pupil receives two lessons a week, of forty minutes time.

The beginning pupils receive one lesson a week from the regular teacher and one from Savannah Brossins, of the advanced class. Length of practice time varies from forty-five minutes to two hours, daily, according to grade of the pupil.

A graded course of study is used, including Howe's Piano Forte Instructor, sonatas by Clementi and Kulan, Czerney's Velocity Studies, and such compositions as will cultivate technique and taste.

Piano recitals are given at different times, the pupils taking part.

In both departments the pupils have taken hold of the required work with a zeal and cheerfulness which will certainly lead to success.

Respectfully submitted,

DORA LEMONDS,
Teacher of Music.

PRINTER'S REPORT.

Prof. A. H. Morris, Superintendent

Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home:

SIR—In compliance with the statutes of Indiana making it the duty of the foremen of the various departments of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home to make out an annual report and present the same to you, I respectfully submit the following report of the printing department for the year ending October 31, 1889:

I began my duties as foreman of this department and editor of the Home Journal on the 28th day of August, 1889.

The Home Journal is a five-column quarto, and is issued on Thursday of each week. The subscription price is one dollar per annum. The first volume of fifty-two numbers was completed on the 31st day of October, 1889. Six hundred and twenty-five copies are printed each week. The paper is made up of choice selected and original articles, and has historical, literary, editorial and local departments, is printed on good paper, from clear type, and in the neatest manner. All the mechanical work, including type-setting, press work and mailing is done by the twenty-one pupils assigned to this department and working under my direction. Nine boys work in the forenoon and twelve in the afternoon. One of the pupils, Dossie C. Freeman, is made the local editor, while other boys report for the paper. The object of printing the Home Journal is to make more fully known to the citizens of the State the real character and general workings of the Home, and at the same time furnish the orphans an opportunity to learn the typographic art in all its branches. The experiment thus far has been very satisfactory. The pupils enter upon the work with zeal, and make commendable and in many cases astonishing progress. They give promise of becoming proficient in the business, and of being able, when they complete their studies and reach suitable age, to earn a livelihood in a useful and honorable occupation.

The following is the amount of job work done since the last annual report :

CARPENTER'S REPORT.

Prof. A. H. Morris, Superintendent

Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home:

In compliance with the law I submit to you my annual report of the work done in the Carpentering Department for the year ending October 31, 1889.

In addition to the work properly belonging to my department, much has been done of a general character, such as repairing chairs, tables, bedsteads and other furniture used in the Institution. Quite a number of new tables have been made for the division rooms and dining hall. Considerable work was required to convert the amusement hall into a division room and dormitory, partitions having to be made and a wardrobe constructed, and a private room fitted up for the governess.

The old frame building was repaired and wardrobes constructed. A foot-bridge was made across the ravine leading to the green-house, and the steam pipe was boxed. Work to a considerable extent was done in the green-house, and also in the shoe shop. The bath rooms in the main buildings were changed, and new bath tubs were placed in position. Made thirteen gates for the farm. Set posts around the drive-way and in front of the school building. Built a carriage house, and a large barn for the cattle. Made a store room out of the old wash house, when it was abandoned. Built a large refrigerator in the milk house, and made milk troughs. Put a new roof on the boiler house. Remodeled the old barn and built a house over the large reservoir. Such is a brief outline of the work done.

Three boys, Harry Runkle, Charles Eades and Harry Homan, are learning the trade and work with me a half day. They are making satisfactory progress.

Respectfully submitted,

ELI C. LUTZ,
Carpenter.

FLORIST'S REPORT.

Prof. A. H. Morris :

I herewith submit the annual report of the Florist and Horticultural Department. Since last November a commodious green-house has been constructed, and was used to the best advantage in growing vegetables for table use during the winter, and plants for decorating the lawn during the summer. The season of the year for setting plants in the ground found the house full of various kinds of plants, giving a supply for filling four vases and thirty-four good size flower beds, some beds requiring 500 plants to complete them; all did very well through the season, especially the blooming varieties.

During the spring and summer there were laid 1,600 square feet of sod around the buildings and on the lawn. Every foot has taken hold and doing nicely. There were also six to eight bushels of grass-seed sown on the lawn, along the slopes and on the play grounds. All the front part of the farm facing the road, in the lawn, along the lake and in the play grounds, were planted 305 shade trees; all are living and looking well with exceptions of five or six. This year the Florist and Horticultural Department has been successful in showing a pleasing and interesting effect. The present date finds us with a good stock on hand for next year, hoping to make greater improvements and be more successful in beautifying than the past year.

Have six boys learning the art: Robert VanHorn, John Seely, John Shoemaker, Harry Johnson, Franklin Kelley and Erwin Jacques; three boys work in the morning and three in the afternoon.

A. M. TROXELL,

Florist.

GARDENER'S REPORT.

A. H. Morris, Superintendent

Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home:

I herewith submit to you my report for the year ending October 31, 1889, showing work done and vegetables grown. I have been assisted during the year by the following named boys: Ora Glunt and Arthur McKenzie.

There have been set out during the year 7,000 strawberry plants. The sweet potato crop was cut short on account of the dry weather in the latter part of the season, and the crop was also materially injured by a very sudden freeze before crop was dug. I do not consider our soil well adapted for growing sweet potatoes, it being damp and cold clay soil. I would recommend the planting of grapes and other small fruits.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL McCORKHILL,

Gardener.

REPORT OF ENGINEER.

A. H. Morris, Superintendent

Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home :

My annual report for work done in the engineering and pipe-fitting department is herewith submitted.

A great deal of extra work has been done during the past year, owing to the new buildings being put up and the improvement of the grounds.

We have laid gas pipes all through the grounds around the Home, and erected torches for the same; laid 642 feet of four-inch pipes for fire service over to the new hospital; placed in position two fire hydrants on hospital grounds; put up the new hot water boiler; piped and connected the same with the hot water services in the main building; piped the first floor of the hospital for gas, and put in the grates; connected the water pipes with mains; laid 200 feet of high pressure gas line for new hospital; placed a regulator in same for hospital; changed fire hydrants by the school-house; put grates in the reception room and in the offices of the Superintendent and Steward; put in a new boiler in the engine house; connected pipes with steam pumps; also, with the steam main for the building; removed old water main from site of new dining hall; also, fire hydrants; placed in position our high-pressure regulator for the boilers; also, the one for domestic use. We have laid 600 feet of two-inch pipes from the barn to the water main, and connected same; placed in position the fire hydrants in same line at the barn, besides general repairs all around.

In addition to our new machinery, during the year we have arranged a complete system of water-works and a fire company organization. The company is provided with hose-cart, buckets and all other necessary material, which, it is to be hoped, can be used with good effect in case of an emergency.

In my work I have been assisted by Kline Wilson and Francis Twigg in the forenoon, and Vern Coy and Jerry Fonty in the afternoon. Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM CASELY,

Engineer.

The farm comprises about one hundred and forty acres, and is worth ten thousand dollars. A large portion of it is tillable and reasonably productive. Pasturage is required for our large herd of cows, and so about sixty acres are sown in clover. A good crop of oats was raised this last summer.

During the year I have had the assistance of Mike Dewaine, assistant farmer, and the following named boys: Scott Allen, Nicholas Knorr and Harry Jaques in the forenoon, and Harry Miller, Henry Lucas and Loren Ballard in the afternoon.

We have re-set 200 rods of rail fence and built 150 rods of wire and picket fence. The fences are tolerably good now, and by another year all will be in good condition.

After a careful examination of the bids presented, the Board found that Messrs. Brooks Bros., of Fort Wayne, Ind., were the lowest bidders for the entire work, excluding the laundry machinery and electric light plant, and, on motion, they were awarded the contract.

McGinnis, Smith & Co., of Pittsburgh, Pa., were found to be the lowest bidders on laundry machinery, and, on motion, they were awarded the contract for the sum of $1,735.

Also the Jenny Electric Light Co., of Ft. Wayne, Ind., being the lowest bidders for electric light plant and engine, they were awarded the contract to complete the same for the sum of $7,200.

The bonds for these various contractors were presented at a subsequent meeting of the Board, and upon careful examination they were found to be sufficient and they were, on motion, accepted and the contractors instructed to begin work at the earliest possible date. The bonds were for the following amounts, viz: Messrs. Brooks Bros., $100,000; the Jenny Electric Light Co., for $1,850, and Messrs. McGinnis, Smith & Co., for $1,200.

The difference between the amounts of the various bids and the appropriations will be easily understood by the explanations that these bids were for only part of the work, and that during the coming fiscal year contracts will be let for the entire completion and equipment of the Institution, which will entirely absorb the sums appropriated for the same.

You will remember that in our former report we stated that, of the amount appropriated by the previous Legislature (viz: $50,000), $10,000 was used for the purchase of fifty-five (55) acres of land near the city of Ft. Wayne, leaving a balance of $40,000 to our credit in the State Treasury.

But in consequence of the absence of funds, Mr. Wm. Moellering, the contractor for the erection of the main building, did not receive his money upon the estimates furnished until May, 1889.

We were compelled to use $8,228.17 during the fiscal year ending Oct. 31, 1888, for furnishing the institution temporarily located at Richmond, Ind., leaving a balance of $31,771.83 in the State Treasury at the beginning of the present fiscal year, and, after Mr. Moellering presented his estimates, there was left a deficit, which was paid out of the new appropriation, of $187,300.

While the progress of the work has not been as rapid as the Board wished and had anticipated, yet it has been in every other particular very satisfactory.

Proper estimates have been made each month as the work progressed, and, after careful consideration and deducting the usual 10 per cent. of the estimates, the monthly expenditures have been as follows :

MORE LAND NEEDED.

More land is badly needed; the farm consists of but fifty-five acres, and upon this all the buildings are to be erected, leaving but a small part for farming. The boys can not engage in any labor better for them or more profitable to the State than that of the farm, and in a short time these boys will be of such an age that the farm could be worked to a great advantage.

The closing year shows a small increase in the number of children.

Many applications were received but owing to the lack of furnished room and on account of our small resources, very much to our regret, we were compelled to place these applications upon file. However, due to the fact that our appropriation for the coming year is larger than that of last, we hope to be able to admit these children in the near future. The appropriation for the coming fiscal year is $72,000.

By practicing the closest economy the Board has managed to run the Institution within the appropriation.

The following indicates the receipts and expenditures for the past year:

The Trustees can not close their report without referring to our worthy and efficient Superintendent, Mr. John G. Blake, one whose whole interest is in looking after the health, comfort and advancement of the Institution, and who is especially fitted for the discharge of all his duties, both inside and outside the Institution.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

RICHMOND, IND., October 31, 1889.

To the Board of Trustees of the Indiana School for Feeble Minded Youth :

The fiscal year which has just closed has been one especially marked by the progress and advancement of our Institution. The close of last year found us with a maintenance deficit of nearly $4,000, occasioned both by small per capita appropriation, and the excessive demands for money necessary to make the temporary and unfinished quarters we now occupy habitable. Each successive month noted an increase in this deficit, and when the Legislature met the following January the amount of our indebtedness had grown very rapidly. Your Board wisely proposed a bill containing many essential and necessary changes in our law, prominent among which are the following: Increasing our per capita appropriation from $10 to $15; eliminating the clause which made it necessary to send these children to their homes or county infirmaries at the age of twenty-one, and removing the minimum limitation for admission, viz.: six years of age. You also presented a bill asking an appropriation of $187,300 for the erection of our new home at Fort Wayne; which, in addition to $50,000, the appropriation of two years ago, made a total of $237,300, with which you have purchased fifty-five acres of ground, and upon which you are erecting an institution, now nearing completion, that will accommodate no less than 500 feeble-minded children; and you also asked for an appropriation of $3,692.79, to cover the existing deficit at the end of the last fiscal year. The final outcome of these measures has been most gratifying, and you are to be congratulated upon the splendid results which have attended your earnest and faithful efforts to advance the interests of our Institution, and to build upon a much broader foundation a home and an asylum for the feeble-minded children of the State of Indiana. The difficulties attending these efforts were very great; the special work for this class of children was very little known throughout our State; strong prejudices were to be overcome, and it was difficult to prove the necessity for so large an appropriation to erect a home for an institution that had for many years only flourished as an annex to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home at Knightstown. These difficulties were all surmounted, and the action of the last Legislature giving you all that you asked for is an evidence of great confidence on the part of the representatives of the people in your wisdom and integrity. These results are greatly to your credit, for they are not only a source of self-congratulation, but through them you have lifted this noble charity out of obscurity into marked prominence and larger efficiency, and have placed Indiana in the front rank with other sister States in her generous care for the feeble-minded children.

Some have questioned, and perhaps sincerely, the necessity for so large an outlay of money and the erection of such extensive buildings for the care of what they believed to be a very small class of unfortunates. To effectively answer this criticism, I have only to say that we have 269 children on the rolls of our Institution to-day, and that there are already on file in the office more than 100 applications for admission of children who are entitled to the benefits and care of our Home. Scarcely a mail but brings either letters of inquiry or direct applications for admission, and only the fact that we are in temporary quarters and are already very much overcrowded, prevents the admission of all such applicants, which would increase our number at once to nearly 400. As additional evidence, the State Statistician informs us that there are more than 1,800 of such helpless little ones within the boundary lines of Indiana, and when the Fort Wayne Home is completed and filled with 500 or more inmates, it will still be insufficient to shelter all those that need its protection and care.

HEALTH.

Notwithstanding the increased number of inmates the past year, the death-rate has been nearly one-half less than that of the year previous. No epidemics of any kind incident to childhood and youth have afflicted us, and notwithstanding the feeble condition of body as well as of mind of the majority of our children, only six have died within the past twelve months, and nearly all of these have come to us with the seeds of chronic diseases in enfeebled bodies which could only bear the fruit of death. This small death-rate is a subject of great thankfulness, especially when we consider the appalling fact that of the 269 children in our Institution to-day, 67 are confirmed epileptics, the dreadful fruit borne by epileptic parents; 20 are helpless paralytics, and a large number of the remainder show evidence of the disease of scrofula in all of its various forms. Sufficient wholesome food, plenty of outdoor exercise, regular habits, and bodily cleanliness are, we believe, the best safe-guards against the attack of all the ills that flesh is heir to." I respectfully refer you to the report of Dr. James F. Hibberd, our attending physician, who has a complete record of the deaths and causes, and again repeat, as in my former report, that the best guarantee I can offer for the proper medical care of our little ones is that Dr. Hibberd still continues to be our physician.

EPILEPTICS.

In view of the large number of epileptics already in our Home, and the still greater number seeking admission, I would earnestly recommend and sincerely hope that in the near future a department be established, entirely separate, but under the management of the present Institution, to care for this doubly unfortunate class of children. There seems to be no possible cure for congenital epilepsy (the spasms become more frequent and violent as the patient grows older), and if there is no relief, it will not be long before you will be compelled to do what your judgment and humanity will scarce consent to, namely: to send adult epileptics, both male and female, out into the world, helpless and forlorn, to drift back into county infirmaries, and often entailing upon their offspring the dreadful blight of epilepsy, certainly to become public charges upon society.

INDUSTRIAL FEATURES.

Several new departments of industry have been added to the institution in the past few months, while others inaugurated but little more than a year ago, have greatly exceeded our expectations. The knitting department was opened but a few weeks ago, and already gives promise of meeting every demand upon it for stockings, socks and mittens. With but one machine and the swift flying needles in the hands of a number of our girls, the quantity and quality of work in this line will be all that could be desired. Comfort making is also a new industrial feature. In this department we anticipate no difficulty in furnishing all the needed "comforts" to shield our children from Hoosier frosts, while the quality is much superior to those that could be purchased at a much greater cost.

TAILOR SHOP AND SEWING ROOM.

The tailor shop and sewing room deserve special mention. A new uniform for the boys, consisting of handsome steel-gray cloth adorned with silver buttons, has been adopted, and the workers in this department will soon complete, for the entire number of boys, well-made and neat-fitting clothes. Sewing machines and needles, operated by the girls, produce sufficient of comfortable clothing to supply all requirements. To the efficiency of these departments I will only call attention to the fact that more than 4,000 pieces of clothing have been made under careful supervision by the boys and girls of these departments.

SHOE SHOP.

Our shoe shop, which was started more than a year ago, exhibits a result of work and efficiency that will challenge any similar institution to equal. Eight hundred and seventy five pairs of new shoes were made in twelve months by one skilled man and never more than six of our boys, and a great deal of the time only four. Besides new work, this force has mended nearly 2,000 pairs of shoes, and the quality of the work will commend itself to any shoe expert. The report is as follows:

LAUNDRY.

Our laundry department comes to the front with a record that is very gratifying and exceedingly creditable to all connected with it. With but three employes, assisted by the boys in the washing department and the girls on the ironing force, there have been laundried during the year more than 160,000 pieces. A detailed report of one month shows the general average of this department.

FARMING DEPARTMENT.

Our farm and garden report, while very satisfactory, does not show the possibilities that we might claim had everything been favorable. The farm belonging to the institution, whose buildings we are temporarily occupying, for six and seven years past has been annually robbed of productive power, and the temporary tenants, through willful neglect or ignorance, have allowed the State's broad acres to run to weeds and ruins. "There is that scattereth and yet increaseth," for the failure to give with liberal hand the needed nutriment and nourishment to the ground has resulted in sparsely growing crops and empty granaries. Notwithstanding these difficulties and discouragements a large number of our boys have worked energetically and faithfully throughout the spring and summer months, and their efforts have been most gratifying, as the appended report will show:

All the household work in every department is performed mainly by the children, under the wise and patient direction of faithful employes. In dining-rooms, kitchens, dormitories, school-rooms and divisions, the willing feet and ready hands of the boys and girls have lightened the great burden of work that daily rests upon the Institution. We have no dress parade days, but with the motto that "Cleanliness is next to godliness," we are ready for inspection at any time; and the universal comment of visitors and friends, "How very cleanly everything is," is certainly gratifying, and reflects credit on all who are connected with the Institution. These various household duties are not without their beneficial effect on the children. It teaches them habits of industry and faithfulness in their work, whether it be washing dishes, setting tables, sweeping floors, assisting in the kitchen, or making beds. It gives, in the interim between school hours, occupation both for the head and hands, so that in the industrial department and household affairs there are very few of the children who do not render some assistance in carrying on the work of the Institution. A mending room has recently been opened, and it gives promise of excellent success. Clothing from every department needing repairs is sent there during the week, and, with the assistance of the attendants and the girls, is neatly mended and returned to the divisions.

It will not be many weeks before we will make all our mattresses, as I have engaged the services of a competent upholsterer and mattress-maker, and, with a force of boys, in a little while we will be able to finish mattresses of a better quality and at less cost than we can purchase them.

A teacher of band music has also been engaged, and will shortly enter upon his duties; and we are confident, judging from the result in other institutions, that it will be but a few months before a well organized and thoroughly drilled band will be one of the attractive features of our home.

FINANCIAL.

When the appropriation for maintenance passed the last Legislature we all believed, and had strong grounds for the belief, that the days of deficits were at an end. The Legislature had generously increased our maintenance to that asked for, viz.: $15 per capita, but unfortunately this law was signed previous to the law specifically appropriating $36,000 for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1889, and as the latter enactment contained a repealing clause it superseded our anticipated increase, and limited us to $36,000 and no more, with which to pay our debts and meet the expense of maintenance.

But fortunately for us the Legislature provided the sum of $3,692.79 to cover a deficiency that existed during the fiscal year, and also made available an incidental fund of $2,000, which, together with our regular maintenance appropriation of $36,000 and $1,003.10 received for tuition, which with money received by us on account of our advancement on natural gas plant, $424.66, made a total amount of $43,120.55, with which we cleared our files of all unpaid bills and met the increasing demands of our rapidly growing Institution.

I respectfully ask your careful examination of the following itemized statement of our entire receipts and expenditures, and although the fiscal year of 1888-89 began with a burden of debt resting upon us and many difficulties and discouragements confronting us, yet the close of the year finds us with the burden lifted, discouragements overcome, and not a dollar of unpaid bills on our files. To accomplish this it became necessary to practice the most rigid economy and careful management in all departments. We have been compelled to forego the purchase of many things that would have added to our comfort, pleasure and more efficient work, but all connected with the institution have shown a commendable willingness to assist in every possible way to escape the burden of debt. However, in all this, the comfort and care of the children were never trenched upon, for I believe that no economy, however pressing, would demand the withholding anything that would tend to their happiness and welfare, and I am confident that the smiling faces, cheerful dispositions and rosy health of our little ones will testify that in all the skimping they never suffered.

Services are held every Sabbath morning, consisting of short talks on subjects that can be easily understood, Bible truths being illustrated by object lessons and anecdote. We use the gospel song book, and singing occupies the larger part of the morning hour. In the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock we all re-assemble in the chapel, where, besides solo and concert singing, the children recite verses of Scripture and pieces of prose and poetry appropriate to the occasion. These exercises last but one hour, and are made sufficiently varied and informal, so that the attention of the little ones is not lost.

The children commit very readily and greatly enjoy the distinction of repeating verses before their companions, while the truths contained in their recitations are made so plain that all may understand.

In closing this report, I desire to express my sincere thanks to each member of your Board for the courtesy, forbearance and confidence you have ever shown toward me and trust that in the future management of the affairs of this Institution I shall so conduct them that I will always merit your highest esteem.

To the officers, teachers, attendants and employes, upon whom rests the daily burden of Institution life, I desire to express my hearty commendation for their faithfulness in the discharge of every duty, for their patience and kindness exhibited towards the children under their care and for their willingness in rendering cheerful service in advancing the best interests of our school, and to assist in every way in lifting the work to a higher plane of efficiency and excellence.

No Superintendent can succeed in any Institution without the hearty co-operation of all concerned, but when each one cheerfully bears their share of daily duty, work becomes a pleasure and the burden rests lightly on all.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN G. BLAKE,
Superintendent.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

John G. Blake, Supt.:

There is ground for thankfulness in the fact that during the year there has been no dangerous contagious diseases in the Indiana School for Feeble-Minded Youth. While the neighborhood has been visited with a somewhat serious epidemic of dysentery and a full average of diphtheria and typhoid fever, no case of either has appeared among the pupils in the walls of the Institution. A freshly engaged teacher who came to service in February developed diphtheria within two days after her arrival in the building, but isolation and careful nursing prevented a second case appearing.

The morbidity of the pupils has been moderate, considering their imperfect physique and their equally imperfect mental apparatus, an unsound mind in an unsound body being a condition where the two defects of organization mutually act and re-act on each other, the result being a factor decidedly unfavorable to typical good health.

The number of pupils prescribed for during the year was about 100, and the number of prescriptions was 703. The greatest number of perscriptions made for one pupil was thirty-three and he is a patient still under treatment; there were forty three pupils for whom but one prescription each was made during the year.

There have been six deaths, five boys and one girl, since my last report; one from hydrocephalis, in January, one from congestion of the brain, in February, one from entertis, in March, one from acute bronchitis, in April, another one from acute bronchitis, in May, and one from congestion of the lungs, in September.

The general health of the pupils is good; true, there are a number of the pupils whose sanitary condition is below the average standard of the environing community, but because of physical and mental imperfections, these have each an individual standard of health which they now severally enjoy, and above which there is little hope of elevating them.

Respectfully submitted,

JAS. F. HIBBERD, M. D.

MANAGERS' REPORT.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., November 1, 1889.

To His Excellency ALVIN P. HOVEY,
Governor of State:

We, the members of the Board of Managers of the Reform School for Girls and Woman's Prison, have the honor of submitting to your Excellency this, the Eighteenth Annual Report for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1889, together with the reports of the Superintendent, the Secretary and the Physician, to which we respectfully refer you for complete information pertaining to the Institution.

At the time of our last report the Board of Managers consisted of Mrs. Eliza C. Hendricks, Mrs. Claire A. Walker and Mrs. Martha M. James. Mrs. James' term of office having expired in March of this year, Miss Laura Ream was appointed to fill the position.

In compliance with the request presented in our last report, by an act of the Legislature, approved March 9, 1889, the name of this Institution was changed from the "Indiana Reformatory Institution for Women and Girls, to the Reform School for Girls and Woman' Prison," and by the same act, a change was made in the age of the girls committed to and detained in the Reform School. The commitments were made to read * * * "for girls not under eight nor over fifteen years of age." "All girls who may be now or hereafter committed to said Reform School by virtue of any existing law or laws which may be hereafter passed, shall be detained in or committed to said Reform School until they respectively attain the age of twenty-one years: Provided, That the Board of Managers may release on parole all such girls at the age of eighteen years, under such regulations as they may provide, which release shall remain in force during the good behavior of such girl or girls."

In our several reports we have asked for a special appropriation for a hospital building and a brick wall. The last Legislature made an appropriation of $6,000 for a wall and $6,000 for a hospital. The sum named was found to be inadequate for the erection of a suitable building for the hospital, and, after much deliberation and consultation with our Advisory Board, we determined to add an upper story to each of the wings on the north side of the Institution building. By this plan, hospital accommodations would be provided for the prisoners, entirely separate from those of the girls of the Reform School, and greater facilities would thus be afforded for the management of both.

Messrs. Scherrer & Moore are the architects selected for the plans and specifications for these additions and the wall, and the contract for building the hospital was awarded to Mr. Louis F. Burtin, his bid being the lowest received. These additions are now under process of erection.

The contract for building the brick and stone wall was awarded to Mr. Timothy T. Sheehan, he presenting the lowest bid. This wall will soon be completed.

The awarding of these contracts and the careful oversight of these buildings and the wall have called us to the Institution many times in addition to our regular meetings, and we can report ourselves, as heretofore, entirely familiar with its government, discipline, condition and management.

In addition to the improvements mentioned above, a pantry has been built in the officers' dining room, a door was cut in the west wall of the lower hall, a door in the front basement hall and a door removed and archway made in the same hall; a window was placed over the stairway of the front hall and the stove room of the laundry enlarged. All these needed improvements were made on the Reform School side.

By the opening of Ohio street from Randolph street east, 126 feet of ground, lying just south of our property line, was thrown open. This ground is owned by the State of Indiana, and had been used by the Deaf and Dumb Institution as a pasture lot. We made application to the Board of Trustees of the Deaf and Dumb Institution for the use of that portion of the ground lying between our south fence and the new street. They complied with the request made, and the above named ground is now fenced in with our own property, and we await the action of the Legislature to formally transfer its use to this Institution.

OFFICERS.

At the regular meeting of the Board, held April 3, the Superintendent, Miss Keely, Assistant Superintendent, Mrs. Johnson, Secretary of the Board and Book-keeper, Miss Elder, and the Physician, Miss Smith, were each re-appointed to their several positions.

A number of changes have of necessity taken place among the subordinate officers during the year, to which the Superintendent refers in her report.

WOMAN'S PRISON.

There are in this department 59 convicts and one infant. Eleven of these prisoners are sentenced for life. During the year 32 have been received, and by reason of the expiration of their sentences 28 have been discharged. Of the 32 received 26 were white and 6 were black. Two were re commitments. The average number in this department was 57.

According to the statute requiring the same, school was kept up during the winter, in the evenings.

REFORM SCHOOL.

In this department there are 144 girls; 48 were received during the year on new commitments and 5 were returned from their tickets-of-leave; 22 were discharged and one was sent to the Home for Feeble-Minded Children. The average number in this department was 135.

The girls are required to attend school one half of each school-day and are engaged in labor of various kinds and in domestic duties the other half of the day. School closed on the 28th of June, and re-opened on September 16th.

During the summer intermission the girls were employed in the caning, sewing and laundry rooms, and wherever their services were necessary.

As required by statute, we have made a very careful estimate and determined the "actual expenses per annum of clothing and subsisting an inmate committed to the Reform School," and have fixed the amount thereof at $140.

The collections made from counties by the Treasurer of State, on account of this Institution during the past year, amounted to $9,211.81.

INDUSTRIES.

We have received during the year from the work of inmates and other sources the sum of $3,843.96. This amount has been turned into the State Treasury quarterly. The receipts have accrued as follows :

For cane-seating.....	$186 45
For overalls.....	309 04

EXPENDITURES.

The expenditures, including salaries, repairs, improvements and discharge gratuities, amounted to $29,999.71, being 29 cents less than the appropriation fund of $30,000.

Total amount drawn from State Treasury.....	$29,999 71

Total.....	13,055 77
Leaving the total charges of the Institution on the State Treasury for salaries, clothing, support and care of inmates for the year	$12,395 40

In the foregoing report we have endeavored to touch upon all matters connected with the Institution, and have been as brief as the importance of the subjects would justify.

We wish to express our obligations to the Superintendent and the Secretary for efficiency and fidelity of service.

In conclusion, we desire to acknowledge our appreciation of the many courtesies you have extended to us, and by the faithful discharge of our duties we hope to merit a continuance of favor.

Respectfully submitted.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

REFORM SCHOOL FOR GIRLS AND WOMAN'S PRISON,
SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, October 31, 1889. }

To the Board of Managers :

LADIES—With pleasure I submit to you the eighteenth annual report of this Institution.

In looking over the results of the management of the past year and comparing them with the results of former years, I am deeply impressed with the evidence of steady advancement and satisfactory improvement.

Our Institution is still a double one and our change in name to "Reform School for Girls and Woman's Prison," will certainly be more comprehensive to the public mind. We are laboring with the same object in view that has always actuated every movement of the Institution since its organization, viz.: the reformation of the girls and women whom the accidents of birth and environment have made wards of our State.

No deaths have occurred during the year, neither have we had any malignant type of disease to contend with. A few cases of serious sickness have occurred, all of which, with one exception, have readily yielded to treatment.

The sanitary conditions of the house are excellent. We have good ventilation, plenty of fresh air, wholesome food and faithful work. The reports of the Physician and Secretary are exhaustive, and clearly give the health record and detailed statements of all financial matters and statistical facts of the Institution for the fiscal year just ended.

Our discipline remains unchanged. Prompt obedience is still required. We have always found it better to rule by kindness than by force; that gentleness united with justice seldom fails in time to reach the most obdurate heart. That "a soft answer turneth away wrath" is daily exemplified here, and we find it just as true that "eternal vigilance is the price of all success."

The various agencies for the social, intellectual and religious advancement and education of the inmates have been faithfully and, we trust, successfully employed.

The officers of the Institution have worked in harmony and with commendable zeal for the reformation of those committed to their care, and great credit is due them for patient, untiring efforts to reach hearts and restore womanhood, working faithfully and hopefully even when met by discouraging dullness or perverse obstinacy and ingratitude.

Our numbers continue with variations the same from year to year. We believe all who go from us go with strong determinations to become honest, true women. Some very soon yield to temptation; some wander away for a while and then come to realize a longing for the truths they have slighted, while others do become reformed in every sense of the word.

Devotional exercises are held daily. Religious instructions by clergymen and laymen of the different denominations are dispensed to us every Sunday afternoon in the chapel. Frequent week-night services are also held with great profit.

A Society of Christian Endeavor has been organized among the girls, and has been a help to many.

Band meetings and meetings for prayer are often conducted by the inmates.

Sabbath schools, with all modern helps and daily lessons, give to us a systematic study of the Scriptures.

Our holidays and entertainments form epochs in the year's history, and relieve, somewhat, the monotony of institution life.

Owing to a change of law, girls are now retained under the control of the Institution until twenty-one. A ticket-of-leave may be granted when, in the judgment of the management, it is thought safe to place a girl out either in service or among her friends. Homes are always secured for the homeless. Girls are always furnished with a good outfit of clothing when going out, either upon ticket-of-leave or upon being otherwise discharged. A girl who spends but one year in the Institution does not receive quite as large an outfit as one being here longer, and a girl may forfeit her outfit, with the exception of the clothing she wears out, by continued bad behavior. If a girl is returned from a ticket-of-leave she can not receive another outfit upon going out a second time or when of age.

The first inmates in the Institution were two girls taken from the jail September 12, 1873, to help clear away the rubbish and prepare the building for occupancy. Seven hundred and seventy-five girls have been received since the opening. We have received during this year forty-eight girls; returned from ticket-of-leave, five; sent to Feeble-Minded Home, one; discharged because of scrofulous condition, two; have granted tickets-of-leave to nineteen, and have remaining at close of year one hundred and forty-four.

Three hours and a half each day are spent in school and the same length of time at work; the rest of the time is spent in play or sleep.

It has been said of us "that it is all pray and no play here," but all who are intimately acquainted with the workings of the Institution know differently. Few girls have greater privileges or more recreation than these girls have. They are taken to the yard from two to four times a day, when the weather will permit. They have jumping ropes, swings, grace hoops, balls, tops, ten-pins, checkers, jackstones, conversation cards, authors, dolls, books and papers in variety. They skip, race, jump, run, romp, march, pull all the buttons off their aprons, and make sad rents in their dresses. They do not dance, but they do play light quadrilles, have plain gymnastics and fancy marches, and in fact there is not much they do not do, either in the way of work or fun.

Our school has never been better. Some girls are capable of great advancement, while others learn but little. However, the same opportunities are given to all. Whatever talent we find is carefully drawn out and cultivated, whether it be for cutting, fitting or draping in dressmaking department, drawing, painting or teaching in school department.

The best girls are chosen for guards of honor in each department, and in no place do they give more help or show greater faithfulness than in the dormitories. They are thus taught care and responsibility, which some value very highly. If a girl proves false to her trust she is instantly removed and her place given to another.

Our hospital department furnishes, perhaps, more valuable lessons and practice than any other. Girls are here taught to bandage sprains, dress wounds, take the temperature of the body, nurse and prepare food for the sick. One young girl, well trained in this department, was sent into a flourishing school for young ladies in California where she not only renders service in the sick room, but has the privilege of completing her education, together with the study of medicine. Another now under training, showing decided surgical skill, will soon be sent either into a training school for nurses, or through a course of medical training with an uncle who is a practicing physician in Tennessee.

A young lady now living in this city, a member of one of the best churches, who was a former inmate here, said recently: "I can not see how any girl can go out from the Girls' Reform School and do wrong after all the faithful lessons taught them there." Very many such expressions come to us from girls gone from us, and many write back to thank us for what was done for them while here.

While we do not aim to make our Institution self-supporting, we are glad to make as large returns to the State for work done as possible.

We work for the sake of the reformatory power there is in work.

In the Reform School laundry there have been laundried 61,067 pieces of house clothing, besides 34,140 pieces for city patrons, for which $1,417.72 have been received and paid into the State Treasury. Out of this city work but one piece was lost, which was replaced at a cost of 25 cents.

Cane-seating is not very remunerative work, especially when young, careless fingers handle the tools. The net receipts from this department were $186.45. Seventy-one chairs were for private patrons, and the remainder of the work was done for the Central Chair Company.

THE WOMAN'S PRISON.

This department was opened October 8, 1873, with seventeen prisoners from Jeffersonville Prison. They were brought up by the Warden, Chaplain and Matron. Since the opening four hundred and twenty-two prisoners have been received; fifty-nine remaining October 31, 1889; eleven are for life. This number is small in comparison with the number of women imprisoned in other States. We receive all the women committed to the penitentiary for one year or over in the State.

The penal department is reformatory in all its details. We seek to cheer the faint-hearted, lift up the fallen, and point all to a better life, no matter what the past has been. The refining and elevating influences of the house soon make an impression upon the character, although it may have become very low and degraded. Clean, well-fitting clothes, good food and comfortable beds do not fail in doing their expected work in changing the appearance and general character of the prisoner. Women who were wild and unmanageable in the jail are hushed for a while, at least, into quiet submission by the power of song and prayer.

In the penal laundry, 21,406 pieces have been laundried for the inmates, besides 37,259 pieces for city patrons. Not one piece has been lost or destroyed, and no money has been paid out for damages. This year's receipts were $1,593.74.

Overalls, pants, drawers and jackets have been made in the general sewing department for R. G. Harseim & Co., while a number of comforts and quilts have been made for city customers. The family sewing department has greatly increased. Very genteel dresses are now being made, besides muslin clothing of every description. Also, the knitting of various kinds of lace, tidies, baby caps, mittens, etc. Quite a number of cotton mattresses have been made for the house.

Our garden, which furnished vegetables for the entire family, was made and gathered in by two women, after the ground was ploughed and harrowed. (For quantity, see Table No. 9).

Our food is always fresh, well-prepared, and palatable, served in sufficient quantity and variety. A bill of fare of the meals furnished each day is always kept. Also, all hospital orders for the sick.

One child was born in the Prison six months after the mother was committed, and one mother was admitted with a two-weeks-old baby.

Many magazines, papers and books have been sent in to us, for which we are truly thankful. Neither are we unmindful of the many who have added to our entertainment or instruction, whether spiritual or otherwise.

An evening school is taught during the winter months for all who can neither read nor write. The interest is usually very good, and some are anxious to learn.

The brick wall and hospital rooms, granted us by an act of the last Legislature, are in process of erection, and we hope soon to be relieved of our crowded condition.

IMPROVEMENTS.

A number of permanent improvements have been made.

The Reform School laundry stove room and room above have been enlarged.

A west entrance to the middle hall, with stairway to basement and also to hall above.

An outside entrance to front basement and building of stone steps.

Also, the removal of a brick partition, changing of gas meter and pipes; also, a large window at the head of a front stairway.

A much needed pantry to Superintendent's dining-room has been built with pantry below; resetting of dumb-waiter, putting in a copper-lined sink, and large chest of drawers added.

Some additional repairs have been made upon the ice chest.

Quite a number of repairs have been made upon the boilers, traps have been changed, new valves put in, pumps repaired, all causing considerable expense.

The usual amount of plumbing and repairing of steam-heaters has been done, besides the unusual plumbing necessary in changing from coal to natural gas.

Woven-wire mattresses have been purchased for all prison beds; also, quite a number added to the Reform School. Feather pillows have been placed upon all beds.

One horse and a new Surrey carriage have been purchased; also, two Singer sewing machines for Overall Department.

A number of ornamental and fruit trees have been set out, besides some hardy shrubs and roses.

LIVE STOCK.

Eight shoats were purchased in the spring, one died, six are ready to butcher and one has six pigs.

We have raised three calves and quite a number of chickens.

Our stock is in good order, consisting of three horses, four cows, three heifers, two calves, six hogs, one sow and six pigs, besides a number of chickens and ducks.

A number of changes have occurred in our corps of officers. Miss Mary O'Hara was appointed teacher of night school in the Woman's Prison in January, remaining only a short time; she was succeeded by Miss Grace Irvin. In December Mrs. Curry resigned her position as sewing teacher in the Reform School, and was succeeded by Mrs. Alice Pearce, who had been filling another position in the house. Miss Alice Barnhart, who had been away on account of failing health, returned to her former position of housekeeper, made vacant by Mrs. Pearce. In May Mrs. Malvina H. Aldrich, of this city, was appointed to the position of Prison Matron, Mrs. Abigail Broadrup having resigned for needed rest. Mr. John Madinger assumed the duties of engineer, day watchman and man of general work, November 1, in the place of Mr. Robert Gray, engineer, resigned. The work in all these departments has gone on in a very satisfactory manner, and we believe that all employed, either in or about the Institution, have tried to faithfully discharge every duty.

While we review the year with gratitude to God for His constant presence and help in the discharge of our daily duties here, we realize that it has not been all pleasure and prosperity, but has had its due proportion of care and vexation, incident to the discharge of duties in themselves not always pleasant.

I close with thanks to you as a Board for your constant support and uniform kindness, as well as for your careful examination into and approval of my management.

You have listened patiently to a monthly recital of all the minor incidents and details of our daily lives here, and have ever been watchful and vigilant to the best interests of our State's wards, as well as its finances—have always been ready to answer every call and to offer words of instruction, approval or sympathy.

With gratitude to you all, as well as to the dear Father, who has so carefully guarded our lives and kept us from harm when in the midst of danger, I most humbly submit to you this my fourth annual report.

SARAH F. KEELY,
Superintendent.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., November 1, 1889.

To the Board of Managers of the Indiana Reform School for Girls and Woman's Prison :

I herewith tender a report of the Medical Department of the Institution for the year ending October 31, 1889.

In the Prison Department there has been little serious acute sickness.

Those under medical care for chronic diseases include two cases of gastric ulcer, two of epilepsy, two of pelvic abscess, and quite a number suffering from various disorders of the pelvic organs, from venereal diseases, from rheumatism and from general debility.

There was one birth, a male child, colored, born February 24, 1889. Mother admitted September 19, 1888.

In the Reformatory Department health has been generally good.

There have been three cases of erysipelas, one of typhoid fever, one of bronchitis, one of concussion of the brain, due to a fall, a few cases of diarrhœa and dysentery, and several of tonsilitis. There have also been some cases of cutaneous and venereal diseases, of burns and abscesses, and one of disease of the knee joint. A few minor surgical operations have been performed in this department. Consultants have been called when necessary.

There are no deaths to report from either department, and health in the Institution is at present good. The building is kept in excellent sanitary condition, and comfortable clothing and wholesome food abundantly provided for the inmates.

Respectfully,

MARY SMITH,
Physician.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

THE INDIANA REFORM SCHOOL FOR BOYS, |
PLAINFIELD, IND. |

ALVIN P. HOVEY, Governor of Indiana:

The Board of Control of the Indiana Reform School for Boys, as required by law, submits this, the twenty-third annual report, being for the fiscal year of the State, ending October 31, 1889.

A few facts may bear repetition in these reports, that the history and character of the school may become well known.

It is located fourteen miles west of Indianapolis, near the town of Plainfield, and was first opened as the House of Refuge, January 1, 1868. The present name was adopted, and important changes made in the law, in 1883. The institution is not an orphan asylum or place for homeless boys. The law of 1883 expressly limits it to the incorrigible and criminal classes. This fact the Board desires to impress upon the public, and begs pardon for calling the attention of the judges of courts to it. The Board can not go behind the statements made in the commitment papers, but during the past year a few boys were received, whose appearance and conduct in the school indicated that they had never been incorrigibles, much less criminals. If they did not belong to either class, it was a crime to commit them, and it could only have been done through perjury. The change of the law in 1883 was made to prevent the possibility of injustice being done boys by sending them to the School, when they had not been incorrigible or criminal. This law provides that boys between ten and seventeen may be committed for incorrigibility upon complaint, sworn to by the parent or person filing it, and then due proof of the facts alleged, made in open court; and that boys between eight and sixteen, who have been arrested for crime, indicted, tried and found guilty may be sentenced to the School. In addition, the Governor can commute the sentences of youths or young men between sixteen and twenty-one who have been convicted and ordered to the State prisons. These are the only classes that can legally be sent to the school and they only in the manner above described.

COMMUTED BOYS.

In the past ten years the number of commutations granted by the Governor is sixty-three. The Board heartily approves of this liberal exercise of executive power, and recommends its continuance in all cases where the former conduct of the youth or young man has been good. The practice can no longer be considered an experiment, for a large majority of the commuted boys have been saved. The results have been so good that the Board in former reports has urged, and in this repeats the suggestion, that a reformatory for men should be established, patterned after the one at Elmira, New York. Indiana can not afford to lag behind other States in providing advanced methods for reforming criminals. Several States have already adopted the Elmira plan and others are preparing to do so.

SCHOOL ORGANIZED ON FAMILY PLAN.

Two plans are used in the government of reformatories, known respectively as the congregate and family plan. The latter is the one adopted for this school. There are separate buildings for a family of fifty boys, who are in charge of an officer called a house father. This plan permits a classification of the boys as to age and character, which is so desirable and necessary in a reform school.

The family tie is a bond of union, and this assists in creating a generous rivalry between the families to excel in conduct, and in all public exercises.

There are ten family buildings, two of which are double, making the present capacity for twelve families of fifty boys each, or 600 in all. The Board indulges the hope that this will be sufficient for many years, and doubts the propriety of enlarging for a greater number, even if it should ever become necessary. Only ten families were maintained during the year.

GOVERNMENT.

A very large majority of the boys have never learned the lesson of obedience at home. Some because it was never taught them, others because they would not. This is the first lesson in a reform school, and it must be learned. The rules are required to be enforced with great kindness, great patience and great firmness. In the school are collected many of the worst boys in the State. Some will not yield to kindness and good advice; their parents have tried these, and in some cases, even resorted to harsh measures and failed; some have been the terror of the school-room, while others have never darkened the school-room door, and have been terrors to the communities in which they lived. They have indulged in evil habits for years, and mild methods of punishment will not always break these up. When the latter fail, as a last resort, corporal punishment is inflicted. This is always done in one way, as described in the Superintendent's report. All corporal punishments are reported to the Board at each monthly meeting, and these reports carefully examined. The Board considers the mode of correction infinitely more humane than locking up in a cell or dark room, or depriving a boy of all food, except bread with water.

The military government adopted by the present Superintendent assists in controlling the boys, and in cultivating neatness in the care of their apparel and persons. The uniform is a suit of blue jeans, and a military cap. On Sunday they must appear in line with clothes in good order, shoes blackened, and with a white collar and a neck tie. A martial band, composed of boys, furnishes music for the march to the dining-room every day, and to the chapel on Sunday. This semi-military government relieves the monotony of school life, and in this respect is not only beneficial to the boys, but also to the officers.

A full, detailed description of the government of the school would make this report too long. The Board invites the closest scrutiny of all the methods adopted, and welcomes visitors at all hours. It is an open reformatory in the fullest sense of the term.

DISCHARGED BOYS.

All boys are committed until twenty-one years of age, unless sooner discharged by the Board. Good conduct alone secures discharge, and the boys all understand this. A record of conduct is kept, and at the close of the month the Superintendent meets all the House Fathers in council, examines the record and discusses the conduct and character of every boy, and then determines his standing or badge. Those who have secured their "honor" badge are promptly discharged by the Board. An honor boy may be at work on a job or in a place which it may be difficult to find another boy to fill, but he is not retained for this reason. He has earned his discharge, and it would be gross injustice to deny his ticket of leave. The honor badge is not always conclusive proof of reformation, but it is the best evidence, and the Board acts upon it.

There are always a few policy boys who obey all the rules solely for the purpose of securing a release. Insincerity is soon disclosed after they are out. Their bad conduct evidences that they were not thoroughly reformed, and they must be ordered back.

Another class go home with cheerful and happy hearts, and with the very best intentions of living correct lives, but they find very little or no support from friends or relatives, and gradually fall into their old ways. These are also ordered back. The saddest class are the homeless boys. When discharged, homes must be found for them by the Superintendent or members of the Board. These homes are not always satisfactory, and the boys not well treated. In such cases they are permitted to return of their own accord to the school, and remain until a better home can be procured. These homeless boys appeal strongly to the sympathy of the management and should be followed, when they go out, with tender and directing advice.

For these especially, and for all discharged boys, the Board again calls attention to the importance of creating the office of a visitor, who shall have supervision of all discharged boys. The Superintendent now keeps watch over them, but his work must necessarily be done largely by correspondence, and can not, therefore, be as effective as an investigation conducted at their homes. The full benefits of the work of the school can not be secured until it is made the duty of some one to look after all discharged boys. The Board is of the opinion that money expended in the pay and expenses of a visitor will be in the interest of true economy. A close supervision will prevent many from falling, and thus the expense of returning, as well as for another term in the school, will be saved. No boy is absolutely safe before he reaches manhood, and it is folly to spend money in reforming bad boys and then cease to follow them up with friendly advice and oversight.

The streams which supply adult crime should be effectually dried up, and the close supervision of all discharged reform school boys will aid very materially in securing this desired result.

AVERAGE LENGTH OF TIME BOYS DETAINED.

The shorter the time necessary for reformation the better it is for the boy. The average length of time required is two years and it is unfortunate for the boy if he has to remain longer. They are encouraged, and even required, to keep up a regular correspondence with their relatives and friends. All must write a letter every three weeks, and this is done at the expense of the State. There is little hope for the boy who loses all desire to return to home and friends. Those who do, settle down to the everyday routine of the school, become careless, stolid or indifferent, and must be retained for years. A happy and cheerful obedience to the rules and a desire to return home are the most hopeful indications of true reformation.

INSTITUTION LIFE.

A reform school, even if well managed according to the best methods, can not be made to fill the place of the well regulated and happy home, where parents and children meet around the hearthstone. It may afford a much better home than many of the boys have been accustomed to, but there is wanting the fellowship of kindred and the freedom of action, so dear to all.

It is a mistaken philanthropy that proposes to collect children into institutions to be retained for years. It is not best for the children and, in addition, adds largely to the burdens of society.

Institution life is unnatural, and for children, should be avoided if possible. There is some danger, where they are detained for years, of the institutions becoming nurseries for the reform school, for the evils of congregating a number of children under one roof are well known to all who have studied the subject. Criminal boys and girls must be restrained until reformed and the feeble-minded and other defective classes provided with special schools, but all other homes or asylums for children should only be "clearing houses" through which they are passed as rapidly as possible into good private families. This "clearing house" system is commended and approved by all the best minds who have given thought to the proper disposition of dependent children. Some orphan asylums have contributed inmates to the school, and this fact is sufficient cause for alluding to the subject in this report. There are a number of good people in Indiana who think that the only way, and all that is necessary to save a child, is to procure a home for him in some institution. These need to be educated.

NUMBER OF BOYS COMMITTED.

It will be seen from the table accompanying this report that 2,996 boys have been committed since the opening. It is interesting to note that the cities furnish reform school boys very much in proportion to population. The number received from eight counties, in which are situated the largest cities, are as follows: Marion, Indianapolis, 603; Vigo, Terre Haute, 152; Allen, Fort Wayne, 126; Wayne, Richmond, 91; Cass, Logansport, 91; Vanderburgh, Evansville, 85; Tippecanoe, Lafayette, 63; St. Joseph, South Bend, 63; making 1,274, or nearly one-half. These figures prove that the nurseries of crime are in the cities. It will also be seen by this table that the rural counties furnish a very small proportion of the reform school population, three of them never having contributed a boy. The same fact appears in the State prison reports.

A distinguished man has said "that society raises its own criminals; that it ploughs the soil and cultivates and harvests the crop." This is as true in Indiana as in Chicago.

CRIMES FOR WHICH BOYS WERE COMMITTED.

There were 201 boys committed last year. Of these, 93 were charged with incorrigibility, and were committed under that clause of the law. It frequently occurs that boys are arrested for crime and the courts give the parents the opportunity to file against them immediately, and do not require them to wait for an indictment. For this reason the record of incorrigibility is misleading, as many of these boys have committed crime. No serious objection can be made to this practice, for the true nature of the boy's offense is soon discovered at the school and he is treated accordingly.

BUILDINGS AND THE IMPROVEMENTS.

There are now twenty brick buildings, beautifully situated, as will be seen by the views which will accompany this report. More than half have been erected in the last ten years, the boys having done most of the labor, from making the brick to completion. This work has added largely to the value of the property, and the buildings stand as monuments to the industry of the boys.

The improvements made during the past eight months are a boiler house, and brick tunnels for steam and water-pipe. These required over 800,000 brick, which were all made and laid by the boys, under the supervision of two skilled workmen and the regular corps of officers. Many of the boys became proficient in moulding, setting and laying brick. The interest they took in the work, and the cheerfulness with which they performed it was a hopeful indication that they appreciated the opportunity to learn a trade, and that they would follow it when released.

The steam and water plant, for which the Legislature made an appropriation of $27,000, will be equal in extent and superior in workmanship to like plants in other institutions which have cost $55,000 or $60,000. The labor of the boys and the skill of the officers have been utilized beyond the expectations of the Board, and great credit is due to all for faithful and good work.

NEW EMPLOYMENTS NECESSARY.

With the completion of the steam and water plants, the institution will be fully equipped. The labor of the boys can no longer be utilized in erecting new buildings. A large number will still be required to do the work of the farm, garden, gas house, tailor shop, shoe shop, the kitchen, dining-rooms, etc., but all can not be thus employed. The minds of the boys from the rural districts should not be directed from farm life, and these can continue to be assigned to that department. The city boy will not go to the country, and he should be sent home with, at least, the rudiments of some trade that can be followed the year around. There has been no true reformation if there is no desire for work, and to encourage and help the city boys they should be furnished by the State with the capital of a trade. The whole future life of the boy should be considered in all the education of the Reform School, and instruction not confined to the school-room. Among the most important lessons are those which teach them how to work. It is true economy to prepare them to earn a good livelihood, for then the chances are largely increased that they will cease to be a public charge by reason of criminal conduct.

A Reform School can not be conducted with a view of making money. It is no place for the contractor or the foreman who is not an officer of the school. Entertaining these views, the Board proposes that industrial training shall continue to be the leading feature of the Indiana school, and will enlarge the facilities for teaching trades, and also diversify the instruction more in the future than in the past.

The three-story brick shop is now used for caning chairs, and as a carpenter, paint and shoe shop. Some minor improvements will be made in this to adapt it to the use of an industrial school, in which may be taught, at least, the rudiments of several good trades. The details will be left to the Superintendent, whose success in all other departments assures the Board that he will make a like success of this important branch of the work.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR SO MANY BAD BOYS?

It is a startling fact that in twenty-one years 3,000 boys have been committed to the Indiana Reform School. Who is responsible for this sad record is a question for serious consideration. A full discussion of the subject would extend this report beyond all proper bounds, and for this reason, only one, but, perhaps, the principal cause, will be considered. Could correct statistics of the number of children neglected by their parents be collected the result would be startling. Parents have not done their whole duty when they have clothed, fed, housed and sent their children to school. They neglect them if they do not know and select their associates, direct their amusements and restrict the hours for indulging in them.

Very many parents give little attention to these important duties, while others entirely neglect them. These guilty parents are found in all classes of society. The rich and the poor are represented in the Reform School.

The importance of reforming the homes which may contribute to the penal and reformatory institutions is apparent to all who have studied the causes of crime. This is work largely for the benevolent and not for the State. In some of the cities of this State a commencement has been made. The free kindergarten work is the most practical philanthropy of this charitable age. Its primary object is the child, but its influence reaches the home of the child, and all the members of the family are improved by the kind and sympathetic work of these practical philanthropists. It has been well said that they "carry the lamp of charity into the dark places," and "that this solicitude for children is one of the best evidences of a growing civilization."

All teachers in the public schools may, as some of them now do, assist in reforming the homes of the children. The school work often reaches beyond the scholars. It may be that all of the 14,202 teachers in the public schools of Indiana do not fully realize this. Their positions furnish them a grand opportunity for extending a good influence into the homes and improving them. This is peculiarly true of teachers in the cities. Many of the common schools are, and all should be, great aids in the formation of good character, and doubtless many boys have been saved from criminal lives by them. It is an amazing fact that many poor parents do not avail themselves of the benefits of the public schools, which are provided largely by the munificent, self-imposed taxation of the well-to-do and the rich. The sunshine of the school-room should be carried into every home where there is a child, and when this is done, the population of the Reform School will decrease.

So many boys have reached the Reform School because of the defect of home government and the neglect of parents, that the Board calls attention to the subject with the view of arousing the public to the importance of considering a remedy for it. It is not the province of this Board to suggest remedies, but only to call attention to the causes which are at the foundation of crime. It has been beautifully said that "to cure is the voice of the past; to prevent, the divine whisper of to-day."

Reference has been made in these reports to the fact that very few boys of German parentage become inmates of the School. Family government with the Germans is not a lost art. It seems to be in many American homes.

REMEDIES BY THE STATE.

The State can not afford to allow children to be neglected by their parents, and when the benevolent, educational and other persuasive measures of society fail to correct the evil of neglect, the strong arm of the law should be invoked. To wilfully or permissively allow the moral nature of a child to become depraved is a crime against the State; therefore, when the natural parents fail, or refuse, to do their duty, the State should delegate the work to its own agents. The Children's Guardians Act of the last Legislature applies only to the city of Indianapolis. It may be wise to extend its provisions to other large cities for the reason, as has been already stated, that the large cities contribute so many boys to the Reform School. The only danger is that the arbitrary provisions of the law may be abused in its execution.

The Board takes no pleasure in reporting the large number of boys who have been committed to the School. The number is startling, and awakens profound interest in the consideration of the causes, and also in the measures that should be adopted to stay the increase of the tide of juvenile crime. The Board is deeply impressed with the fact that no child is safe who is neglected.

RESULTS OF THE WORK.

The School is now twenty-one years old, and it is to be regretted that correct statistics of the work from its foundation can not be furnished. The present Superintendent has been in charge nearly ten years, and he has obtained much information as to the history of former inmates. The information from boys whose homes are in the cities is both sad and cheerful, and the good and bad reports about equalize each other. Better results have been secured in the cases of boys from the rural counties. Quite a number of the city boys have joined the State-prison ranks and others are doing only moderately well. It is gratifying to report that some who have gone to the State prisons have been satisfied with one term and have been law-abiding citizens since their return. This is an encouraging evidence that the lessons learned in the School have in time produced good results. The number of these cases has attracted attention and are the most cheering indications of the lasting and ultimate benefits of Reform School work. The confirmed criminal classes are very largely deficient in even the rudiments of an education—many not being able to read. When released from prison they have no resources within themselves for passing the leisure hours, and they, therefore, seek company and old associates, and again commit crime.

The Board has observed with pleasure the increased number of boys in the last few years who have done well when discharged. This may be accounted for from the fact that they go out each year better equipped with knowledge of some trade or useful occupation. The constant aim of the Board and the Superintendent is to make improvements in the methods of instruction, and thus give the boys a capital of good character, a good trade and a happy and cheerful mind.

COST OF KEEPING BOYS.

In compliance with the law, the Board has fixed the cost of keeping each boy for the next year at $120. Half of this amount is paid into the State Treasury by the county from which the boy is committed, and these amounts are placed to credit of the general fund.

CONCLUSION.

The Board files herewith the able report of the Superintendent, to which attention is called. Also find herewith the financial statement required by law. The Board calls attention to this, for it shows that the School is a tax on the State Treasury for only $33,271.55. The plan of requiring the counties to pay half of the expense of all the boys committed might be extended to the other State institutions and thus secure more equal justice to the tax-payers.

Respectfully submitted.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To JUDGE LEWIS JORDAN, HON. L. A. BARNETT,

CAPT. A. D. VANOSDOL, Board of Control:

Nearly ten years ago I became Superintendent of the Indiana Reform School for Boys. In looking backward over the decade now closing, I try to measure the progress made and the good accomplished. In both respects, I think, the Reform School of Indiana has kept fully abreast with the best similar institutions of other States. The year which has just closed is one which must stand pre-eminent over all the others for its results, both moral and industrial.

The generosity of the last Legislature gave us an appropriation of $27,000 for steam heating, for fire protection and for a laundry. This appropriation was but 50 per cent. of the actual cost of these if built by contract.

But we counted upon doing the work ourselves, and thus saving the other half. In March last we opened our brick yard, and during the season we have made 800,000 bricks and placed in walls 1,000,000 bricks, 200,000 having been made the last year. This was but a fraction of the work accomplished. The erection of the boiler house and laundry building required much carpenter work. The construction of the steam plant has educated at least twenty boys to be good steam fitters. All this has simply been extra work.

The regular work of the institution has not been allowed to suffer. But these preliminary observations apply only to the increased advantages we have had to teach useful trades. Let us pass to the consideration of the results of the year's work.

RESULTS AS TO REFORMATION.

A reform school for boys is not a "work house." Its work is not to be measured by the "out-put" of muscle; it is not a "prison" where inmates are simply incarcerated and compelled to do "hard labor." Its mission is far higher. It takes youths from 10 to 21 years of age, who have gone astray, who have wandered from the paths of rectitude, and it leads them back to right ways of living. To do this it must first lead them back to right ways of thinking. A reform school may utilize its labor to the highest degree; it may erect beautiful buildings; it may point with pride to its beautiful lawns, to its elegant walks and to its ample provisions for the physical comfort of its inmates; and yet it may fall short of accomplishing its proper work. The real test of its work must be the per cent. of the boys it has saved. This is the chief aim we have ever had in view, and I believe and know that, measured by this standard, our school has been a great success. We are assured by the best of evidence that a very large majority of our boys do well after they leave the school. I think that the following is a true statement of these results:

Those who do well for one year.....	95 per cent.
Those who do well for two years.....	91 per cent.
Those who do well for three years.....	89 per cent.
Those who do well throughout life.....	80 per cent.

The above is a low estimate. In very many of the counties of the State (especially the rural counties) every boy who has ever been committed to the Reform School has done well. It is in counties where the largest cities are that there are the most failures. "Bad homes," street life and inability to secure employment are the prime causes of failure.

HEALTH.

The construction of an extensive "steam plant" necessitated the excavation of 1,357 feet of tunnels outside of buildings, 546 feet of trenches under the buildings and 685 feet of trenches to shops and green-house. This upturning of the earth, as was feared, caused considerable sickness of a typhoid nature, but no deaths resulted from it. There were but two deaths during the year. Our physician, Dr. Amos Carter, has, as in other years, proved himself to be the "right man in the right place." During the year he has made 400 visits to the boys. At each visit he gives all the boys who have ailments a hearing. In him the boys feel that they have a true friend, and one who is ever anxious to preserve their health.

OUR HOSPITAL.

Each year has brought our hospital nearer to perfection. Whenever a boy is unfitted by sickness to perform his usual daily duties he is sent to the hospital. There he is received by the nurse in charge, Mrs. Juliet F. Wade, and, if needed, medical aid is at once called in. The boy is cared for better than in almost any home of the land. It gives me pleasure to commend Mrs. Wade for her faithful performance of every duty.

SANITARY CONDITIONS.

The State Board of Health pronounced the sanitary conditions of the Reform School to be the very best of all the State institutions. No institution in the State has such excellent drainage. Cleanliness has been rigidly required. Ventilation is good. The system of labor, one-half of each day, gives healthful exercise to each boy. Good clothing and good food complete the conditions required for good health.

RECREATIONS.

I doubt if anywhere in the land there is an institution which pays the subject of recreations so much attention. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Realizing this, every possible effort is made to give the boys ample recreations. The spacious play grounds afford the means for base ball and foot ball. For the winter season the well-equipped gymnasium affords a variety of indoor sports. Aside from these provisions for physical sports, the boys are supplied with books and papers for their evening hours. Each cottage is a home. The officer in charge is expected to so arrange the exercises that the evening to each boy be made a happy one.

DAY SCHOOLS.

These are organized upon the half-day system. Boys who attend school in the forenoon must work in the afternoon, and vice versa. The schools are graded in every respect like public schools of cities. Competent teachers are placed in charge of them. They continue in session most of the year. During the past summer the higher grades were given a vacation in good weather, in order to accomplish the great work in hand, and in order to facilitate the teaching of trades. We confine the work of the schools to the common branches. Thus, by concentrating the work to a few studies, the results have been greater than if we had attempted high school work.

U. S. HISTORY.

I have always believed that the teaching of the history of our country and of our State is calculated to develop a patriotism which of itself is one of the sterling virtues. Nearly ten years ago I began teaching history. Each boy is supplied with a text-book on U. S. History. He studies it nearly every evening of the week, and on Saturday evenings all assemble in the chapel to recite it to me. The lesson assigned is a week's work. The officer in charge of each family must see that it is well learned. Thus each year the entire school completes the course in U. S. History.

INDIANA HISTORY.

I am not a believer in "State Rights" in its usual acceptation, but I do believe that the study of the history of our own State is sadly neglected, even in our public schools. As part of the work of educating these boys I hold that the study of the history of our State is essential. It is the State of Indiana that snatches them "as brands from the burning" and gives them this comfortable home. They should be taught gratitude to the State that thus rescues them. December 11th is made one of our holidays, for upon that day Indiana was admitted into the Union (1816). Each year we have celebrated this anniversary. I have seen much good resulting from this.

These boys are made acquainted with the geography, the history and the wonderful resources of our State. They study its form of government and learn to love the State that has befriended them. I have been pleased to see the example of the Reform School followed by many of the public schools of the State. Upon "Indiana Day," the boys recite sentiments which teach respect and love for their State. They learn patriotic songs, some of which are composed for the occasion. Such sentiments as the following are recited by all:

"The winds of heaven never fanned,
The circling sunlight never spanned
The borders of a better land
Than our own loved Indiana."

While we teach a proper love for our own beloved State, we also teach loyalty to the Union. Not only the loyalty that manifests itself in a desire to fight its battles, which is the most exalted, but a loyalty and patriotism that means "obedience to law" and "the duty of becoming industrious members of the commonwealth." In the same line of instruction we celebrate "Washington's Birthday" and the "Fourth of July." The true patriot is one who respects and honors the laws of his country in times of peace as well as of war.

TEACHING OF TRADES.

This is, in every sense, an "Industrial School" as well as a Reform School. Here I wish to quote from a letter of the Rev. Oscar C. McCulloch. He says: "All reformation must follow the line of industrial laws. (1) The causes that fill reform schools are neglect, idleness, ill-regulated work or absence of work. The cure must be along the same line, bringing unregulated natures into form by industry. (2) Productive industry should be second. As far as possible, all work should look toward economic value. Pounding with the back of an axe on a log may be work, but no self-respecting tramp would take a week's contract. 'No chips fly.' But, on the other hand, the productive must be secondary to the instructive."

Realizing that no boy is properly equipped for the duties of life unless he is instructed in some useful trade, this School has made paramount the teaching of the following trades:

- | | |
|-------------------|------------------------------|
| 1. Brickmaking. | 11. Shoemaking and cobbling. |
| 2. Brick-burning. | 12. Gardening. |
| 3. Bricklaying. | 13. Farming. |
| 4. Plastering. | 14. Caring for live stock. |
| 5. Gas-making. | 15. Floriculture. |
| 6. Steam-fitting. | 16. Laundry work. |
| 7. Plumbing. | 17. Chair-making. |
| 8. Bread-making. | 18. Carpentering. |
| 9. Cooking. | 19. Blacksmithing. |
| 10. Tailoring. | 20. Painting. |

In order to accomplish these results our labor is "primarily instructive; secondarily productive." No manual labor or polytechnic school in the land can possibly teach the useful trades as completely as we do here. The officers in charge of these various industries keep constantly in view the instructive object. Take, for instance, brick laying. Each boy is first taught how to hold the trowel, how to take hold of bricks, how to take mortar, how to spread the same, how to cut off the mortar, how to point off the same, how to lay bricks so to break the joint, bind the layers and how to plumb the work.

In this way the boys are taught "how to do by doing." In the blacksmith shop the instruction is progressive. From "blowing the bellows" the boy is taught the art of handling tools, heating the iron, and on up till he can shoe a horse or iron a wagon.

In steam-fitting the boy is at first but a "helper." Gradually he learns to handle the tools, until finally he works by a diagram and makes his own working plans. He learns to take a pride in the work of his hands. "Not how much but how well," is made his motto as a learner.

THE BOILER-HOUSE.

Soon after the adjournment of the Legislature you employed Louis H. Gibson, of Indianapolis, architect. His first work was to prepare plans for a boiler-house, to be erected at the foot of the north ravine, so that the "gravity system" might be used; also to utilize the artificial lake at the head of the same ravine. The selection of the sight was a fortunate one, and the architect's plans of utilizing the burned laundry as a part of the same building was a still greater success. It saves at least $3,000 to the State, for the old laundry building will now be converted into a commodious bath-house. The west wing will be used for bathing under sprays with the use of soap. When this is accomplished the bathers will pass through a doorway into the swimming pool, which will be 46 feet long and 18 feet wide. The two large rooms in the second story will be used for dressing-rooms. By this arrangement 80 to 100 boys can be bathing at the same time.

The boiler-house proper is built on the south of the old building, and projects eastward beyond it about 20 feet. This eastern projection overlapping the old building gives us a model "work shop" and an engineer's sleeping-room.

The boiler-room is 65 feet long and 53 feet wide. The two batteries of boilers are placed on the eastern side of it, thus giving a space for future use as a laundry or electrical department. The great smoke-stack is on the east side and is 136 feet high. The entire building is covered with an ornamental slate roof. The stone foundation cost, exclusive of labor and the dressed stone, $700.

The coal bins are on the south side of the boiler house and are so arranged as to rise to the level of the upland bluff. Teams hauling coal, drive over the arched bins and the coal is thrown down through large circular openings. Elsewhere in this report is a view of this boiler house in process of erection.

THE BOILERS.

Of the twelve bids received and opened at the special meeting of the Board, July 15, 1889, the contract was awarded to "The Babcock & Wilcox Water Tube Boiler Co.," of New York, to furnish, placed in position, four boilers (400 horse power) for $7,792. These are the "Water Tube" boilers, and the best made in the country. They are the same as those in use in the three new hospitals for the insane and the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Knightstown. They have been in use for many years and, as yet, have never been the cause of the loss of a single life.

THE STEAM AND WATER PLANTS.

In a subsequent meeting of the Board you received bids to erect the steam plant and the system for water supply and fire protection. The result of two days' deliberations was the awarding of both contracts to L. J. Highland, of Indianapolis, upon these terms:

Steam plant.....	$9,913 00
Water supply plant	2,140 00
Total	$12,053 00

Jenkins Brothers' valves were everywhere required. The specifications of Architect Gibson were so carefully prepared that, when completed, the plants will be the best in the State. The contractor bound himself to complete the work by Nov. 15, 1889, but grossly bad management on his part will postpone the completion until February, 1890. But, knowing the temper of your Board and the exacting firmness of Architect Gibson, I feel confident that when it is received it will be an almost perfect system of steam heating and water supply. This work, lasting six months, has been largely done by our boys. Under the direction of skilled steam fitters they have prepared and put into position every steam pipe and every radiator. Under competent water pipe experts, they have caulked and placed in position every water pipe and every hydrant.

The steam plant is for both high and low pressure. The laundry and kitchens will be supplied by high pressure pipes from either of the four boilers that may be selected for the high pressure work. The other boilers will be used for warming the buildings. The great steam main leading from the boiler house is 14 inches in diameter.

STEAM PUMPS.

The great pump used for fire protection is one made by Dean Bros., of Indianapolis. It is a duplex pumping-engine of the Worthington pattern, with an 18-in. steam cylinder, 10½-in. plungers, 12-in. stroke, 8-in. suction and 7-in. discharge. It cost $730 at the works. The other pump is by the same makers and is for supplying the boilers. Stillwell & Bierce's feed-water heater, size 8 feet by 3 feet, is provided.

THE PROPOSED LAUNDRY.

The appropriation will not be sufficient to supply this much-needed want. It has given us the building, but we must look to the next Legislature to supply us the outfit. The present system is inadequate for the wants of a growing institution.

OUR TAILOR SHOP.

This is a model of its kind. All the suits and shirts worn by the boys are made here by the boys under the direction of the lady in charge. Boys like this trade, and I am pleased to report that many of them follow it after they leave the school.

REPAIRING OF CLOTHES.

The "patch room" is one of the most interesting departments of our school. There one may find from 16 to 20 small boys busily engaged in repairing bed-clothing, sheets, pants, vests, coats, etc. The excellence of the work of these lads is marvelous.

DARNING-ROOM.

Here all the boys' socks are brought and examined. Where repairs are needed they are quickly made by the lady in charge and her helpers.

SHOE SHOP.

Owing to the pressure of extra work, we have purchased many of the shoes worn by the boys during the past year, and have confined the work of the shoe shop largely to repairing. With the burden of the extra work lifted upon completion of the steam and water system, we shall then make most of the shoes in our own shop. I regard shoe-making by hand as one of the best of the trades taught here.

FLORICULTURE.

We have an excellent florist, and one of the best green-houses in the State. Boys like this department. It greatly adds to the attractiveness of our grounds in summer. The florist has charge of all the lawns. I think this department is all that it should be. No State institution has more beautiful groves, lawns and flowers. Situated so far from market this department is non-productive, but it is of great value from an instructive standpoint.

OUR DAIRY.

Owing to our limited pasturage this department is quite limited. Instead of 60 cows, we have but 12. Boys do the milking, and they do it well. When we get more land I hope to see this department greatly enlarged.

OUR GAS WORKS.

During the year the gas works were carried on altogether by boys. Gas making is one of the best of trades, and the boys are eager to learn it. Our works are excellent. The surplus coke produced is used in the bake-house, and in stoves. The coal tar is sold, and the proceeds turned into the State Treasury.

DISCIPLINE.

Our discipline is excellent. A reform school without good discipline would be a "a hot bed of evil." Our boys come to us from homes where this essential is wanting. They come expecting to be subjected to discipline. They are not disappointed. At once they "fall into line" and render cheerful obedience. The so-called "bad boy," if the discipline is good, is as easily managed as any other boy. He is quick to recognize "a master hand," and he admires the officer who exacts the most perfect obedience. He has a supreme contempt for a weak officer. It is to be regretted that there is not some "Reform School Normal Institute" to train officers for this class of schools. A "new man," no matter what may be his educational qualifications, is a burden to a reform school until he learns how to manage wayward boys. But each reform school must train its own officers. This class of boys should at once abandon their bad habits and begin to cultivate good habits.

HOW THIS IS DONE.

The newly-arrived boy must be made welcome by officers and boys. He must be cautioned to avoid wrong-doing and urged to do what is right. Upon his admission to the School he is given a standing which we here call his "badge." This is determined after a study of the boy's past life, and the particular offense which caused his being committed. Every offense subsequently committed has its bearing upon the boy's standing. If he be still incorrigible he receives "reports" for each infraction of the rules. If his conduct is very bad his officer may resort to corporal punishment. But no punishment is inflicted without the permission of the Superintendent. When an officer concludes that a boy requires corporal punishment he must first make out a written application, which is worded thus:

APPLICATION FOR PUNISHMENT.

REFORM SCHOOL FOR BOYS.)
PLAINFIELD, INDIANA.....1889.)

T. J. Charlton, Superintendent:

I desire instruction whether or not to punish.....
..... No..... Offense.....

My own judgment is that he should receive.....strokes.

.....

FORM OF PUNISHMENT PERMIT.

You are hereby permitted to punish No.—, with the strap, —strokes, but not until you have called him up to you and kindly shown him the gravity of his offense, and that you are discharging what, to you, is a painful duty.

T. J. CHARLTON, Supt.

My aim, at all times, is to reduce corporal punishments to their minimum. Each boy is allowed to accompany the application and to present, in person, his own cause. I never grant a permit until I am sure that it is the proper thing to do. Whenever an officer mistreats a boy, he is summarily discharged. It has ever been my practice that no boy in this reform school shall be mistreated. The records will bear me out in the assertion that in this respect I have fearlessly performed my duty.

ACCESS TO THE SUPERINTENDENT.

For nearly ten years I have tried to make the means of access to the Superintendent easy to all. My custom is to hear every boy who may have a complaint. To facilitate this, I frequently go and sit in the dining hall and hear each boy's requests. Every Saturday afternoon I give several hours to seeing the boys "reported" during the week, as well as other boys who may wish to consult me. In passing around the Institution, I never fail to listen to the requests of a boy. As a consequence, I have never yet heard of a boy out on ticket-of-leave, who complained of mistreatment at the Reform School. This fact has done much to give the Reform School the good name it has won and maintained with the people of the State.

INCENTIVES TO GOOD CONDUCT.

1. Good treatment.
2. It pays to do right because it is right.
3. Good conduct hastens his honorable furlough, and bad conduct postpones it.
4. Bad conduct deprives a boy of privileges, while good conduct enlarges them.
5. Corporal punishment is made the last resort. If other appliances fail, the teacher applies to the Superintendent in writing, for permission to inflict a certain corporal punishment. If the Superintendent, after due investigation, grants the permit, the extent and manner of the punishment is clearly set forth. Thus bad habits are suppressed, and good habits are formed.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS TRAINING.

This being a State institution, supported by the taxes of persons of all religious beliefs, the natural conclusion is reached that nothing which is taught here should partake of a sectarian nature.

The boys are taught reverence for Deity, reverence for those fundamental truths recognized by all religious people. Our chaplain, Bro. Hilton U. Brown, is but a layman, but he is deeply interested in this work. His zeal and his sympathy for the unfortunate have won for him the confidence and respect of the boys. He is a favorite with them all. His coming on Saturday afternoon is always welcomed by officers and boys. He visits the sick, consoles the unfortunate, and cheers them all by words of hope. His aid in discipline is very marked. As an expounder of the truth of right living, and as a "personal worker," he is certainly very successful. Being an accomplished scholar, he greatly aids me in the teaching of the history lesson on Saturday evenings.

I submit herewith his annual report. He speaks to the boys every Sabbath morning, and assists in the Sabbath school in the afternoons.

OUR CATHOLIC BOYS.

After ten years of observation I can bear testimony to the valuable aid rendered us by the visits to the Catholic boys of that venerable prelate, Rev. August Bessonies, of Indianapolis, the Vicar General of this diocese. No weather too stormy, nor other obstacles are allowed to keep him from his appointments here. His unspotted life, his sympathetic nature, his zeal for the cause of his Great Master, are well known throughout the State. These Catholic boys greatly revere him, and therefore receive his teachings with willing hearts. We know that each visit does good. In our hearts we feel that it was of such visits as his are that it was spoken: "Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord."

HOLIDAYS.

The Indiana Reform School believes in holidays. Those observed by us are:

- | | |
|---------------------------|------------------------------|
| 1. New Year's Day. | 5. Thanksgiving Day. |
| 2. Washington's Birthday. | 6. Indiana Day, December 11. |
| 3. Flower Mission Day. | 7. Christmas. |
| 4. The Fourth of July. | |

We believe in boys having just as much fun as possible. It was Homer who was accredited with the sentiment: "That laughter in the tents makes heroes in the field." So we believe that, as one of our colored boys said, "Throwing away the frown and picking up a smile," has much to do with making this class of boys the better fitted to meet the temptations of life. Discontent is a bar to reformation.

THE LOVE OF READING.

These boys come to us without a taste for reading. Many of them are totally illiterate. Those who have been admitted for the past two years are more illiterate than those in former years. We notice this in our schools. Why this is, I do not know. It may be due to improvements in the "judicial dredging," that it has gone deeper than it did in former years.

This class of boys, in their past lives, sought amusements on the streets or filled the galleries of low grade show houses. Our aim is to create in each one a taste for good reading. We do not attempt this at one step. We take daily papers and induce the boys to read them. We receive 121 daily papers each day. Aside from these we take over 200 weekly periodicals suitable for boys. At the close of a meal the dining hall looks like a reading room. The family sitting rooms of evenings present a similar appearance. In addition to this general reading of periodicals supplied by the school, the boys receive many books and papers from their homes. Many others are donated by friends. While our library of miscellaneous books is small, yet the study each week of several pages of U. S. History and the Sabbath-school lesson gives the much-desired training in reading.

EDUCATION UPON CHARACTER.

There is no doubt that education is one of the strongest agencies in suppressing crime. Reform School boys, as a rule, are very illiterate; ninety-five per cent. are below the fifth-year grade, and about fifty per cent. below the third-year grade. But very few, when they enter here, have education enough to read a book or paper intelligently. The consequence is, that in their previous life the love of reading never detained them at home of evenings. The hours of danger to a boy or man are those between sunset and bedtime. The illiterate boy has no resources within himself, and naturally leaves home to find amusement and pastime; he thus encounters temptations that lead to his downfall. Let a boy be educated, let him be taught to love the reading of good books or papers, and he has within himself a source of pleasure which the illiterate can never know. Aside from this, knowledge adds a new interest to labor. A cultivated mind can appreciate the advantages of a correct life over a vicious one more than an illiterate mind can possibly do. "We must educate, we must educate or we must perish." Realizing this, the Reform School does not neglect the mental faculties in the development of character.

NEED OF A LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

I recommend that the next Legislature be asked for an appropriation of $4,000 for a library building, and $1,000 for books. We have no suitable rooms for a tailor shop and darning room, and these could be provided in the second story of this library building.

MORE LAND NEEDED.

The Reform School farm consists of 225 acres. It is not large enough to supply us with the much-needed pasturage.

Every variety of crops, raised on farms in this latitude, should be grown here in order to teach the boys practical farming.

If we had more land this could be done. There is a farm just south of the State farm, consisting of about 60 acres, which is for sale. Another, of 200 acres on the west side, both of which would be very desirable. I trust that the next Legislature will purchase one or both of these farms.

THE ORCHARD.

The old orchard has almost become a thing of the past, but as fast as the old trees die young ones are planted where they stood. Realizing that the decline in the orchards of our State is largely due to the exhaustion of the soil, we have given orchard ground a rest from crops and have used suitable fertilizers to restore it to its primitive fertility. I think that the yield of fruit will be much greater in the years to come than in the past. As fast as the fruits ripen they are served to the boys or preserved for future use.

THE FARM.

Our garden is probably the best in the State. C. W. Lawrence has entire charge of this department, and I submit herewith his annual report of the yield, which speaks for itself. In the plantings we limit the same to what our population of about 500 will consume. All is used here during the year.

FOOD.

No boy can be reformed on a starvation diet. Fully impressed with this belief, it has been my aim to supply our boys with an abundance of good, wholesome food.

CLOTHING.

Each boy is supplied with two full suits, consisting of coat, pants and vest, made of the best indigo jeans. Summer shirts are made of the well known "Hamilton stripe." Winter shirts are made of the Iron Mountain flannel and the all-woolen flannel, made by the Seymour woolen mills. Woolen underclothes are supplied to those who specially need them. Overcoats are supplied to the boys who are exposed to out-door work. We use straw hats in summer and woolen caps in winter. In summer, cotton socks, and in winter, woolen socks are worn.

OVERSIGHT OF RELEASED BOYS.

The Reform School has two fields of work, and I sometimes wonder which is the more important; whether the 2,500 boys out on ticket-of-leave, or the 450 boys still at the school. During the year there were in all 704 different boys in the school at various times. Twenty-six boys came back to us of their own accord, finding it almost impossible to secure work. While this returning to the school is discouraged, yet such boys are always welcomed. They are allowed to select the trades they wish to follow, and at a favorable opportunity they are again "placed out" to earn their own living.

Fifty-four boys were recalled to the school for not doing well.

All boys belong to us until they become 21 years of age. The law makes it my duty to recall them whenever their environments are shown to be such as to injure them, or when they have not done well.

TICKETS OF LEAVE.

No boy is ever discharged until he reaches the age of twenty-one. But boys are released on "furlough" or "tickets of leave" after, by a long course of good conduct, they reach their "honor badge," if the authorities of the school then deem him worthy. He is then granted a ticket of leave for one or more months. If in that time his conduct has been exemplary his furlough is renewed; if unsatisfactory, he must return to the school. Each year many tickets of leave are revoked, and the boys recalled to the school.

My experience has shown me that this oversight of boys, after they leave the school, is one of the best features of Reform School work.

RECAPITULATION.

In looking back over the years I have been your Superintendent, I am impressed with the thought that the work of this Reform School has been greatly augmented from the fact that there have been but few changes in the official staff. This is a work where good men and women should be retained in the service. The unworthy should be dropped from the roll. The nature of the work of reforming bad boys is such that the qualifications of the officers and ladies employed should be made as high as possible. Partisanship may be well enough elsewhere, but it has no room in a work like this. "He serves his party best who best serves the State," should be made the motto in State institutions.

THANKS.

My thanks are due:

First. To the faithful officers and ladies who have worked fourteen hours each day with these boys.

Second. To Assistant Superintendent T. F. Roberts for his fidelity to the trusts committed to his care.

Third. To Clerk Frank D. Johnston, whose conscientious discharge of every duty is so marked.

Fourth. To Officer L. E. Wade, the oldest employe now in the service here, for his management of the chair shop.

Fifth. To Officer A. J. Hylton for his faithful work. With the help of boys he made and burned 800,000 bricks during the summer, and when that work was done he resumed his place as teacher of the highest grade.

Sixth. To all the other officers and ladies, all of whom merit special mention.

Seventh and lastly. To you, the Board of Control, who have ever given me a firm support. In this Reform School there is always harmony. This is the result of your action. It has greatly strengthened me in the arduous duties devolving upon me, and I trust that our relations in the future may be as pleasant as they have been in the past.

Respectfully,

T. J. CHARLTON,

Superintendent.

The average age of the boys now at the School is sixteen years, while the average time that boys are detained at the School is two years.

Including the returned boys, the total number admitted during the year was 317; 277 of these boys are white and 40 are colored. There remains in the school, October 31, 374 white and 75 colored. Most of these were committed for criminal offenses.

“THE COLOR LINE.”

There is no race distinction here. Colored and white boys constitute each family. I have never discovered any essential difference between the races here, either intellectually or morally. I have sometimes thought that were the colored boys in separate families it might be the best for all. However, that is an open question.

Leaving in the Institution October 31, 1889, 449 boys. These boys were not discharged, but were simply released on trial. Upon leaving the school a boy is granted a ticket but for 30 days. When this ticket expires, the boy must send proof of good conduct, and if these are satisfactory, his leave is extended for 60 or 90 days longer. If unsatisfactory, he is ordered to return to the school. During the year 54 boys were recalled to the school, but these were mostly from the boys who had gone out in former years.

Some of these boys, not finding employment, returned of their own accord. The wholesome effect of returning boys who fail is one of the most gratifying results of this work. These boys seldom fail when given a second trial. It has always been my conviction that the State should provide for a visitor, whose duty it should be to visit every county in the State to aid boys in need, and to return those who were not doing well.

2 Buggies (old).	4 Cultivators.
1 Large spring-wagon.	4 Harrows.
1 Small spring-wagon.	1 Sulky hay-rake.
7 Road wagons.	2 Wheat drills.
1 One-horse wagon.	1 Fan mill.
2 Ox carts (old).	1 Bean thresher.
2 Mowing machines (old).	2 Cutting-boxes.
6 Large plows.	1 Potato-digger.
1 Small plow.	2 Garden hand-plows.
4 Double-shovel plows.

Below I submit a list of all live stock on hand Nov. 1, 1889:

14 Horses.	5 Young cattle (yearlings).
4 Mules.	5 Calves.
11 Cows.	25 Hogs.
1 Bull.

Two of the horses are on the retired list, but having served the State faithfully in their day, have earned a rest in their old age. I think that the treatment of these animals has served as a lesson to every boy, for they treat them with the utmost kindness. It would be cruel to sell them.

The counties that have never been represented in the School are Newton, Scott and Starke.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

INDIANA REFORM SCHOOL FOR BOYS, }
PLAINFIELD, IND., NOV. 1, 1889. }

To T. J. Charlton, Superintendent:

I have the honor to submit the following as my eighth annual report:

The general health of the boys for the past year has been good and there were only two deaths. The important cases have been of the following diseases: Consumption, 2 cases; caries of pelvic and femur bones, 1; diphtheria, 3; erysipelas, 4; pneumonia, 16; malarial fever, 16; typhoid fever, 10; gastritis, 1; peritonitis, 1.

One case of consumption resulted fatally, that of Daniel Johnson, colored, who died April 7th, aged 12 years, 7 months and 28 days.

Walter Sexson, of a fragile constitution, died August 2d, aged 16 years, 6 months and 17 days, after much suffering and a lingering illness of about eight months, with caries of pelvic and left femur bones.

The diphtheria cases were isolated, thorough disinfection secured, and we were favored with no further spread of the dreaded malady, and complete recovery in each case.

One of the erysipelas cases was quite severe; the others rather mild.

The pneumonia cases all recovered, leaving in none any permanent lung trouble.

The malarial fever was what is usually denominated typho-malarial, but not so aggravated as that sometimes proves.

The typhoid fever was not of really malignant form, but five of the cases were quite serious. Peritonitis developed in one of these cases, during convalescence, but is now rapidly progressing toward recovery.

The case of gastritis was developed from an unknown cause in an otherwise healthy boy, and while it was for some days quite obstinate, he speedily recuperated.

During the latter part of the winter, through the spring and early summer months, we had a number of cases of whooping-cough, all getting well, and during a portion of the same time there were a few cases of mumps and of chicken-pox.

The development of the malarial and typhoid cases was undoubtedly due to the excavations made for the tunnel system of steam and water pipes, as no other known cause existed.

Our hospital has never been kept in better order, and the needs of our sick boys more intelligently supplied, than under Mrs. L. E. Wade's skillful management. "It is better than he could be cared for at home," has been the expression of more than one parent and relative, after visiting boys in the hospital and noting the careful attention paid the sick by the nurse boys, under the training and oversight of the lady in charge.

Cleanliness, fresh air, thorough disinfection and proper diet are some of the things to which we attribute success in the sick-room; and, we believe, the cultivation of the cheerful spirit of boyhood is a powerful antidote to an inclination to despondency, if any boy manifests such tendency; therefore, we encourage pleasant and cheerful demeanor in the wards.

The sick boys are always glad to see Chaplain Brown during his weekly visits. They appreciate his Christian teaching, kindly sympathy and instruction.

With gratitude to our Father in Heaven, who put it into the hearts of the people of Indiana to provide so bountifully for her neglected and criminal boys, and to select a Board of Control of Christian men, and a Superintendent and Matron, whose Christian love so wisely seeks to supply, with generous hand, all the needs of our sick boys, and with sincere thanks to all, officers and boys, who have assisted in making it a pleasure to be connected with the Indiana Reform School for boys,

I am respectfully,

AMOS CARTER, M. D.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

To T. J. Charlton, Superintendent, and Messrs. Lewis Jordan, L. A. Barnett and A. D. Vanosdol, Comprising the Board of Control of the Indiana Reform School for Boys:

GENTLEMEN: I need not tell you that the year now closing has been one of extraordinary activity in the institution of which you are the responsible head. The improvements which have occupied so much of your time have had a marked and wholesome influence on the boys. They have not been observers, merely, but workers. They have been able, day by day, to see the fruits of their labors. They have had a proprietary feeling in the success of your plans, and, as the vast stretches of tunnels and the splendid new building approached completion, they have entered into the enjoyment and satisfaction which come to those whose work is well done.

The success of the plan on which this institution is operated has been pointedly illustrated in the year's work. The dignity of labor has been impressed upon every boy. Labor built these great works, and everybody, in contributing his share, at the same time acquired knowledge which will be of life-long use to him. He knows that his labor is valuable, for he sees the evidences of it about him. But there is another point of view from which I may, perhaps, more becomingly make some observations. The labor in which the boys have been engaged has been conducive to the best moral and religious results. Labor tends to withdraw the mind from "cark-ing cares" and ignoble thoughts. Labor that pleases will soon establish good spirits, and, as a rule, it is easy to influence for good a boy who is happy and cheerful. The year's work has been of this nature, and incidentally, therefore, the task of stimulating the religious nature of the boys has been greatly facilitated.

The methods employed in my department have been those long in force in the institution, and so successfully administered by my beloved predecessor, Bro. John G. Blake. I have sought to make the boys feel that there is no chasm between them and the pulpit. The scriptural lessons presented, and the advice given, have been designed to help and to encourage, not to depress. Boys of the ages of those coming under our instruction have great recuperative possibilities. Sometimes these are latent. They must be aroused, stimulated. There must be an awakening, an appeal to the sense of manhood, to the spiritual hope. This appeal must be within the comprehension of youthful minds that have, sometimes, their first serious view of life yet to take. Public discourse may be effective; personal sympathy and appeal is the surer methods. Sunday services have never been neglected, and as far as possible I have sought to influence by personal contact.

We have been favored by visits on Sundays by many friends, and these have invariably contributed to the pleasure and instruction of the boys; and have in return received the most agreeable impressions of the conditions and progress of the institution. Particularly have they been gratified at the song service. I believe that Indiana Reform School singing is one of the recognized delights of the commonwealth. I have accompanied the jubilee singers to public entertainments away from Plainfield upon several occasions, and have invariably noted the praise bestowed both upon the music and the gentlemanly deportment of the boys.

Good singing and good manners have contributed equally, perhaps, in giving the inmates of the institution deserved popularity. It may not be out of place here to speak of the subject of table manners. How one should conduct himself at the table is an important lesson for a boy having nothing but his manners to give him standing. These things are frequently rehearsed by the chaplain as well as by other officers. I have found, in making the rounds of families, that family worship is not neglected. The custom you long ago wisely established of having evening devotions, under the sincere efforts of a faithful house father, ought to have a lasting and marked effect upon the lives of those participating. In this day, when among so many people the Bible is practically an unknown book, it is gratifying to find it in constant use in the Reform School. Readings from it are given daily, and every boy, by the rules of the institution, is required to know not only the Sunday-school lesson each week, but passages of Scripture which are most helpful and which are of universal adaptation, such as the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments, the First and Twenty-third Psalms, etc. Cramming and "vain mouth-ing" of texts are strictly prohibited, and as no boy is permitted to leave the institution ignorant of reading and writing, so none is allowed to go forth to fresh trial of strength in the battle of life without some knowledge of the Scriptures, enough, indeed, to show him the way, the light, the truth.

There has been sickness in our midst throughout the year, but thanks to the skill of Dr. Carter and the faithfulness of Mrs. Wade and her assistants at the hospital, the death rate has been kept to a minimum. There have been, indeed, many extraordinary recoveries, and the appeal to do right has been pressed with double force upon those whom Providence has restored. Many times during the year, in taking walks with families, we have visited the little grave-yard, to recall the lives of those whose bodies lie buried there, and to learn some lessons by reflection.

Indiana has done much for her unfortunate classes, but much remains undone to discourage those toiling in reform work. What is there for scores of boys who fairly earn their honor here to live for? Reformation here does not abolish the temptations without. Provision should be made to counteract the influence of old and evil associations. A State agent "in the field" to look after the interests of the boys out on leave of absence, to second your efforts in seeing that they secure work or attend school, is an old recommendation that may be again repeated and emphasized.

The most cordial relations exist between all of the officers of the institution, and I feel under many obligations for the kind favors so often bestowed.

Chaplain.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH, }
JEFFERSONVILLE, December 2, 1889. }

To His Excellency,

ALVIN P. HOVEY,

Governor of Indiana:

The Directors of the Indiana State Prison South have the honor to present to you their report for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1889, of this State Institution.

On the 8th day of March, of the present year, we met at the Prison with Hon. John Horn and Hon. Geo. W. Denbo, two of the retiring Directors, presented our certificates of election as Directors of said Institution, and were duly installed into office by these gentlemen. On the next day, the 9th, all books and papers in charge of the Board were turned over to our keeping, and we assumed the duties of the Board of Directors of the Indiana State Prison South.

We found the Prison in good condition, and congratulate the former Board of Directors and the officers on the very efficient manner in which the affairs of the Prison have been conducted.

At our regular meeting of April 9, 1889, there being vacancies in both the offices of Prison Physician and Deputy Warden, occasioned by the resignations of Dr. H. S. Wolf and Mr. W. L. Barnes, we proceeded to an election, which resulted in the selection of Dr. G. U. Runcie, of Fort Branch, Gibson County, as Prison Physician, and Capt. Abel Ewing, of Greensburg, Decatur County, as Deputy Warden. These gentlemen assumed the duties of their respective offices, and have proven valuable and efficient officials.

We proceeded at once to familiarize ourselves with the affairs and workings of the Prison, and to investigate as to the wants of the Prison and the prisoners. There had been much difficulty experienced with the Patton Manufacturing Company in the construction of their contract, which led to serious misunderstandings between the company and the Warden, and the result was the matter was submitted to the decision of the Attorney-General and other counsel, and was amicably adjusted to the satisfaction of all parties concerned.

The contract for 175 men with the Jeffersonville Boot and Shoe Company was about to expire, and all efforts to re-lease the labor had been futile. The former Board of Directors, on the 27th day of December, 1888, authorized the Warden to advertise for bids, which was done by giving three months' notice in the daily press and by circular letters asking for bids, to be received to May 14, 1889, and at which time no bids had been received. The Board being at that or at any subsequent time, unable to lease the labor until the expiration of the contract of the Jeffersonville Boot and Shoe Company, which terminated on the 14th day of June, and finding it then impossible to secure a contract for the labor, the men were locked up in idleness, and we thought it would best serve the interests of the Institution to purchase the machinery and plant of the company, and put the men to work to keep them employed until some other arrangements could be devised to employ them; therefore, the Warden was ordered to purchase the machinery, boilers, engines and fixtures at a price of $6,000, and the convicts were put to work in the manufacture of boots and shoes for the State, which was continued until the close of the fiscal year, when the labor, after proper advertising, was let to the Falls City Boot and Shoe Manufacturing Company at an average price per man of 42 cents per day.

Although the prison was in as good condition as could be expected under the circumstances connected with it, yet we found much to do in the way of repairs and improvements, and desirous of adding to and elevating still more the status of the Prison and its management, as begun under the retiring Board of Directors, we carefully considered every want, inspected every need, and labored earnestly to improve and give the Prison every advantage possible.

We caused to be constructed during the time we had been in control of the Institution four new brick buildings with metal roofs, as follows: A guards' hall, Warden's office, Library, and Directors' rooms, in the place of an old and dilapidated frame structure that was removed to make room for a brick building, which adds to the security and furnishes needed conveniences to the Prison; one ware-house, 20x40 feet; a tannery building, 30x55 feet, with brick-paved floor, and a two-story brick building, 35x90 feet, of modern style, the lower story to be used as a dining-room, the upper for a much-needed tailor shop, using in the said buildings 350,000 brick, and for pavements within the prison walls 15,000 more brick have been used. We have caused new floors to be laid in the shops, where most needed, to the amount of upward of 16,000 feet, repaired the walks and ranges of the central cell-house, which necessitated the use of many thousand feet more of lumber, and to better aid sanitary measures, repeatedly caused all the cells, buildings, walls and workshops to be repainted and whitewashed, inside and out, which required considerable time and labor; caused eight large flues to be built in the new cell-house, for the heating and better ventilation of the building. The air-shafts were formerly unsuccessfully used for flues; caused brick flues from the ground to be built in the two-story buildings of the saddle-tree department, and have put on the old shop buildings 207 squares of metal roofing, laid many feet of underground pipe, put in six fire-plugs and hydrants, and purchased 550 feet of hose, which affords the Prison needed and ample fire protection; extended and enlarged the sewerage, and erected and placed within the Prison vaults that aid sanitary measures, and refer to the physician's report for the healthy condition of the inmates.

At each of our monthly meetings we carefully inspected the Prison, conversed with the convicts and looked after their welfare and interests, spiritual as well as temporal, and purchased more than 500 additional volumes of books for the Library, as well as numerous papers and periodicals, and feel gratified at the new zeal and interest shown by the prisoners in religious and educational matters. And the Sunday-school and night-schools are largely attended and well instructed by competent teachers under the efficient control and management of the Moral Instructor.

Under the present system of discipline the convict is made to feel that he is human and is not so degraded but that he still possesses rights as an individual, which will at all times be regarded, and the effort is made to impress him with a sense of manhood and honor that will awaken his better nature and develop elements of character within him tending to reform and make a better citizen of him when he is again permitted to mingle with society.

One of the most harrassing, and, at present, greatest misfortunes, that darkens dreary prison life is the shadow of insanity. There is no provision made by law for the transferring of insane convicts to places of security, where their unfortunate ailments could be properly treated. This prison has been happily free from such a blight for some time, but recently two cases have developed and the wretched victims became so desperately violent as to endanger life and limb of all who came within reach. To prevent their injuring themselves or others they must be kept confined in ordinary cells and constantly guarded, as they can not be put in the general hospital. Their maniac ravings and horrible noise irritates, annoys and constantly excites other convicts that almost destroys their peace and comfort; and the only apparent remedy for this dire evil is to build in a remote part of the Prison premises a suitable building to retain and separate this doubly unfortunate class, and we would respectfully ask your Excellency to give this matter your careful consideration, that some better measures may be reached for the care of these demented creatures.

The financial condition of this Prison is quite pleasing. The appropriation of $17,832 made by the last General Assembly for the payment of old debts of the Prison, was carefully applied to that purpose, and $17,670.85 of that sum expended in satisfaction of old claims, as will be shown by vouchers in the office of the Auditor of State, leaving a surplus of $161.15, which was paid to the State Treasurer. This liquidates the entire indebtedness of the Prison, and releases it of the burden placed by former mismanagement.

For the improvements made, $8,000 of the appropriation fund "for new buildings and machinery" has been drawn, and at this date $7,207.59 of the amount judiciously expended for the purpose provided by said law. As the weather permits, these necessary buildings and repairs will be hastened to completion.

The receipts for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1889, from convict labor has been $64,850.27, and from miscellaneous earnings, $1,054.91, making a total of $65,915.18. The amount expended for maintenance, salaries, discharged convicts and repairs was $64,763.23, leaving a balance of receipts over expenditures of $1,151.95, notwithstanding the unavoidable losses occasioned by the expiration of the contract of the Jeffersonville Boot and Shoe Company, and the enforced idleness for many days of 130 men. The total expenditures during the year, including the $6,000 paid for the machinery, boilers and engine of the shoe plant, and the expense of the building erected for the execution of felons, was $71,082.49, which deducted from the annual appropriation of $80,000, leaves an unexpended balance of $8,927.51, and when compared with the expenditures of the preceding year, shows the actual expense to be $6,853.06 less than in 1888. The daily average number of convicts for the year was 549, and the cost per man per day, covering all accounts, was 32.3 cents, a saving of 3.7 cents over the year of 1888.

The library fund, which is derived from visitors' fees, at the end of the last year was $980.74; the receipts for this year from the same source amount to $921.50, a total of $1,902.24; amount expended for books and periodicals was $468.83, leaving a balance of $1,433.41.

At the time of the expiration of the contract of the Jeffersonville Boot and Shoe Company, and our inability to relet the labor, being compelled to employ the men in the manufacture of boots and shoes for the State, or suffer from consuming idleness.

During the brief period we so operated the business we realized for the State nearly $3,000.

The slops of the prison are used in feeding cattle for the State, the profits of which add to the receipts of the Institution.

The sewerage outside of the prison walls has been improved and extended, and is now in as near perfect condition as is possible to make it.

Rev. W. P. Barnhill, Moral Instructor, resigned his office at the close of the fiscal year. The resignation was accepted with regrets, as he had made a satisfactory and efficient officer.

During the year the excellent Secretary of the State Board of Charities, W. Alexander Johnson, has visited the Prison three times, and carefully inspected every department, and the entire Board made one visit together, and we feel called upon to acknowledge to him and the Board obligations for the kind suggestions and the interest evinced in the management of the Institution. In referring to the able report of Dr. Runcie, Prison Physician, we are compelled to commend him for his zeal and energy exerted in the prompt and perfect discharge of his duties.

In conclusion, we refer to the very complete report of the Warden, James B. Patten, and desire to say that he possesses our fullest confidence, and we regard him as an efficient and trustworthy official, and thank him for the cheerfulness and promptness with which he has complied and executed all our orders, and for the careful and business manner in which he discharges all his duties. To his sterling deputy, Capt. Abel Ewing, we express our admiration for the able and ready manner he has performed his official duties, and the valuable assistance rendered the Warden. To Major R. J. Conner, the Clerk, we confess our obligations for his many uniform acts of kindness and the very able assistance given us and the Warden in his duties, and we take pleasure in here referring to his valuable report, and to the other officers we return our thanks for the fidelity to duty and the very great interest taken in conducting the affairs of the Prison.

With kindest regards to yourself, and thanks for the commendable interest you have shown toward this Prison, we are,

Very truly yours,

W. B. McDONALD,
R. E. SLATER,
FLOYD PARKS,

Directors.

WARDEN'S REPORT.

WARDEN'S OFFICE, INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH, }
JEFFERSONVILLE, December 2, 1889. }

To the Honorable Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN—As it is made my duty by law to submit to you a report annually of the affairs of this Institution, I therefore, in accordance with the law and usages of the Prison, submit my report, together with that of the clerk, of the affairs of this Prison for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1889.

FINANCIAL.

The financial condition of the Prison is very satisfactory. The receipts from convict labor and other sources than that received from the State were $65,915.18; the amount disbursed for maintenance, salaries, discharged convicts and repairs was $64,753.23, leaving a balance of receipts over expenditures of $1,161.95. The receipts of the Prison would have been much greater had there been no loss on account of the expiration of the Jeffersonville Boot and Shoe Company contract. Owing to the difference in the time of the expiration of the contracts of this company it made it impossible to guard against loss. The contract for fifty of the first-class men expired April 1, while the contract for one hundred and twenty-five men continued until the 14th of June. This prevented the employment of these men until the expiration of the entire contract, as the State had no other shop room which could be used for their employment, consequently there was a loss to the State of three thousand days, and after the termination of the contract and failure to relet the labor there was an enforced idleness of at least one hundred and thirty men until about the 5th day of July, when the State began the manufacture of boots and shoes, entailing an additional loss of two thousand three hundred and forty days. This was not the only loss sustained in the labor account, as there was the loss incidental to the closing out of the State's work and putting in the Falls City Boot and Shoe Manufacturing Company. This loss greatly crippled the resources of the Prison, and would have been much greater had the convicts not been employed by the State in the manufacture of boots and shoes. The earnings in this industry to the State will be about $3,000, which, when the business is fully settled, will be turned into the State Treasury. The total expenditures during the year, including the purchase of the machinery, boiler and engine of the shoe plant, and the construction of an annex building to the cell-house for the execution of felons, were $71,082.49. This amount deducted from the annual appropriation of $80,000 leaves a balance of unexpended appropriation of $8,917.51. The financial condition, compared with the previous year, shows the expenditures for maintenance and repairs to be $6,853.06 less. The actual expenditures for the year 1888 were $71,606.29, and the daily average number of convicts, 557. The cost per man per day, covering all accounts, was 35.1 cents, and the average cost per man per day for provisions was 11.4 cents. While the actual expenditures for this fiscal year, ending October 31, 1889, were $64,753.23, and the daily average 549, the cost per man per day was 32.3 cents. The cost of provisions for the year was $20,031.38, and the average cost per man per day for provisions was 10 cents.

The last General Assembly appropriated $17,832 to pay the old debts, and $17,670.85 was used in discharging the claims, and vouchers for that amount were filed with the Auditor of State and $161.15 paid to the State Treasurer. This frees the Prison entirely from any debt, and if the litigation now pending against A. J. Howard and his sureties and against Perin & Gaff is successful the State will realize about $15,000 therefrom.

Of the appropriation for new buildings and machinery $8,000 has been drawn, of which there has been expended $7,207.59.

CONVICT CASH.

There is now on hand in the convict cash fund, cash received from convicts, the sum of $1,661.19.

LIBRARY.

During the year there has been added more than five hundred volumes to the Library. The condition of this fund is as follows :

Amount on hand at close of fiscal year 1888	$980 74
Received during the fiscal year 1889.....	921 50
Total.....	$1,902 24
Amount expended during year.....	468 83
On hand November 1, 1889.....	$1,433 41

IMPROVEMENTS AND REPAIRS.

There have been constructed within the year four new brick buildings with tin roofs, to-wit: One ware-house, 20x40 feet, and one tannery, 30x55 feet, with brick-paved floor; both buildings one story in height; a guards' hall, Warden's office, Library and Directors' rooms have been constructed. This building was much needed, and adds to the security and convenience of the Prison. A large two story brick building, with hipped roof and square cornice, covered with tin, well lighted, with thirty-eight windows, has been erected. The building is 35x90 feet, and the first story is to be used as a dining-room, and the second floor for a tailor shop and clothing department. The rooms of this building are ceiled overhead, while the walls are plastered and hard finished and wainscoted on the sides to the height of four feet. The floor of the dining-room was laid with the best of quartered pine, with an elevation in the center of one inch and a depression of one-inch valleys on the sides of the room to carry off the water through scuppers to the sewer. This building forms a tee-head to the main dining hall and the end of the old building was arched through, connecting the two dining halls. The total number of brick used in these buildings was 350,000.

Sixteen thousand feet of new flooring was laid in the shops, and two hundred and seven squares of tin roofing put on the old buildings. Spouting and underground leads, with proper filterers, were constructed to carry the rain water to the reservoirs, to enable us to get a better supply of soft water. Water pipes were laid, and six fire plugs and hydrants put in, and five hundred and fifty feet of two and one-half inch hose purchased. This gives the Prison ample fire protection. Fifteen thousand brick have been laid in pavements. In the construction of the last cell house no provisions were made for heating it by stoves, and for years the air-shafts were used for flues by piping out under the eaves to the top of the building. To remedy the evil the roof was cut through and eight flues put in. All of the work and labor of repairing and constructing new buildings, the plumbing and gas fitting has been done by convict labor under the supervision of the officers of the Prison, with the exception of a few days' labor of a stone-cutter and the superintendency of putting on the tin roofing.

EXECUTION OF FELONS.

The last General Assembly enacted a law providing for the execution of felons within the walls of the State Prisons; therefore, it became necessary to construct a building within the Prison to carry out the provisions of the law, which was done by adding an annex to the central cell-house. The construction of this building became a necessity, as one William Benson had been convicted of murder in the Clark Circuit Court and sentenced to death. He was sent to the prison according to the provisions of the law, where he was kept in seclusion for more than one hundred days prior to the day fixed for his execution, and his sentence commuted by the Governor to life imprisonment only five hours before the hour fixed for his execution. Every preparation had been made, and the condemned man removed to the cell in the scaffold building and the death watch placed over him, and he had passed through the agony and torture of a thousand deaths. Hope and resources had failed him, and he sat in a dazed way and dumbly awaited the end. The action of the Governor came too late for him to at first realize the kind and humane conditions which saved his life. During the construction of the building and scaffold I had an opportunity to study the effect upon the convicts, and became fully convinced that every stroke of the hammer was received as a challenge of defiance, which only intensified the animal resistance in their baser natures. The sight of it intensified the feeling of resistance, and the animal man came to the surface and showed his teeth and prepared to meet it as an additional menace and threat. I was not able to perceive any beneficial results which would tend to restrain the man's passions. As the time approached for the execution, and as the night of the day of execution closed in, the convicts filed into the cell-houses with a gloomy silence pervading everywhere. Although it was what we call the "free hour," when mirth, song and music is heard in every quarter, the faces of the convicts wore the expression of desperate men, who are leading a forlorn hope. But when the Governor's Private Secretary entered with the order for commutation, the effect upon the minds of these men was like a flash of light in the blackness of night. All was changed instantaneously, and in a very short time the music and songs had resumed their wonted sway.

LABOR CONTRACTS.

The contracts for hire of labor now in force are as follows :

With Patton Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of hollow ware, to expire December 10, 1891, at sixty cents per day	100
With Alexander G. Patton, manufacturer of hollow ware, to expire January 15, 1892, at fifty-five cents per day.....	100
With William D. Patton, manufacturer of hollow ware, to expire December 1, 1891, at forty cents per day	50
With Richard M. Dennis, manufacturer of saddle-trees, to expire December 1, 1891, at fifty-five cents per day	100
With the Falls City Boot and Shoe Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of boots and shoes, to expire November 1, 1894, at forty-two cents per day.....	90
With John C. Schulten, manufacturer of boots and shoes, to expire November 1, 1894, at forty-two cents per day...	40

THE PRISON MANAGEMENT.

Under the management of the late Board of Directors the Prison was redeemed from local and political influences, and elevated to the position of a State Institution, and, while under their management, it ceased to be a place for the payment of political obligations. The Warden was sustained in his efforts to weed out the inefficient, and to secure the best service possible, and he was cheerfully aided and sustained in the discharge of his duty, and the Board, upon retiring, can have the proud satisfaction of knowing that in the short duration of their term they took the prison from disgrace, squalor and debt, and freed it from all obligations, and placed it upon a self-sustaining basis, and cleansed from turret to foundation stone, made its sanitation equal to that of any other in the country. For this excellent work they deserve the good will of the tax-payers and of every humanitarian in the nation, and the Warden hopes and believes that your Honors, who constitute the present Board of Directors, judging from your worthy beginning, will carry forward the good work so nobly inaugurated by your predecessors, until the people may safely say that the Indiana State Prison South is efficiently and honestly managed. For personal courtesies shown me while in office, from both the old and new Boards, I return my sincere thanks.

In concluding this report, I wish to thank the contractors, managers and foremen for their uniform kindness to the convicts under their charge, and for their gentlemanly and courteous conduct toward the officers.

To the officers and guards my thanks are especially due for the very efficient manner in which you have sustained and aided me in my duties, and each of you shall share in the commendations of the people.

Very respectfully submitted,

J. B. PATTEN,

Warden.

MORAL INSTRUCTOR'S REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON SOUTH, }
JEFFERSONVILLE, November 1, 1889. }

To the Honorable Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN—At this the close of another year it becomes my duty to present to you my annual report as Moral Instructor of this Prison. And in doing so I take pleasure in commending the advanced steps taken, and the efficient work done, in all the departments of our prison work. The excellent condition of this Prison, known and acknowledged throughout the State, needs not the aid of my pen to commend it to the public, or to your honorable Board. Under the wise, humane and judicious management of this Prison for the past two and a half years, I believe that many advanced steps have been taken in the line of prison reform, many old theories exploded and a system inaugurated which has solved many a problem in prison management. It has been demonstrated, in the character and standing of many of the prisoners here, that character and manhood, fearlessly asserted, will find its recognition in the head and government of the Institution. As the prisoners are enabled to see, in this recognition, substantial rewards for good conduct, they are more and more encouraged in their efforts for self-reformation, upon which we can only rely for lasting results. With this hopeful condition of things, and the many evidences of a healthy advancement in all departments, I have many reasons to be gratified with my past year's work, and feel proud to be a factor in a work of such general satisfaction as is shown by the records of this Institution.

The services of the Sabbath have ceased to be regarded as irksome and an uninteresting duty, but are looked forward to with much expectancy, and attended with interest and respect by almost every prisoner; many evidences being daily seen of good results from their moral and religious teachings. Besides the regular religious service conducted in the chapel every Sunday morning, an interesting Sabbath-school has been kept up during the entire year, taught from the International Sabbath-school Lesson.

During almost the entire year a well organized night-school has been maintained. This school is regularly graded, after the manner of our public schools, and 125 men are taught in the eight common branches. The prisoners are regularly furnished with good reading matter from the Prison Library, supplemented weekly by the distribution of religious papers and magazines. Our new library room, now about completed, with the addition of a recent purchase of books by the Warden of over five hundred volumes, will soon greatly aid in this most effective means of elevation and reformation.

Of all my three years' work in the Prison none has been marked with so many evidences of permanent good as the one just closing. It is due to the prisoners here confined, to say that their respect shown for me, and their gentlemanly courtesies toward me under all circumstances, has never been surpassed by the best surroundings of my life.

In closing this, my last report as Moral Instructor of the Indiana State Prison South, and before retiring from the office, I take pleasure in here recording this expression of my profoundest gratitude to you for the many evidences of your friendship and kindly wishes toward me, and for the trust and confidence you have imposed in me, and will ever cherish with grateful recollections the memories of my pleasant associations with you and all the officers of the Prison. Especially am I desirous of expressing in this report my sincerest gratitude and appreciation of the friendly esteem in which I have been held by Warden J. B. Patten, to whom I owe much for my success and for the pleasure I have enjoyed in my work. I feel warranted in saying that in the hands of a man of his integrity and business tact, the affairs of your Institution are safe.

Thanking you most heartily for your many favors to me and for the important trust which I have held at your pleasure, I hereby tender my resignation as Moral Instructor of this Prison.

Yours most respectfully,

W. P. BARNHILL,

Moral Instructor.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., December 2, 1889.

*To the Honorable Board of Directors,
Indiana State Prison South:*

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to report to you the condition of the medical department of the Prison. When I assumed charge in July, 1889, I found the sanitary condition of the Prison in excellent order, but many of the convicts were affected with diseases of a malarial order. This, however, seemed not to be confined exclusively to the Prison alone, as malarial diseases were prevailing outside the prison walls. I believe the annual reports all show July, August, September and October to be the sickliest months of the year.

The injuries suffered from, have been burns in the foundry department. The time lost, from this cause during the past year has been about one-third of what it was during the preceding year. The number of burns have been very materially lessened by forcing the prisoners to wear boots or boot legs while pouring off iron.

The food furnished, is good and wholesome, while the convicts have been well clad. A large majority of the prisoners try to look neat, and consequently take better care of their clothing than the minority, who never look well and are very destructive, if nothing else. The diet for the sick is good and nourishing. Those who are failing in health and those confined in the hospital are put upon extra diet. When a patient is put upon extra diet he is allowed anything he calls for. The drugs used in this department are standard preparations, the best that can be bought.

I think the sick are as well cared for as they would be at home, and the majority of them a great deal better.

During the months of April, May and June an epidemic of parotitis prevailed among the convicts. In April there were 33 cases and $178\frac{1}{2}$ days lost; May, 54 cases and 442 days lost; June, 11 cases and 40 days lost; making a total of 98 cases and $660\frac{1}{2}$ days lost. On October 21 a convict was received from Orange County who had been exposed to measles while confined in jail. He was placed in the hospital October 22 to isolate the case as much as possible. Had there been many patients in the hospital at the time serious consequences might have resulted. There were only two cases under treatment at the time and both of these had previously had measles. The case resulted favorably, and on the recovery of the patient his bed was destroyed and bed clothes and hospital thoroughly disinfected. Whether we shall have other cases of measles time only can tell. This shows very grave carelessness on the part of the Orange County Board of Health, in allowing a convict who had been sentenced to a term of years in the State Prison, to be removed from the jail until all danger of infection had past. Should an epidemic of measles yet prevail in the Prison, it would result, not only in great loss of labor, but would be dangerous to life at this season of the year. I do not think convicts should be received at the Prison who have been exposed to infectious or contagious diseases until after the period of incubation has passed. I also find that convicts are brought to the prison suffering from syphilis, their bodies covered with ulcers. Such persons are unfit for manual labor. I think this also shows carelessness on the part of the physicians whose duty it is to look after criminals confined in the county jails. They should be cared for in a humane manner while in the jails in their respective counties. Two convicts were received from Sullivan County, suffering from typho-malarial fever, which was contracted while the convicts were lying in jail. It has become very common for convicts to be brought to the prison suffering from loathsome diseases and infested with vermin, and under such circumstances the mortality of the Prison will be increased.

You will find by examining Statement No. 1, that there were 56 different diseases and injuries treated during the year, numbering in all 773 cases and $4,393\frac{1}{2}$ days lost. There were 74 cases of burns and 626 days lost, an average of 8.46 days to the case. With one or two exceptions the burns all occurred in the foundry. There were also 12 cases of tuberculosis, and 715 days lost. Six of these patients have died during the year, four have been pardoned, one discharged by expiration of sentence, and one in the hospital at the present time. By further examination you will find the number of diseases, number of cases of each, days lost by each, and the average duration of each. Statement No. 2 shows the deaths, causes of death and date of each death. Statement No. 3 shows the time lost each month in the different employments. The days lost in the foundry on account of sickness or injury was 2,325, being more than half the entire time lost; in the shoe shop, 1,067½ days; saddle-tree shop, 476½ days, and on the State, 544½ days. Statement No. 4 shows the total cost of hospital to be \$715.19. The average number of convicts confined in the Prison during the year was 549, and the average cost of treatment per convict was \$1.30.

Gentlemen, please accept my thanks for the many favors you have shown me. To the Warden, Capt. J. B. Patten, I feel very grateful for the many favors shown me, and for his sympathy and cordial assistance in the discharge of my duty as Prison Physician. I also return thanks to the Deputy Warden, Capt. Abel Ewing, and the guards of the Prison, for the many favors they have shown me, and for their assistance in the discharge of my duties.

Very respectfully,

G. U. RUNCIE,
Prison Physician.

For a detailed statement as to receipts and expenditures, and as to the condition and employment of the prisoners, we respectfully refer you to the Warden's and Clerk's reports.

ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.

At the time our worthy predecessors surrendered their important trust to us they called our attention to the ill and insufficient lighting of the Prison. They had long contemplated an improvement in this direction. But other necessities demanded their attention.

Finding the opportunity, we investigated the propriety of giving to the Prison a perfect lighting by means of electricity. Meanwhile both the State Board of Charities and the State Board of Health recommended such a step.

Accordingly on the 12th day of September last, we contracted with the Jenney Electric Company of Ft. Wayne for a $9,400 incandescent electric light plant that will be finished by the 25th inst., and will be paid for out of the surplus earnings of the Prison.

When completed, each cell will have a 10 candle power lamp, and the entire Prison plant, including all buildings, the yard, the Prison, entrance, the State dwellings, and the barn will be lighted from this plant in a manner far superior to gas and at a saving to the State over the present cost of gas.

Heretofore the prisoners have been confined to tallow candles for light, and it goes without saying that such a light is little better than none. Since the establishment of the Prison school and library, the prisoners have manifested a great desire to read during their idle evening hours. This they can do when the new plant is completed with perfect satisfaction, and, as we believe, with much moral and intellectual benefit to themselves.

OIL FOR FUEL.

A large amount of coal has always been required to supply the Prison. This has not only entailed great expense but much labor, and from the dirt, soot and smoke created within the walls, it has been a source of much annoyance.

To avoid this, and if possible reduce to the State the cost of fuel, we investigated the feasibility of putting in a plant for the burning of crude oil instead of coal.

The result was an order from the Board directing the Warden to have such a plant constructed under a guarantee from the oil company, 1st, that the oil would be consumed in a manner free from odor; 2nd, so as to meet all requirements of the Prison for fuel, and 3d, at a saving to the State.

An oil tank with a capacity of 42,800 gallons was constructed just outside of the south wall of the prison. This is connected with the boilers by a pipe line and the oil is fed to the fires with a steam jet.

We are pleased to report that the plant meets every requirement. It is odorless, clean, second only to natural gas as a fuel, and will work a saving to the State of at least 25 per cent. on the former cost of fuel.

The plant will be paid for out of the surplus earnings of the Prison.

PRISON HOSPITAL.

The Prison hospital is being remodeled, enlarged and improved and when completed will be a model of its kind. The prison earnings will meet this expense.

NEEDED IMPROVEMENTS.

PRISON DINING-ROOM.

The time has come when the prisoners' dining room must be enlarged. At the present time it is over-crowded. This enlargement can be made by changing the location of the kitchen at the west end of the dining-hall and adding the kitchen space to the present dining-room. The expense to the State will be small and the improvement lasting and permanent.

A SECOND SCHOOL.

Too much praise can not be accorded our predecessors for the establishment of the present prison school. It was a master stroke in the direction of true prison reform. The present school-room has a seating capacity of fifty, and with all the attachments of a modern public school-room, is situated at the south end of the south cell-house, with a door opening between the school-room and the cell-house. This school but half meets the urgent needs of the prison in this direction. We suggest that a duplicate of this school-room be erected at the north end of the north cell-house, connecting with it in the same manner. Such an outlay would be money well expended.

PRISON YARD.

There must necessarily be much hauling with horses and wagon in the Prison yard. This causes mud in wet weather. So soon as it can be done there should be a macadamized or Nicholson driveway put down inside the prison walls. Such an improvement would prevent all mud, and could be made at light expense.

PRISON APPROACH.

The street leading to the Prison has never been improved. It is a loose bed of sand. The Michigan City authorities have on several occasions suggested to this Board the propriety of the city and State "joining hands" to make this much needed improvement. It ought to be done.

IN GENERAL.

There are other minor improvements about the Prison that may be made when time and means will permit, but which need not be mentioned here. It may not be improper to say, in conclusion on this point, that out of the Prison earnings, in addition to the support of the Prison, a system of expensive internal improvements have been made that have splendidly equipped the Prison at little or no expense to the State.

Now that these costly and more important improvements have been made and the expense met, it is meet and proper that the minor matters above referred to be looked after as early as possible. These little things bring out that detail of perfection which will enable Indiana to point with pride to the equipments of the Prison North.

PRISON SEWER.

In pursuance of an act by the last General Assembly, appropriating $10,000 for the construction of a sewer from the Prison to Lake Michigan, we contracted in August last for the building of this sewer, the contract price being less than the appropriation. The work is progressing slowly, but will be completed by spring. It necessitated the tunneling of "Hoosier Stide" a distance of 640 feet. This has been accomplished. When completed, the Prison will have an independent system of sewerage 16 inches in diameter, discharging into the lake, and having a fall of 18 feet in a distance of 5,000 feet.

PRISON REFORM.

The primary purpose of all imprisonment for crime should be a reformation of the convict. The old idea that the convict should be imprisoned in chains, fed on bread and water, and tortured by methods little less cruel than those known to the days of the inquisition, has been exploded, and the people have conceived a higher and more humane idea of the purposes of State Prisons.

Although the present policy of this Prison is humane in the treatment of its inmates, there remains much to be done in the direction of prison reform.

THE PAROLE SYSTEM.

As a condition precedent to improve prison work, the State stands in need of some wholesome legislation.

Ohio is a pioneer in the parole system of prison management. Indiana may not only improve much by the enactment of such a law, but may extend its scope with justice to the State and benefit to the convict. We would recommend the enactment of a parole law, modeled after that now in vogue in Ohio, but with its provisions so extended as to include life prisoners.

The last General Assembly sought to enact a law making twenty-five years a life sentence. We do not believe such would be a wise law. Sentence criminals for a determinate or for an indeterminate period, in the wise discretion of the courts. Create a Board of Prison Management or Parole. Let this Board visit the Prisons at regular intervals, vested with authority to parole every convict fitted in their judgment to return to society, and to retain those unfit to be at liberty.

Let it be the duty of said Board, before any prisoner is paroled, to see that such prisoner is provided with employment at the hour of his parole. Let it be the duty of such prisoner to go direct to that employment, make immediate report to the Board and regular reports thereafter, at such times as the Board may direct, of such information concerning said paroled prisoner as such Board may desire. Let such prisoner not go beyond the bounds of the State, and let the length of his parole be co-extensive with his good conduct as a citizen of the State, and his arrest without further process of law and his re-incarceration in the prison follow his first violation of the terms of his parole contract.

LIFE MEN.

Why may not such a system be extended to life convicts? It is the experience of all prison officials that, as a class, the life men are the easiest governed and the most tractable of any class of men in the prison. There ARE life convicts in prison, sent there for wilful murder, committed with premeditation and either malice aforethought, or for the sake of mercenary gain. Such a prisoner can have little claim to either parole or pardon.

On the other hand, there are life men who are not criminals at heart.

In a moment of great provocation or, worse, in a condition of drunkenness, they struck down a fellow-man and were sent to prison for life. Up to the hour of this crime the world called them good citizens. They cared for their families and obeyed the law. With many there is little doubt that long before they reached the prison cell they were under a weight of remorse for their crimes, and at the hour of their commitment they were as penitent as they could be after wearing the stripes a life time. Such a convict could and would go back to society and to the care of his family, under a parole, and become a useful and law-abiding citizen. If this be true, what harm would come to society if the right of parole were extended to such a life convict?

Can this much be said in favor of all men who commit crimes not capital in their nature?

By no means. The prisons are full of offenders—thieves, burglars, highwaymen—men who only serve one term to find their way back at great public expense to serve another, and then another. As an example, one man has served eight terms in this Prison. Another is serving at present on his seventh term. Such men are criminals by instinct; dangerous to society and unfit to be at large. Justice to the State and kindness to such chronic criminals demands that they be put within prison walls and kept there.

Under a parole law pardons should be rarely granted, but paroles frequently. At the recent Prison Congress at Nashville, Tenn., the Hon. Isaac N. Sneed, member of the Board of Managers of the Ohio Penitentiary, read a paper on "Parole Law," as administered in that State. He quoted from a large number of letters written by paroled convicts as reports on their conduct under parole, and he closed his admirable address by saying: "Can any one read these letters and fail to be thankful that such a law exists?"

Since July 14, 1885, Ohio has paroled 540 prisoners, and but 40 have been returned because of violation of their pledges. Enact such a law for Indiana. Extend its provisions to all classes of convicts. Parole such as are fitted to be released, and retain indefinitely such as are unfitted to be at liberty.

Operating under such a law, there is work to be done within the prison that will do much for the cause of reform. Dispense with the "Cat" and the "Shackle" (they no longer exist in this prison); grade the prisoners, separating the young and less experienced criminals from the habituated and the hardened; give to the inmates sound mental instruction, teaching them to read, write and compute in numbers, and let their moral instruction be such as to appeal to their sense of true manhood. With laws and with some such system as we have outlined, and with the ultimate purpose of sending these men back to society, fitted to become its useful members, the wrongs done the State will be sufficiently redressed and at the same time its criminals will be benefited by the punishments administered.

We ask you to carefully consider these suggestions, and to make such recommendations in this behalf to the next Legislature as in your wisdom you may see fit.

We take pleasure in testifying to the eminent fitness of Warden James Murdock, for the important office he has so long and so worthily filled. To his superior management is largely due the credit for the present satisfactory condition of this Prison.

Deputy Thomas E. Donnelly and his corps of assistants are entitled to much credit for the high order of discipline that is maintained within the Prison and for their humane treatment of its inmates.

Dr. R. H. Calvert maintains an excellent sanitary condition of the Prison, and this is a gratifying tribute to his merit as a physician.

To Rev. J. J. Faude our thanks are due for his desirable work as Moral Instructor. He has also rendered valuable service to the school and library.

Charles Murdock has performed the responsible duties as Clerk to our perfect satisfaction, for which he has our sincere thanks and highest measure of approval.

The average cost of clothing each prisoner per year is seven dollars and sixty-eight cents ($7.68). Since my last report we have given each prisoner two suits of underwear and have on hand two hundred and fifty new blankets, which, owing to the mildness of last winter, were never used.

The average cost of fuel per man per year is three dollars and seventy-nine cents ($3.79).

Deducting from maintenance account the sales account, $6,147.50, would make the average cost of each prisoner per day, including officers' and guards' salaries, provisions, clothing, repairs, fuel expense, lights, drugs, gateage and all other accounts, thirty-five and four elevenths cents ($35 4-11c).

We have raised this year on the farm connected with the Prison 650 bushel potatoes, 300 bushel onions, 2,300 pounds lettuce, 20,000 heads of cabbage, 17 barrels cucumber pickles, 1,800 dozen celery, 700 bushel turnips, besides large quantities of other small vegetables.

Since my last report a contract has been let for a twenty-inch (20) tile sewer from Prison to Lake Michigan, a distance of 5,200 feet, and is now in course of completion. When finished we will have a complete sewerage system entirely under our own control.

The Electric Light Plant will be in operation by December 25, 1889, when we will be able to furnish each cell with a ten (10) candle-power light. The school-house, Guards' department, Prison grounds and State dwellings will also be thoroughly lighted, having about 1,100 lights in use.

One of the most encouraging signs of the times and from which we may expect to see come great good is the marked change in public sentiment in reference to the treatment of the inmates of our prisons, and we must say that the knowledge of it has been a great help to us in our efforts for the betterment of those under our charge.

One of the great hinderances to all works of reform in the Prisons of our State, of which we have made mention in former reports, is the indiscriminate congregation of convicts.

Under the present system all classes of prisoners, regardless of former character or degree of crime for which they were sentenced, are thrown together, and the young and inexperienced, who is guilty of the first offense, comes in contact day after day with the old and hardened offender, who is ever anxious to drag him down to the same level as himself. Thus he becomes familiar with crime, and too often after a short sentence leaves the Prison a more dangerous man than when he entered.

The only remedy for this evil under our present system is a wisely discriminating classification of the men, setting of the young or more hopeful ones, convicted for the first time, by themselves, so that the reformatory influences brought to bear will not be neutralized by contact with professional criminals.

In our former reports—and we again repeat it—we very earnestly recommended the appointment by the State of an agent whose duties it should be to assume a guardianship over discharged convicts, and see to it that they secure some employment after leaving the institutions.

Hundreds of inmates of our Prisons, through the efforts of those having them in charge, have left them with new hopes and an earnest desire to turn over a new leaf, but have met with no encouragement or help from the outside world, and have from necessity been forced back among old associates, and the result has been the committing of crime and return to prison again. This state of affairs is wrong, and can be remedied, in a great measure, by the appointment of some earnest man who, by procuring them employment, could tide them over this critical period.

We would again call your attention to a class of men who, notwithstanding the increased interest manifested by the people of this State in the improvement of the moral condition of the inmates of the penitentiaries, have been almost entirely neglected. We refer to the life convict, and that, too, in the face of the fact that of all those confined in our Prisons they are the most hopeful for reform, and the most susceptible to right influences. We would suggest that something be done to call the attention of our Legislators to this class, that they might enact some legislation that would shorten their sentence, whenever the proper authorities become convinced that they were worthy of a return to citizenship.

The school established something over a year ago, we are pleased to say, has more than fulfilled our expectations, and is not only highly appreciated by the prisoners but is the means of accomplishing much good.

For a detailed statement of the financial, sanitary, statistical, educational and moral condition of the Prison, I refer you to the reports of the different officials of the Institution.

For the efficient manner in which their several duties have been performed, my thanks are tendered to my assistants.

And to you, gentlemen of the Board, accept my sincere thanks for the considerate treatment and encouraging support received at your hands.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES MURDOCK,
Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

INDIANA STATE PRISON NORTH,
MICHIGAN CITY, October 31, 1889. }

To the Honorable Board of Directors :

GENTLEMEN:—I submit for your inspection the following report of the medical department for the year ending October 31, 1889 :

There have been seven deaths during the year, four of which were from diseases contracted prior to coming to this prison, as follows :

James Nidy, November 23, 1888, an imbecile and in a critical condition when admitted, died four days after admission.

Malachi Reed, August 3, 1889, in last stage of syphilitic consumption on admission.

Ruff Hamilton, February 19, 1889, consumption.

Ben. Adams, June 10, 1889, consumption.

Ed. Swartz, July 7, 1889, brain fever.

Wm. Williams, March 12, 1889, heart disease.

Wm. Adams, December 24, 1889, dropsy.

The health of the convicts has been good. The sanitary condition of the prison is excellent. The convicts are furnished plenty of good, plain, well cooked food, with vegetables, fruits, etc., in their season. The clothing, bedding, etc., is carefully looked after, as to cleanliness and comfort, each man being compelled to bathe and change clothing once every week. There are remaining in the hospital five aged, consumptive and broken down convicts who can not live but a short time.

I am under many obligations to the Warden and officers, who have ever been willing and ready to assist me in the discharge of my duties, improving and looking after the sanitary condition of the prison, for which they have my sincere thanks, and to you, gentlemen of the Board, I am very grateful for courtesies extended.

Yours truly,

R. H. CALVERT,
Prison Physician.

REPORT OF THE MORAL INSTRUCTOR.

To the Board of Directors of the Indiana State Prison North:

GENTLEMEN:—During the past year I have held the usual Sunday services, and appropriate religious exercises on Christmas day and the centennial anniversary of the inauguration of Washington. Attendance upon these services being compulsory we have no opportunity of determining the real interest of the prisoners therein, but their respectful attention throughout may be looked upon as a favorable indication. The music, rendered by a choir composed of convicts, under the direction of Mr. G. B. Hartwell, with Miss Mary B. Miller as organist, is all that could be expected, and a great improvement over former times.

The condition of the chapel is still such as to call for a considerable outlay of money in order that it may be in keeping with other parts of the institution. With the enlargement of the chapel, the suitable decoration of its walls, the addition of a proper pulpit, organ and seats for the prisoners, this would be accomplished. The sympathy of the Warden in the direction of these improvements leads to the hope that the members of the Board may soon see their way clear to undertaking them.

The library, as in former years, so also in this, has been of great benefit and comfort to the men, but the books, purchased several years ago, are showing the wear given them, and suggest the need of more volumes to replace those literally worn out. A greater variety might also be added with profit. The number of books in good condition is about 1,600.

The school, maintained at night for the benefit of convicts who can not read and write, has, I believe, been of great value. Its effects in the line of moral reform must be allowed to rest upon theoretical grounds, since we have no method of ascertaining the condition, after release, of those who have been, members of the school. But we can be certain that the opportunity thus given to these prisoners is a humane act, and that is a sufficient justification for any outlay of money in this direction. I recommend an extension of the studies taught, beyond the rudiments now offered.

It has been a pleasure to observe the gradual lightening of the rigors of prison discipline, which is being carried out, and to note such diversions as the giving of an entertainment on the afternoon of Christmas day, and the like. The lot of these men is grievous enough, no matter how much they may deserve punishment; it is right, therefore, to give them any pleasures they may show appreciation of.

May I be allowed to speak again of the necessity of separating the prisoners into classes according to age, crime committed, and degree of criminality. Our boys—all those not twenty-one years of age—should have different attention in every way from those who by years of crime and its associations, have become steeped in vice. Then, also, it should be recognized that the trained burglar is a different man from him who, under strong provocation, has committed an assault, a first offence. And again, the lecherous criminals, the sodomists, the rapists, the adulterers, the incestuous persons, should have no possibility of contact with any other class whatsoever. Like lepers, they should be rigidly shut off from companionship with their fellowmen.

Yet under the system of Indiana all seem to be regarded alike and treated alike. The arousing of public sentiment to the realization of the fact that the State's obligation does not end with the detention of the convict, but that she must make the effort to reform him as well, is a work which may be accomplished through the public press, and it is to be hoped that in our next Legislature some reformatory efforts will be placed upon our statute book, whose keynote shall be the separation, for the sake of different treatment, of the various classes of convicts.

Thanking you, and through you, the Warden, for hearty cooperation in the work of my department, I have the honor to remain

Respectfully yours,

J. J. FAUDE,
Moral Instructor.
